ROBS CROWDED LOOP THEATER

CLAIM ILLINOIS LANDSLIDE FOR G. O. P. TICKET

Campaigners Are Cheered by Tour.

BY LEVERING CARTWRIGHT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Mount Vernon, Ill., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—With a week of organization still ahead of them—a period of rest after the last three weeks of the grilling down-state speaking campaign—the Republican state candidates today regarded with satisfaction the results of their campaign and predicted a smashing victory on Nov. 6.

Headed by Otis F. Glenn, the nominee for United States senator, and Louis L. Emmerson, the candidate for governor, the Republican campaigners have invaded 80 Illinois counties, conducting in each county at least one meeting which has been addressed by one or more of the candidates.

Intensive Organization.

Prior to the opening of the speaking tour, members of the state ticket engaged in an intensive organization program during which meetings of county chairmen, precinct captains, and Republican workers were held in every congressional district.

After this week's respite the outside of Cook county campaign will be concluded with meetings in the 21 northern counties remaining on the schedule. Then the Republican troupe will move into Chicago and Cook county for the windup.

Never before, according to candidates and the directors of the campaign has the Republican party been so completely organized in Illinois. So [illegible] are the county organizations promoting the candidacy of the national and state tickets that State Senator Harry G. Wright, director of the downstate speaking campaign, is confident Hoover and Curtis will be victorious in at least 85 counties, possibly in every county, and that the state ticket also will win.

Work in Rock Island County.

Illustrative of the intensive character of the county campaigns is the work in Rock Island county, where precinct committees of ten men and ten women are in the field. This is the home county of Floyd E. Thompson, the Democratic candidate for governor, which, he estimates, will be his by a majority of 10,000. Senator Wright is confident that Hoover and Curtis will win an overwhelming victory there and that Emmerson will lose the county by not more than 1,000, if at all.

Resistance to the Republican candidates in the downstate territory has been found largely, according to admission of Republican leaders, among certain farm communities and among labor and miner groups. Disaffection for the Republican state ticket by the farmers principally those influenced by farm organizations, is a consequence of their resentment towards Hoover. This sentiment is being gradually overcome, the candidates believe, by the program wherein Hoover has been presented as the man with the outlook of the producer best qualified to conceive an effective farm relief system.

All of the speakers have treated this subject but Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom, candidate for reëlection, and Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, candidate for congressman-at-large, have been most actively engaged in breaking down farm opposition to Hoover.

Labor Fight on Emmerson.

Effect of the labor campaign against Emmerson, which was started by Len Small agitators before the primary, still exists to some extent. To offset this Mr. Emmerson repeatedly has defended his labor record and he states that within the next week he expects the indorsement of prominent labor leaders who may take the stump for him.

Reaction has set in to Judge Thompson's continued attacks on the Republican candidates, the Republican organizers believe. Reports are coming to them, they say, of Republicans who were won to Judge Thompson early in the campaign, and of Democrats who started to work for him, who now have deserted him. Mr. Emmerson's policy, adopted after his opening speech in Mount Vernon, of maintaining silence in connection with the charges of his opponent, has appealed to "that sober second thought," his advisers think.

As the campaign goes into its final days, there is the conviction among the Republican candidates that they will benefit by a cumulative swing of sentiment which will carry them into office by majorities estimated all the way from 500,000 to 1,000,000.

8 KILLED IN 3 AIR ACCIDENTS, SUNDAY'S TOLL

5 Die When 2 Planes Collide in Flight.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Five persons were killed late today as the result of a collision over a local flying field between two airplanes, the pilot of one of which fought a masterly but losing duel with death. The dead are:

Capt. Clement W. Brown, 32, president of the Brown Aero Coupe Manufacturing company of Detroit.

Miss Marjorie Yuill, 27, of Vanderbilt, Mich., a Detroit public school teacher and fiancée of Brown.

Russell Paulger, 18.

Allen Sutton, 26, of Detroit.

An unidentified man.

Capt. Brown and his fiancée were circling a local field in a small biplane manufactured by the former's company when the accident occurred. Paulger, piloting a large cabin monoplane, in which the other two victims were passengers, attempted to land by diving under the Brown plane and the two ships collided.

Makes Game Fight.

The monoplane, with both wings ripped off and her upper parts gone, fell to the ground and burst into flames.

The underpinning of the biplane was sheared off and one wing crumpled, but the pilot was able to keep the craft aloft for several minutes. He spiraled about a bit, apparently attempting to straighten by wind pressure the damaged wing, which hung below the level of the wheelbase. The maneuver was partly successful, according to witnesses, and the ship attained an even keel. Then, as it dropped slowly earthward for the attempt at landing, the wing folded up and the plane nosed down.

Wing Finally Collapses.

The pilot quickly banked the ship and the wing straightened out. As it was being jockeyed earthward a second time the even keel was maintained until the crippled ship was within 100 feet of the ground. Suddenly the wing collapsed, and this time the craft could not be righted. It plowed nose first into the turf, and the occupants were dead when witnesses arrived at the scene.

Capt. Brown was an officer in the division of aeronautics of the Michigan National Guard.

Two Sisters Die in Crash.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 7.—[U. P.]—Two sisters, daughters of George F. Begole, city auditor, were killed, and a pilot seriously injured in an airplane crash two miles east of Derby, Colo., today. The sisters were Mary Belle Begole, 22, a clerk of the County court, and Carol, 19, freshman at the University of Colorado.

The pilot, Charles F. Wilson of Seattle, Wash., a student at the Denver School of Aeronautics, is in the hospital with both legs and arms broken and possible internal injuries.

The crash occurred in a plowed field after Wilson had picked the girls up at Dupont air field. Wilson mumbled to police following the accident that one of the girls had "frozen to the controls."

Plane Nose Dives; One Killed.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 7.—(AP)—One man was killed and one injured when the airplane in which they were flying went into a nose dive 100 feet from the earth and crashed into a cornfield at the Cincinnati Flying club field at Newton, near here, today.

Lovell E. Connely, 30, Cincinnati, the pilot, was killed. Theodore R. Hunter, 28, Milford, president of the club and a student passenger, suffered a fractured skull and physicians held little hope for his recovery.

ATTY. KAY WOOD, COMMISSION MAN, KILLED IN CRASH

Kay Wood, Chicago attorney and member of the commission firm of Wood Bros., was killed early this morning when his automobile crashed into the concrete abutment of a railroad viaduct at 47th and Morgan streets. Mr. Wood's body was found lying in the street by Policeman Martin O'Sullivan of the Stockyards station. Wood apparently had been thrown to the pavement by the force of the impact. No witness to the accident was found.

Mr. Wood, a native of Chicago, was 57 years old. He was educated at Harvard university, the University of Berlin, and Northwestern University Law school. After several years of law practice he entered the firm of Wood Brothers at the Union Stockyards in 1906. He was a member of the Chicago Bar association and the Chicago, University, Harvard, and Hinsdale golf clubs. He is survived by his widow and two children. The family home is at Hinsdale.

Roman Princes Cross Rapiers, Defend Honor

BY WILLIAM SHIRER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Oct. 7.—Two princes, both prominent in the Italian political and social world, fought a duel until blood was drawn today in the garden of an old Roman villa outside Rome.

In a bitter contest with rapiers, Prince Spada Potenziani, recently retired governor of Rome who visited the United States last fall, wounded Prince Lancellotti before the referee called a halt to the fight and declared the victor's honor vindicated.

The duel, which has all Roman society agog, was not the first contest which came as a result of Prince Lancellotti's alleged recent remark at a club that Prince Potenziani was replaced by Premier Mussolini because graft was discovered in his administration.

Count Resents Charge.

The first duel took place Friday shortly after Count di Sambuy had taken offense at Prince Lancellotti's alleged malicious remarks about the crookedness in Prince Potenziani's administration.

Count di Sambuy is a great admirer of Prince Potenziani, and when he heard his friend being accused, cards were passed in the club the same evening. The next morning outside Rome Count di Sambuy and Prince Lancellotti met. Count di Sambuy was wounded three times.

Because of the seriousness of the offense, which is punishable by imprisonment in Italy, a great effort was made to hush up the incident. The count informed his family and friends he was suffering from lumbago.

Prince Held Vindicated.

Yesterday Prince Potenziani learned of the condition of his voluntary defender and, after visiting Count di Sambuy, immediately challenged Prince Lancellotti to a duel.

Excited members of the Roman nobility tend to sympathize with Prince Potenziani, whose honor they believe was vindicated by the victory. But they are wondering what the legal outcome will be, if any.

A month ago the prince-governor was replaced by Il Duce, but there was no whisper of graft charges, it being explained that the rapid movement of officials was in harmony with the dictator's policy of giving his officers the widest experience possible.

All Roumania Welcomes Eloping Prince's Return

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Prince Regent Nicholas, returning from a romantic interlude in Paris, arrived here last night and was greeted at the station by Dowager Queen Marie. The queen was accompanied by almost the entire government, including a military and civilian court suite.

DIRIGIBLE LOS ANGELES SPEEDING WEST; DUE AT SAN ANTONIO TODAY

Houston, Tex., Oct. 8.—(AP)—The navy dirigible Los Angeles, flying high above a ground fog, passed over Houston at 3:42 this morning en route to San Antonio for the American Legion convention. The dirigible was expected to reach its destination at dawn.

Menace to Mail Flyers.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 7.—(AP)—The cloud colored bulk of the navy dirigible Los Angeles, unless lighted at night, was revealed last night as a possible danger to pilots of the night air mail.

In reporting one of his experiences Ambrose M. Banks, mail pilot, said that he missed the Los Angeles by a narrow margin on a recent night trip from Hadley field, N. J., to Philadelphia. He was traveling at a speed of 140 miles an hour as he swung over the Delaware river near Trenton and switched on his landing lights to see if they were functioning properly. Dead ahead looked a whitish bulk like a cloud and cutting across his path at 60 miles an hour.

The mail pilot shot upward and over the Los Angeles. He estimated he would have struck the dirigible near the center had he not seen it in time.

Girl Takes Lindy Out Riding in an Airplane

Port Washington, L. I., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh flew as a passenger today and a 16 year old girl piloted the ship. The girl was Miss Eleanor Hoyt, the daughter of Richard F. Hoyt, sportsman and banker.

Coast Guards Fire on Private Boat; One Shot

Long Beach, Cal., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—Capture of the private speed boat Giovanni-Dafiesole off this harbor and the wounding of one of its crew by a machine gun bullet from the coast guard cutter Imp aroused a storm of protest today when it was learned that no liquor was found on the suspected craft. Subsequent to seizure, the $45,000 craft was driven on the rocks of the Long Beach breakwater by two of the Imp's guardsmen, it also was disclosed.

Leslie Adams, 27, of this city, who was shot through the lung during the ten mile chase in the darkness, is at the Seaside hospital. Physicians said that unless pneumonia sets in he will recover.

Refuse to Book Two.

Long Beach police refused to book two other members of the speed boat's crew when coast guardsmen took them to the central station. The men now are being held at coast guard headquarters in San Pedro, pending a report from Chief Boatswain's Mate E. J. Ellis of the Imp. No charge has been preferred against them. They are A. W. Anderson and Edgar Holt, both of San Pedro.

The Imp, in command of Ellis, was cruising south from San Pedro for San Diego, when it sighted the speed boat running without lights.

Sped Away from Cutter.

The Giovanni-Dafiesole was challenged, and, according to the Imp's crew, sped away from the cutter. The latter gave chase, but the speed boat, powered with two 450 horsepower motors, was too fast, and Ellis is said to have ordered the machine gun into action.

As the Imp plowed through the waters off Seal Beach and Long Beach, the machine gun swept the decks of the suspected craft. Shortly after Adams fell with a bullet through his lung the Giovanni-Dafiesole surrendered. The speed boat is owned by Barney Colson of Los Angeles.

ROBBERS KIDNAP STORE MANAGER TO GET IN SAFE

David Greenfield, 16 East 65th street, manager of a Walgreen drug store at 6701 Normal boulevard, was kidnaped by two robbers early this morning at 67th street and Lafayette avenue. The bandits took him to the store in an automobile, where they forced him to open the safe. They fled with $326.

Two young men walked into the Ritz hotel, 4711 Kenwood avenue, early this morning, whipped out pistols and held up the night clerk, Clarence Reichardt, 30 years old. After taking $105 from the cash drawer the robbers tied him to a bed in a second floor room with a cord and the bed spread and walked out. Reichardt's shouts awakened guests of the hotel, who released him.

Dude Gunman Gets $6,400 in Raid on Office

An immaculately dressed outlaw, with a pistol in one of his gray gloved hands, pushed quietly into the basement office of the Chicago theater, largest in the loop, shortly before 10 o'clock last night. When a girl cashier and five male employés of the show house obeyed his crisp command to "stick 'em up" he stuffed $6,400 in his pockets and walked out.

The money had been taken into the office from the box window on State street only a few minutes earlier. A policeman who had accompanied the cashier, Miss Helen Bowers, 526 West 56th street, to the office had just gone back up the stairs. Presumably the robber was acquainted with the regular procedure and was watching the office door from a nearby restroom entrance.

Cashier Is Counting Money.

Miss Bowers was counting her receipts in a small alcove off the main office. With her was the theater treasurer, B. Cobb. In front of them, in the larger office, were E. Levin, the manager; M. F. Concannon, his assistant; H. Bishop, a clerk, and John Brown, custodian.

Levin opened the door leading to the stairs. He intended to go to the main floor. The robber met him. His pistol was leveled and Levin retreated before him.

"I won't stand for any foolishness," said the man in the gray gloves. "Stick 'em up and do what I say and you're all right. Get fresh and you die."

Girl Tries to Save Money.

The four men were thrust back into the alcove with the treasurer and the cashier. Miss Bowers had counted out about $3,000 and passed it over to Cobb. In her hands she had $3,400 more. She tried to save this by thrusting it under her as she sank back in her chair.

Holding his automatic weapon ready, the bandit stepped over and picked up the $3,000.

"That's not all," he declared. "Where's the rest?"

Nobody answered. The outlaw's keen brown eyes swept over them. Then he caught a glimpse of a bill that wasn't quite covered by Miss Bowers' dress.

Ordered to Stand Up.

"Sorry," he said, "stand up and add that to the pile."

Next he compelled Cobb to place the entire amount in two canvas bags, which he took. Cobb's pistol was lying on a desk and the robber took that too. Then he backed toward the door.

"Don't try to follow me," he warned. "There are three or four of my men outside and they'll kill you."

Less than five minutes after he had entered the man was gone. No one was found who had seen him as he escaped. No one among the 5,000 patrons viewing the show had been aware that there was a robbery.

The holdup man was described as of medium height and dark complexion. His hair was black and his eyes brown. He wore a gray soft hat, a blue serge suit, a powder blue shirt and a necktie that harmonized.

Manager Levin expressed the opinion that the bandit or a confederate of his had full knowledge of the theater's affairs, event to the amount of money that could be expected.

Another Theater Is Robbed.

The robbery of another movie theater, the Bel-Park, at 3231 North Cicero avenue, was reported early this morning. Two bandits entered the projection room via the fire escape when the show was nearly over. They allowed the operator, Edward Mooney, 708 North State street, to run off the last reel and then compelled him to call the manager, Louis Weil, 1626 Lunt avenue, his wife, Ruth, and two ushers. All were herded into the projection room and guarded by one of the robbers while the other took $2,339 from the safe in the box office. Then the bandits locked their four prisoners into the projection room and fled.

FEAR 17 FELONS KILLED IN PRISON FIRE; 20 MISSING

Junction City, O., Oct. 8.—(AP)—Twenty convicts employed in the state owned brick plant here were missing after a fire that swept the dormitory in which 275 prisoners were sleeping about 1 o'clock this morning. Officials believed the death toll would reach seventeen.

At least two of the missing prisoners were burned to death, said Herman Blosser, assistant superintendent of the institution. He gave the names of Whitting, superintendent of the commissary, and a prisoner named Hill, who refused to leave his bunk.

Eight prisoners were seriously burned in the attempt to escape from the blazing structure, while nine others also received burns. One of them, Richter, is expected to die.

Panic seized the convicts as they were awakened to find the building in flames. Two of the three exits were opened by the guards and the other door was battered down by prisoners in their rush to escape. Blosser said the fire was caused by defective wiring.

HOOVER SPEECH STIRS CHICAGO NEGRO VOTERS

Smith Leader Calls It Blow at Race.

Tomorrow, Tuesday, Oct. 9, is the last day of registration before the November election.

All voters who are not now registered must register tomorrow. All previous registration books have been destroyed.

The regular precinct polling places will be open for registration tomorrow from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.

DON'T FORGET TO REGISTER!

BY PARKE BROWN.

Chicago's black belt was stirred to such an extent by Herbert Hoover's speech at Elizabethton, Tenn., Saturday that it was made the basis for charges yesterday that it was an anti-Negro speech.

Colored leaders said that because of Arthur Sears Henning's Louisville dispatch in THE TRIBUNE last week saying that Mr. Hoover had agreed to plans to make the Republican party of the south a "lily white" organization, Chicago Negroes listened intently to the speech over the radio and read it closely in the newspapers, finding in each instance what they considered corroboration for Mr. Henning's statement.

Dickerson Issues Statement.

A number of conferences followed. Among the participants were several well known Republicans including David Manson of the Appomattox club; W. Ellis Stewart, secretary of the Liberty Life Insurance company, and George Cutler, a Fourth ward leader. The upshot of the discussion was the issuance of a statement by Earl B. Dickerson, regional director of the Smith for President Colored league, which is enlisting the support of colored Republicans.

"Many Chicago colored people who have been and now are identified with the Republican party," read the Dickerson protest, "resent very strongly the position taken by Mr. Hoover in his appeal for the votes of southern white people.

Expresses Their View.

"It is their view that the standard bearer of the party which has been the continuous recipient of 99.99 per cent of the votes of colored people in the United States since the date of enfranchisement discloses his attitude toward our race when from the platform of a southern city, addressing 50,000 people, most of whom are white representatives of southern Baptist and Methodist Anti-Saloon fanatics, religious bigots and wearers of the fiery cross of an anti-Catholic, anti-Negro and anti-Jew organization, he says:

"'Our accent differs from that of the people of Alabama and Vermont, but we have the same hearts, the same kind of homes, the same ideals and aspirations.'

Believe Henning Charge.

"The new Negro wonders how the ideals of fair minded, liberal, tolerant white people of the north, east and west, whether Democrat or Republican, can be reconciled with the ideals and aspirations of that group of humanity definitely classified as fanatical drys, intolerant bigots, and Ku Kluxers.

"The Negro now believes Arthur Sears Henning's charges are true—first, because the southern pilgrimage was led and directed by C. Bascom Slemp, the strongest proponent of Republican lily whitism in the south; second, because the candidate spoke of the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and was silent in reference to the fourteenth and the fifteenth, and third, because the candidate promised in a veiled, clever way that civil service appointments 'must be filled by those who deserve the confidence and respect of the communities they serve,' in other words, promising to bar Negroes from federal appointments in the south."

Other Negroes charged that in alluding indirectly to many of his hearers as Democrats whose views he respected, Mr. Hoover might be understood as expressing sympathy with the attitude of the southern Democrats toward their race.

FISHER OPPOSES WOLFF

Hugo C. Fisher, one of the three recently discovered county nominees of the "Independent party," announced yesterday that he will remain in the race for coroner until the ballots are counted Nov. 6 and will resist all efforts to pull him off the ballot.

The other two, Arthur W. Sullivan, candidate for assessor, and Edwin R. Wright, candidate for sanitary trustee, probably will withdraw their names. They both are regulars in the Deneen camp and it is said the desire of that group is not to take advantage of this way of splitting up the vote of the nominees under the Republican label at the cost of condemnation for lack of party regularity.

Wants to Cut Wolff Vote.

But not so with Mr. Fisher. He will not be sorry if the presence of his name in another column cuts down the vote of Coroner Oscar Wolff, who was renominated with the support of the Crowe-Thompson forces.

Hugh Magill ran for United States senator in 1926. By right of his petition he was given a separate column on the election ballot as an "independent" candidate with that word "independent" at the head of the column. And his vote was sufficient to lead the election board last winter to rule that the "Independent party" had been created and to assign it its own ballot in the April primary just as the Republican party and the Democratic party had their separate ballots.

No Names on Ballot.

There were no names on this new ballot—merely its heading and the titles of the offices for which nominations were to be made. Almost without exception all the voters on April 10 asked for either the Republican or the Democratic ballot. Only the professionals knew there was an "Independent" ballot. But now it appears that a country town's branch of the Deneen organization carefully wrote in the names of their slate candidates on this third ballot and they won what seemed to be an empty honor.

But those Deneenites who also won Republican nominations withdrew their names from the "independent" list and so did some of the losers in this camp. Therefore County Clerk Sweitzer's proclamation included only the three—Fisher, Sullivan and Wright—on the Independent ticket.

He Seeks Justification.

"Regardless of what anybody else does," said Mr. Fisher, "I shall continue in the race. The voters know the record of the coroner for the last eight years. I was one of the contestants before Judge Jarecki. I know that an actual decision of my contest on its merits would have given me the Republican nomination; but the court held there was not time to complete the recount. This nomination gives me the opportunity to win justification for my cause from the voters."

HIGH SCHOOL BOY DIES IN 55 FOOT FALL FROM ROOF

The body of David Johnstone, 13 years old, a freshman at Hyde Park high school, was found yesterday in an area way at 5003 Blackstone avenue, where he had apparently fallen from the roof, 55 feet above.

His parents, Matthew and Nellie Johnstone, 1415 East 50th street, and his sister, Mary, 16 years old, had searched the neighborhood for the missing boy until 2 a. m.

Edward Sauvant, janitor of the building, told the police he had warned four boys off the roof Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Bernice Smith, 5007 Blackstone avenue, said she heard a cry and a thud about 1 a. m. Police surmised that David, unable to find his way off the roof, remained there until night and fell attempting to climb over the ledge to a fire escape.

Woman's Death on Tracks Blamed on Sleep Walking

County highway police of the Homewood station yesterday expressed the opinion that Mrs. Anna Donner, 48 yeaers old, of Oak Glen, whose body was found on the Grand Trunk tracks in Chicago Heights early Saturday, might have been struck by a train while sleep walking. It was first believed she had been slain, but later it was found that footprints near hers along the track were made by a railroad employé.

NULLIFICATION DIXIE'S LABOR OF LOVE SINCE 1865

They Can Show Wet Scofflaws How.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—If the anti-prohibitionists should bring about the repeal of the Volstead act and then proceed to nullify the eighteenth amendment, they would be doing exactly what the southern scofflaws have done with reference to the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the constitution.

Repeal what you can, and what you can't repeal nullify, is the rule of action observed by the solid south, with the blessing of the churchmen and professional drys, in evading the solemn injunction of the sacred charter to allow the Negroes a voice in government.

While no attempts were ever made to carry out the second section of the fourteenth amendment, requiring reduction of the representation at Washington of states that disfranchise Negroes, the federal government endeavored for about twenty years to enforce the fifteenth amendment, guaranteeing the freedmen the right to vote.

Troops Used in Vain.

Successive laws were passed establishing federal supervision of congressional elections and troops and federal marshals were employed to protect the Negroes at the polls.

These measures met with stubborn resistance in the south and the growing feeling in the north that an unwise policy was being pursued was reflected in successive decisions of the Supreme court drawing the teeth of the enforcement acts. The last attempt made to enforce the fifteenth amendment was represented by the Lodge "force bill" of 1890, which was passed by the house but shelved in the senate.

Finally, in 1894, with the Democrats in control of both branches of congress, virtually all that remained of the acts to enforce the fifteenth amendment was repealed. The amendment forbidding abridgment of the right of suffrage because of "race, color or previous condition of servitude" is all that survives of the reconstruction ideal of conferring political equality upon the Negro, and even that—in the south—has been nullified by the selfsame scofflaws who are outraged by the thought of other scofflaws nullifying the eighteenth amendment.

South's Tactics Foreseen.

The fourteenth and fifteenth amendments were adopted early in the reconstruction period following the civil war. Senator Oliver P. Morton of Indiana foresaw how the southerners would circumvent the fifteenth amendment.

"This amendment," he said in a prophetic utterance on the day of its submission, "leaves the whole power in the state, just as it exists now, except that colored men shall not be disfranchised for the three reasons of race, color, or previous conditions of slavery. They may be disfranchised for want of education or for want of intelligence. The states of Louisiana and Georgia may establish regulations upon the subject of suffrage that will cut out 49 out of every 50 men in those states from voting.

Foresaw Property Tests.

"They may perhaps require property or educational tests and that would cut off the great majority of colored men from voting in those states, and thus this amendment would be practically defeated in all those states where the great body of the colored people live. Sir, if the power should pass into the hands of the conservative or Democratic population of those states, if they could not debar the colored people of the right of suffrage in any other way they would do it by an educational or property qualification."

The first act to enforce the fifteenth amendment was passed by congress in 1870. It provided for the trial and punishment by federal courts of any person who deprived a citizen of the right to vote because of race or color. The process of enforcement was similar to that of the fugitive slave act. Now the shoe was on the other foot and the Democrats who twenty years before had inveighed against the northern scofflaws who refused to apprehend and return runaway slaves denounced as an outrage the adoption of the same measures to safeguard the rights of the freedmen.

Law Is Knocked Out.

Five years later the Supreme court held the principal provisions of this act unconstitutional on the ground that congress had exceeded the powers granted by the fifteenth amendment.

In 1871 another effort to safeguard the voting rights of Negroes was made in an act establishing federal supervision of congressional elections. It authorized the appointment of election supervisors by federal judges to enforce a fair election and an honest count of the vote. United States marshals were authorized to appoint deputies to police the polls and prevent interference with voting. This law applied to the whole country, but was commonly understood to be aimed particularly at the south, where the Ku Klux Klan was active in frightening colored voters away from the polls.

Another attempt to protect Negroes in exercise of the right of suffrage was made in the act of 1871, aimed at the Ku Klux Klan. Its essential provisions, however, were held invalid by the Supreme court.

Grant's "Force Bill" Next.

The first "force bill" was evolved by President Grant in 1875. It authorized the President to suspend the habeas corpus writ in Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Mississippi. Although 35 Republicans voted against it, the measure was passed by the house, but failed of consideration in the senate in the closing days of the congress. The Republican opposition charged that the object of the bill was to secure to the Republican party electoral votes in the reconstructed states which otherwise "will be lost."

At first the enforcement acts were employed successfully to break up Ku Klux bands, but eventually they passed into disrepute, as they were invoked by the carpet bag administrations of the reconstructed states for electioneering purposes. What accentuated the disrepute was the activities of federal troops at and about polling places and wholesale arrests of whites by these troops on vague charges of "intimidating Negroes."

Democrats Get Control.

When the Democrats got control of congress in 1879 they proceeded to repeal or nullify by riders on appropriation bills many of the important provisions of this enforcement legislation. President Hayes vetoed the repealers and the appropriation bills containing the riders, and none passed over the veto. In 1894, however, when the Democrats again controlled congress and Cleveland was President, they got rid of the obnoxious federal supervision of elections. All of the essential provisions of the law were repealed.

The nullification of the fifteenth amendment as it is now practiced in the south was a gradual development. At first, during and immediately after the reconstruction period, the southern whites pursued the policy of keeping the Negroes away from the polls by force or intimidation. The original Ku Klux Klan was organized for that purpose and succeeded pretty generally in achieving white supremacy by strong arm methods.

It wa snot until the election of Harrison in 1888, with a renewal of the attempt by the northern Republicans to establish supervision of elections in the south, that the southern whites began to take steps to legalize their disfranchisement of the blacks.

While congress was considering the Lodge "force bill" in 1890 Mississippi led the way by adopting a new constitution, incorporating educational and property qualifications for voters by which the Negroes could be eliminated from the electorate.

In North Carolina it was Senator Furnifold M. Simmons, now bolting Smith because he believes Smith is intent on nullifying the eighteenth amendent, who directed the red shirt brigades in the work of frightening the Negroes from the polls that the constitution nullifying the fifteenth amendment might be adopted.

With the exception of the grandfather clause in the case of the Oklahoma constitution, these provisions of southern states constitutions whereby the Negro was disfranchised were upheld by the Supreme court. The prophecy of Senator Morton was fulfilled. The southerns had found a way to disfranchise the Negro without violating the letter of the fifteenth amendment.

HOOVER'S ADVISERS TELL HIM HIS SPEECH WON VOTES IN DIXIE

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—Herbert Hoover spent his usual quiet Sabbath today following his return from Elizabethton, Tenn., where he spoke yesterday. The Hoover special arrived at 8 o'clock this morning and the presidential candidate went at once to his home.

With members of his family, Mr. Hoover attended services at the Friends' church. During the remainder of the day he rested.

Mr. Hoover has no addresses scheduled during the coming week. His next speech will be at Boston on Monday, Oct. 15.

Many messages of congratulation were received by the candidate in connection with yesterday's speech. Party leaders were of the opinion that the speech will prove to have won many votes in that doubtful area.

KEEP CHURCH OUT OF POLITICS, PLEA OF DR. VAN DYKE

Sermon Opens Season for Sunday Evening Club.

Keep the churches out of politics and politics out of the churches was the plea of Dr. Henry Van Dyke of Princeton university, in the first sermon of the fall season last night before the Sunday Evening club at Orchestra hall.

Dr. Van Dyke, renowned as an author, is president of the Institute of Arts and Letters and former moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church. The theme of his sermon was: "Good Citizenship Depends on True Manhood."

"I am happy to be here once more and preach to this beloved community on citizenship," he said. "It will be rather difficult to do this without being accused of touching on political questions. But that is precisely what, in President Coolidge's quaint New England phrase, 'I do not choose' to do.

"Keep Church Out of Pilitics."

"So help me God, I will never use the pulpit for partisan propaganda. Keep the church out of politics and politics out of the churches. That is the American doctrine. It was taught long ago by the Divine Master who said, 'Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's.'

"I shall, therefore, speak tonight only of very simple and fundamental things in which all parties may agree. It is humorous when a preacher of peace calls down the wrath of God on those who can not accept his dogmas; when a gloomy novelist asks the God, whom he denied, to give him free publicity by striking him dead, when a passionate temperance orator cuts short his own life by a surfeit of pie.

Pleads for Good Citizenship.

"Stand against drunkenness, vice, and crime, because they make men, like the slaves of Circe in the old fable, swine and dogs and tigers. Stand for honesty and honor, constancy and courage, temperance and truthfulness, loyalty and love, because they make men free sons of God.

"Such men, however they may differ in politics, will be good citizens, living together in brotherhood and mutual respect. What Master shall teach us these things and help us to attain them? The wisest, purest, bravest, and kindest of all that ever lived on earth, Jesus of Nazareth. Beside him these new dusty and dismal teachers, whose thinking is dark and whose ways are wild, are like smoky candles against the sun."

PASTOR DISCUSSES AL

Taking as his text, "Why Fear a Catholic for President?" the Rev. John Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, devoted his sermon at the evening service last night to a discussion of the Catholicity of Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York. A capacity congregation in the Chicago Temple heard him denounce what he described as the malevolent influences of the Roman Catholic church, and what might be expected if Smith ever enters the White House.

"We ought to make it clear to our Catholic friends," he said, "that our objections to Gov. Smith are not based on his religion, but on the policies and the history of his church. I am not blaming them for being in politics for centuries, seeking advantages for their church.

"History would indicate that their greatest troubles have been between the popes and kings—rulers. Not quite as openly, but just as surely is the church in politics here.

"I want to ask you here tonight how many Chicago papers will report my sermon tomorrow? If a Catholic priest is guilty of a moral lapse, you find it in small print, stuck away in a corner somewhere—but if a Methodist minister gets drunk, you'll find it on the front page.

"Laymen have no voice in the election of the hierarchy. That is a closed corporation. It has been intolerant, and it is. Now mark, they are largely Italian—the college of cardinals is all Italian, and they will always elect an Italian pope. He claims to be the ruler of the world.

"Prisoner of the Vatican."

"You hear the phrase, 'the prisoner of the Vatican.' Why does he stay there? Why doesn't he come out? He will never come out until he can overthrow the Italian government. He will never go to Great Britain unless he has overthrown King George. He will never come to America unless he has overthrown the American government.

"He claims America as his country because Columbus discovered America.

"Then a more serious matter—that the first allegiance of every Catholic is to the pope. I quote from a Catholic paper, the Western Watchman, which I was reading yesterday. It says, 'If the United States should get into war with the Catholic church tomorrow, we would say, "To hell with the American government."'

Cites Excerpt from Paper.

"Can you blame certain people if they are afraid to put in the White House a man whose first allegiance is to the old man in the Vatican?

"You may have read the published excerpts from the Unita Cattolica, a Jesuit paper published in Florence, which said, 'If Gov. Smith is elected we expect to have a Catholic embassy at Washington, and we hope to have an American representative at the Vatican.'

"I am not saying that I share the fear of having a Catholic for President. But I am saying that there are grounds for those fears."

CHURCHES PRAY FOR GUIDANCE OF CHICAGO VOTERS

Prayers were offered yesterday in scores of churches belonging to the Chicago Federation of Churches, that divine guidance would be given to the electorate on Nov. 6 to rid the city of the "alliance of crime and politics that without doubt has existed for a number of years." A resolution to hold such a day of prayer was passed recently at a meeting of several hundred union ministers. Attention was called yesterday by many pastors, to the second and last registration day tomorrow, and it was urged that all church members register so as to be eligible to vote on Nov. 6.

HOOVER VICTORY BY 450,000 IN STATE PREDICTED

One of the managers of the Republican state campaign, David E. Shanahan, issued a statement yesterday asserting there has been a big swing to Hoover and Curtis in Illinois during the last ten days. He predicted a Republican victory in the state by 450,000.

"Conditions downstate have shown great improvement in the last ten days, especially among the farmers," it read. "A number of real dirt farmers are making a thorough canvass of the corn belt and they, one and all, report that the farmers are getting back into line in support of Hoover and Curtis. This canvass is not at meetings but from farm to farm."

The Democrats attach great importance to the opening tonight of Floyd E. Thompson's governorship campaign in Cook county. An independent organization has arranged a meeting for him in Evanston at the North Shore hotel, and he also will speak in Hyde Park at Midway Gardens, Sixtieth street and Cottage Grove avenue, and in the Thirty-ninth ward at the Falconer school hall, Wellington avenue and Lamon street.

Mrs. Bertha Baur, Republican national committeewoman, has arranged a dinner at the Hamilton club, where members of more than a dozen women's organizations interested in the campaign will have a chance to see the Republican state nominees.

BLACKIE BUMS A MEAL; EATS HIS WAY TO ETERNITY

Blackie O'Meara was a bum. In his younger days he was a successful bum, always able to beg enough to eat and to catch rides to a warm climate in the winter. But he lost his touch when he reached the age of 65.

So, on his way to Florida, he had to walk this time. He wasn't agile enough for the rods. And, until yesterday, he hadn't been able to bum a meal since Thursday. He bummed one then from Richard Smith, who is the kind hearted cook for a construction camp at 95th street and Archer avenue.

"Eat all you want," said Smith.

Blackie consumed a dish of stew, then another one, then a loaf of bread, then a third dish of stew. Replete, he thanked the cook and moved on. A few hours later his body was found in a ditch half a mile away. Physicians said that he had gorged too heavily after long starvation and died of too much kindness.

CAMPAIGN OMENS HAVE WISE MEN GUESSING RESULT

24 States on Fence, but Hoover Is Best Bet.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—Some degree of doubt as to the outcome exists in fully half the states of the union as the presidential campaign enters its final month.

Herbert Hoover continues to have by far the better chance of election, but elements of uncertainly enable the Democrats to demonstrate mathematically how it is possible for Gov. Al Smith to win.

There are twenty-four states where there is more or less doubt of the result.

The big battlegrounds are conceded to be in Massachusetts, New York, and New Jersey in the east; Maryland and Missouri among border states; Tennessee on the edge of the south; Wisconsin in the middle west; and Minnesota, North Dakota, and Montana in the northwest.

By making a cleanup in these states Gov. Smith can nose out Hoover. He cannot fall far short of capturing all of them and still have much chance of success.

Of the 24 states in which the outcome is considered reasonably certain 15 are listed as Republican and only nine as Democratic. The 15 have 179 electoral votes which means that Hoover must win only 87 additional votes to secure the necessary majority of 266. The nine Democratic states have 102 electorial votes or 164 votes short of a majority.

The fifteen states regarded as virtually certain of remaining in the Republican column are Maine with 6 electoral votes; Vermont and New Hampshire with 4 each; Pennsylvania, 38; Ohio, 24; Michigan, 15; Illinois, 29; Iowa, 13; Kansas, 10; Utah, 4; Wyoming, 3; Idaho, 4; Oregon, 5; Washington, 7; and California, 13.

These Conceded to Smith.

The nine states which are generally conceded to the Democrats are Virginia with 12 electoral votes; South Carolina, 9; Georga, 14; Alabama, 12; Florida, 6; Mississippi, 10; Louisiana, 10; Arkansas, 9, and Texas, 20.

Of the 24 more or less doubtful states about half have strong leanings one way or the other which causes them to be considered as probably Republican or Democratic.

Impartial reports indicate that the Republicans can count with some degree of assurance upon Connecticut with 7 electoral votes; West Virginia, 8; Indiana, 15; South Dakota, 5; Nebraska, 8; Colorado, 6; and Oklahoma, 10. The Democrats do not concede the correctness of these estimates and are hopeful of carrying all of the seven states. The electoral vote of the seven would total 59, which added to the 179 certain for Hoover, would place the Republican total at 238 or 28 less than a majority.

There are a few other states where many of the Republican leaders believe the tide has turned in their favor, but where the Democrats are keeping up the battle with undiminished vigor. These include Kentucky with 13 votes—which is to be invaded by Gov. Smith next Saturday; Delaware with 3 votes, and Nevada with 3 votes. These states have a total of 19 votes. Adding these to the 238 total would give Hoover 257 votes, or only 9 short of a majority.

Solid South Appears Solid.

It is recognized that the Democrats are more than likely to hold the solid south intact. This would mean that North Carolina and Tennessee, with 12 votes each, would be added to the 102 Smith votes in the nine certain Democratic states, making a total of 126.

There are four other states which at the present time are regarded as more likely to go Democratic than Republican. These are Missouri with 18 votes, Wisconsin with 13, Rhode Island with 5, and New Mexico with 3. These four have 39 electoral votes, which added to the 126 Smith votes, would give a total of 165, which lacks 101 of the required 266 majority.

The states not included either in the 257 Hoover votes or the 165 Smith votes are New York with 45 votes, Massachusetts with 18, New Jersey with 14, Maryland with 8, Minnesota with 12, North Dakota with 5, Montana with 4, and Arizona with 3.

These eight states have 108 electoral votes. All eight were carried by Coolidge in 1924, but prohibition in the east and the farm question in the west have made them doubtful this time.

Smith Gains Strength in N. Y.

As the Republican managers analyze the situation, they believe Hoover will carry New Jersey even if he fails to get New York and Massachusetts. The New Jersey 14 votes on top of the 257 would put Hoover over with four votes to spare.

The Republicans have an uphill fight in New York, Gov. Smith's home state. The nomination of Franklin Roosevelt for governor on the Democratic ticket is believed to have bolstered up the Smith cause.

In Massachusetts the Republicans expect to win, although just at present it is anybody's race.

The Hoover managers are particularly optimistic about Maryland, despite its wetness and the strong support given Smith by its governor and two United States senators.

Republicans Fear Farm Bolt.

The Republicans are admittedly worried about conditions in Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana. If the election were held tomorrow there seems a belief that both Minnesota and North Dakota would go for Smith, with Montana also a possibility. The agricultural issue is the chief cause of the difficulty in all three states, a considerable number of Republicans who were for Lowden and the McNary-Haugen bill having bolted the party and joined the Smith forces.

Arizona is classed as doubtful in both camps. It was carried by Coolidge and Harding, although its senators and state officials have ordinarily been Democratic.

ALDERMEN SEEK SPECIAL LAWYER FOR BUS HEARING

Would Replace Ettelson Before Supreme Court.

A special meeting of the council committee on local transportation was called yesterday by Chairman Joseph B. McDonough to "safeguard the city's interests with reference to bus transportation." It will be held tomorrow.

Ald. McDonough will ask the committee to consider whether the city should have an outside lawyer appear before the state Supreme court in the rehearing of the Chicago Motor Coach company case. In effect, although not so bluntly put, the proposition is, whether the committee will replace Corporation Counsel Ettelson with another attorney at this rehearing. Ettelson's view is considered antagonistic to the aldermanic view on feeder buses.

Aldermen Interpret Ruling.

The Supreme court decision last June, as the aldermen understand it, is that the Chicago Motor Coach company does not require a permit or franchise to operate on any of Chicago's streets. All that the coach company needs is a certificate of convenience and necessity from the Illinois Commerce commission, which is credited with the right to bar other buses from operating on streets it gives to the motor coach company.

The city council ordered the city law department to request a rehearing which the Supreme court granted last Saturday. Ettelson has given an opinion against operation of feeder buses at 7 cent fare by the surface lines. The city council has twice passed fourteen feeder bus ordinances. Mayor Thompson vetoed them once, but the council mustered enough votes to pass them over his veto and then repassed them.

Questions Ettelson Attitude.

Some of the aldermen regard the official attitude of Ettelson as favorable to the motor coach company, and do not wish to have him represent the city at the rehearing.

At the special meeting tomorrow the receivers of the Chicago Railways company, operating the west and north side surface lines, will present their reply to the aldermanic request that they put feeder buses on the streets and run them in competition with the coach company. The receivers assert they have been advised by their lawyers, James M. Sheean and Weymouth Kirkland, that they should not try to buy and operate feeder buses before attempting to obtain a rehearing of that case by the commerce commission. The commission in Springfield on Sept. 19, and again on Oct. 2, decided against operation of feeder buses by the surface lines.

Attorneys' Opinion Quoted.

"If this finding and order based thereon are not supported by evidence," reads the opinion of the lawyers, "then the order is unreasonable and unlawful and may be set aside by the courts upon appeal in the method provided by the Illinois statutes. Manifestly, the setting aside of arbitrary and unreasonable orders by orderly court procedure, rather than in defiance of such orders, is the appropriate course."

In this proceeding before the commerce commission it is directly charged that the corporation counsel, through an assistant, acted in direct opposition to the desire of the city council. The commission's order gives as one of the reasons for its decision the following:

"A representative of the corporation counsel's office appeared and advised the commission that in view of the fact that the franchise under which the surface lines had been operating had expired, the city felt that at this time there should be no extension of any bus lines or feeder systems by the surface lines."

Citizens Fight for 7 Cent Fare.

While Ald. McDonough and his associates were preparing for their special committee meeting some 800 residents of the far northwest side were meeting, hearing speeches and parading about the district in their fight for 7 cent feeder buses instead of the 10 cent motor coaches.

"Feeder buses or walk," was the slogan of the mass meeting, held in a lot at Diversey boulevard and Narragansett avenue under direction of the Mont Clare Independent Improvement club, and the leadership of J. L. Burke. Attorney Oliver Wendell Holmes, leader in the Northwest Federation of Improvement clubs, also spoke.

Speakers said the operation of 7 cent feeder buses with street car transfer privilege, would mean a $15,000,000 building program on the northwest side, and that sections west of Ravenswood and Rogers Park and southwest of the city would have similar programs. They charged that sluggers had beaten and terrorized drivers of buses operated at the expense of the Central Northwest Business Men's association, and drivers of small companies operating at a 5 cent fare.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

RUNNING MATES AHEAD OF AL IN POLL OF INDIANA

Hoosier Voters Cool to Democratic Nominee.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 7. — [Special.]—The first returns of THE TRIBUNE straw vote in Indiana on the candidates for governor and United States senator, in comparison with those printed today on the presidential nominees, convey two distinct impressions. The first is that while Hoover seems the highly probable winner of the state's electoral votes, it is not at all certain that Harry G. Leslie, Republican candidate for governor, will be elected. The first straws, taken mostly in normal Republican territory, indicate that Frank C. Dailey, the Democratic gubernatorial candidate, has a better chance of winning than any aspirant of this party since the success of Samuel M. Ralston more than a dozen years ago.

The other impression is that Alfred E Smith is not a popular candidate for the presidency among the Hoosiers. The first poll credits Smith with less straws proportionately than were given to Dailey or to Albert Stump, the Democratic candidate for United States senator against Senator Arthur R. Robinson, Republican, who seeks reelection.

Other Democrats Lead Al.

Later straws may present a different view, but on the basis of the straws in hand Dailey seems likely to get 86,650 more votes in the state than Al Smith. Stump in the straws collected is running 16,790 votes ahead of Smith. These estimates are on the guess that 1,272,000 ballots will be cast on Nov. 6.

The bases for these observations are straws collected on the candidates for President, governor, and United States senator from the same persons. Below are presented summaries of the straws for governor distributed between Leslie, Republican; Dailey, Democrat, and Clarence E. Bond, Socialist; and the straws for the senatorial candidates, Robinson, Republican; Stump, Democrat, and P. K. Reinhold, Socialist, with the straws for the presidential candidates also given. The tables likewise show how the citizens polled cast their votes for President in 1924:

Summaries of the Poll.

The comparative summaries are as follows:

FOR GOVERNOR.

Coolidge	567	243	12	821

The percentages present the relative strength of the candidates on the basis of the first straws, so that any reader may make his own comparisons and draw his own deductions.

But may it be pointed out that the outstanding feature of the above tables is the relative weakness of Smith as compared with Dailey. Of the 1,725 straws cast for presidential candidates Smith obtained less than 40 per cent; while of the 1,470 straws cast for governor Dailey obtained more than 46 per cent. And in Indiana each per cent stands for more than 12,720 votes on election day.

If Hoover does not get an Indiana plurality of more than 86,650—and there have been only three Republican presidential candidates, Coolidge, Harding, and Roosevelt, who have received larger ones—Dailey will probably be elected governor, according to the indications in the first poll.

Distribution of 1924 Votes.

These first straws show that Dailey received 29 per cent of the Coolidge votes recorded for governor, while Smith obtained only 21 per cent of the Coolidge straws cast for presidential candidates. Of the Davis Democratic followers, Smith received a trifle more than five times as many votes as Hoover, while Dailey received ten times as many of this class as Leslie, and Stump received nearly six times as many as Robinson. In addition Dailey received a considerably larger percentage of the straws of La Follette followers of four years ago than did Smith.

Probably the weakness of Leslie, the Republican candidate for governor, is responsible for some of the apparent strength of Dailey, the Democratic nominee. But only a superficial analysis of the change in party by the straw voters indicates that Smith is weaker in this state than either Dailey for governor or Stump for United States senator. The latter has a reputation as a vote getter, coming within 11,383 votes of winning over Senator James E. Watson in 1926.

Poll Taken Chiefly in Cities.

More emphasis is added to the Hoover showing in this state because the polling method adopted necessarily favors cities, in which it has been claimed that Smith would obtain his main support. Indiana, by the federal census designation, is about equally divided between rural and urban population. The last census showed 1,482,855 urban residents and 1,447,535 rural residents.

"One reason we have a discriminating electorate," said one straw voter, "is because we read the newspapers."

While Indiana ranks eleventh among the states in population, it stands fifth as to the number of daily newspapers, and in addition it is served extensively by THE TRIBUNE.

Straws Tabulated by Towns.

The cities and villages in which the straws were collected, and the votes for each gubernatorial and senatorial candidate—except socialist—are shown in the following tabulation:

1924 Percentage Recalled.

In the counties in which these cities and villages are located, John W. Davis, the Democratic candidate for President four years ago, obtained 33.78 per cent of the total ballots cast. Daily, the Democratic candidate for governor, obtained 46.26 per cent of the straws collected.

The force of vote takers has been augmented and it is hoped to present the results of more than 2,500 straws in THE TRIBUNE tomorrow. THE TRIBUNE is conducting the only poll in Indiana which indicates the relative strength of the candidates for President, governor, and United States senator.

WANAMAKERS OFFER $50,000 FOR SWEDEN-N. Y. HOP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 7. — The New York department store owners, the Wanamakers, have offered a $50,000 financial guarantee for an Atlantic flight from Malmo, Sweden, to New York next spring. When the Swedish aviator, Capt. Albin Ahrenberg, arrived in Stockholm yesterday after a flight around Sweden, Wanamakers' agent, Mrs. Greta Trygger, approached him on the subject. Capt. Ahrenberg, who had been designated to fly the Uppland plane to rescue Gen. Umberto Nobile in the Arctic but had been engaged instead for a propaganda flight, says he will study the scheme. He thinks such a flight is possible.

FOR PRESIDENTIAL RHYME-LINES!

CAN you suggest a last line to the Presidential Rhyme printed above?

Every week-day for 42 consecutive days the Chicago Tribune will print a rhyme about the Presidential election, leaving the last line blank. You are invited to fill in the last line. It must rhyme with the first two lines.

The Chicago Tribune will pay $5,000.00 in Cash Prizes to the persons who send in the best last lines to these 42 Rhymes.

This offer is open to everyone, everywhere — men, women, boys and girls—except employes of the Chicago Tribune and their families. You pay nothing. Just try your skill. Be clever and original.

Rhyme-Lines are to be submitted only in complete sets. Hold all Rhymes until you have the full set of 42. Then mail them to "Rhyme-Lines," The Chicago Tribune, Post Office Box 1539, Chicago, Illinois.

All entries must be in by midnight 15 days after the last Presidential Rhyme is printed. Rhymes must be sent by First Class Mail, postage prepaid. Entries with insufficient postage will be returned by the Post Office Department.

You need not purchase the Chicago Tribune to compete. You may write your Rhyme-Lines on a separate sheet of paper. The Chicago Tribune may be examined at any of its Offices or at Public Libraries free of charge.

The judges will be a committee appointed by the Chicago Tribune. Their decision will be final. In case of ties a duplicate award will be paid to each tying contestant.

5TH FRAUD JURY BEGINS HEARING EVIDENCE TODAY

Inquiry to Be Directed at Ballot Crimes.

The fifth special grand jury will be impaneled at 2 p. m. today and will at once start hearing evidence concerning election frauds. Evidence of short penciling of ballots, false returns, and ballot box stuffing, as well as all other manner of frauds, will be presented to the jury.

Thirty witnesses have been subpoenaed for today and these were all questioned yesterday afternoon by Sheridan A. Bruseaux, chief investigator for the special prosecutors headed by Frank J. Loesch and by Thomas H. Susser, one of the prosecuting staff.

Testimony this week will have to do, it was stated, with frauds, especially in the 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th, 6th, 20th, 24th, and 27th wards. Special Investigator Bruseaux yesterday listened to witnesses who told of short penciling, the making of false returns, and ballot box stuffing in the 5th and 6th wards, and those stories will be the first repeated to the jury.

Probe 20th Ward Frauds.

Previously the 20th ward inquiry has been concentrated mostly on primary day violence and the killing of Octavius C. Granady, colored opponent of Morris Eller, Crowe-Thompson ward boss, for ward committeeman. Now the investigation will turn to specific acts of fraud in the ward.

In order to relieve the congested situation both in the jail and the court dockets, five extra judges will start holding court in the criminal branch today. These are Judges Harry A. Lewis, Robert E. Gentzel, Charles A. Williams, George Fred Rush, and Thomas Taylor Jr. County judges will be brought into the city to take over their civil work.

Of the several legislators recently found to have been on Corporation Counsel Samuel A. Ettelson's pay rolls in connection with alleged jobs paying $6,000 to $10,000 a year, the only one who could be reached in an effort to get their explanation yesterday was Sidney Lyon. Mr. Lyon said his position had been misrepresented and he asserted that he did an honest day's work for every dollar he received as an assistant corporation counsel.

On Roll Few Months.

"I was on the pay roll only a few months," he said, "and there was absolutely nothing wrong about it. I was not on while the legislature was in session, but after the session.

"The legislators' pay is small and a man must make a living. As a lawyer I can't see anything wrong with getting work from the city if I do an honest day's work for my money. Most of my work consisted of being in court in connection with special assessment cases. There is positively nothing wrong about it so far as I was concerned."

$1,000,000 LIFE POLICIES SOLD TO YANKS ON ZEP

Final Test for Flight to U. S. Comes Today.

[Copyright: 1928: By the New York Times.]

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Oct. 7.—Since "the great trial trip" of the Count Zeppelin, those who will partake in the American journey, which is expected to start Wednesday, begin to realize it will not be altogether a joy ride. Incomparable as is a ride on an airship to any other mode of traveling, imparting a sensation of being softly rocked on the air while underneath the world is revolving with a speed just sufficiently tempered to afford the looker on above an unmarred view of snow laden mountains, teeming cities, and widespread silvery oceans, yet there are certain disadvantages that at the present state of air navigation cannot be overlooked.

All the passengers seem to have indominable confidence in Dr. Hugo Eckener's leadership, and with the final test tomorrow he certainly will have done his best to meet any adverse eventuality, but the unexpected may happen.

For this reason most of the passengers are now hastening to complete their arrangements for life insurance. Two American passengers are said to have taken policies for $1,000,000 each; one other privileged passenger's life is insured for $125,000, and most of the others for similar amounts.

All to Carry U. S. Money.

Dr. Eckener himself is content with insurance of $30,000, proving his strong confidence in a happy end to the ocean trip. All the officers and men are insured for adequate sums. A syndicate of German companies has undertaken the insurance of the airship at 7 per cent on $1,000,000, which sum hardly covers the building expenses. Most of the passengers are also providing themselves with American money for the possibility that the ship may be compelled by adverse weather conditions to land somewhere south of its goal, for instance, on the deserts of Arizona. Being stranded there among the cowboys and Indians, with which European imagination peoples those regions, what should they do without money, the German passengers ask.

Pack Own Lunch Baskets.

Furthermore, experience with the kitchen aboard has alarmed some gourmands among the passengers who are now providing all kinds of delicacies, especially food in tin cans that, when pierced by a needle, by some chemical process will heat themselves. Various other preserved foods are being bought in quantities that would last Robinson Crusoe for a lifetime.

Unfortunately, these good things will—at least most of them—have to be left behind, as Eckener permits only about 50 pounds of luggage to each passenger.

If on previous trips fault might have been found with the ship's kitchen, preparations since made promise that on this ocean trip there will be plenty for the passengers and crew. The principal meals for four days will be prepared by a cook in Friedrichshafen and then filled into thermos cans, where they will keep hot until wanted. Besides there are many cold dishes on the bill of fare that the passengers may order at any time.

Crew to Furnish Concerts.

While there will be no captain's dinner aboard the Count Zeppelin as is the rule on steamships, there may be regular concerts by the crew band, which consists of experts on the mouth organs and concertinas.

Beside the best of about a dozen gramophenes presented to the airship will be played in the cabin for the amusement of the passengers. A half dozen canary birds presented to the airship will add their part to the musical entertainments in the saloon.

RICH PHILADELPHIA POLICE CAPTAINS LINKED WITH GRAFT

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—Two more police captains, with big bank accounts as disclosed by the special grand jury's investigation into police graft, will be drawn into the net this week, District Attorney John Monaghan announced today.

He said further, that while fortunes in graft money undoubtedly found their way into the pockets of police officials and policemen, there is evidence now that men "higher up" have been getting "protection" money.

"When the police captains' cases are cleared up, I intend to go into the situation regarding unit No. 1, which I consider of high importance," he said.

Unit No. 1 was organized by Brig. Gen. Smedley D. Butler as a special liquor raiding squad during his régime as director of public safety. With the coming of the Mackey administration the squad was abolished.

LEGION CROWDS GATHERING FOR BIG CONVENTION

Great Cheers Greet Gen. Pershing.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Preparations for the national American Legion convention reached a climax tonight with every agency working to make ready for the first session tomorrow.

The housing bureau estimated early in the day that between 25,000 and 30,000 visitors had been registered with a majority of today's heavy arrivals still to be cared for. This estimate did not include any of the official delegates to the convention who have already been assigned their quarters. Traffic became so heavy in the business district early in the day that police gradually closed the streets to automobiles.

Pershing Given Greeting.

Gen. John J. Pershing was given a tremendous reception when he arrived today. Other prominent arrivals of the day included Hanford MacNider, former assistant secretary of war, and F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war for aviation.

National Commander Edward E. Spafford issued a statement favoring legion advocacy of a universal draft in wartime and scouting reports that the presence of Col. William Mitchell, former assistant chief of the air corps who resigned after being court martialed for his criticisms of the air corps administration, would precipitate a fight on that subject.

"We are not experts," Spafford said, "and we are not in a position to know whether or not a separate department of aviation with a cabinet member at its head is vital to the progress of our country."

Will Act on Foreign Members.

The expatriation of a large number of veterans of the A. E. F. who remained abroad after the armistice is one of the problems which the convention will be asked to act upon. Harry Mauricides, adjutant of the Athens, Greece, post which contains 100 members, will place the matter before the convention.

Unofficial polls taken indicated that Gen. Ray Hoffman of Oklahoma and Ralph T. Dyke O'Neil of Topeka were going into the convention with a slight advantage over the other candidates for commander. Walton D. Hood of San Antonio, state commander, has withdrawn, leaving at least three other candidates in the field. John Ewing of Shreveport, Paul W. McNutt of Indiana, and Gen. Albert Cox of North Carolina were the other outstanding candidates.

MOTHER ADMITS AIDING HUSBAND IN 21 ROBBERIES

Couple Captured Preparing to Commit 22d.

Matthew Krutchen and his young wife were arrested early yesterday morning in an alleyway in the rear of 2026 Berteau avenue as they were about to commit, they confessed, their twenty-first burglary. The Krutchens have three babies at home and a fourth is expected shortly.

Mrs. Mary Krutchen was the third mother arrested in the last three days on charges of robbery. She wept so bitterly that police, considering her condition, permitted her to go to the home she said she occupied at 1841 Cuyler avenue.

Wife on Lookout.

The Krutchens were arrested by Motorcycle Policemen Franklin Martyn and Richard Keough of the North Robey street station, who answered a call early Sunday morning. They found Mrs. Krutchen parked in an automobile, acting as lookout. Krutchen was in the alley, preparatory to entering a home, he admitted.

The couple finally confessed that they had committed twenty-one burglaries in the last few weeks. Krutchen was held on charges of burglary and was paraded at the police show-up yesterday, but was not identified by any one.

Another bandit mother also stood in the spotlight's glare at the show-up but there were no victims who identified her. She was Mrs. Jean O'Dell, alias Sartino, 22 years old, mother of a 5 year old boy. She denied complicity in the robbery of taxicab drivers, although admitting that she had accompanied Louis Romano, 24 years old, a former chauffeur, when he held up a driver at Glencoe last week.

Woman and Boy Sought.

The third mother is Mrs. Julia Brady, who has a 12 year old son. She was taken into custody Friday and accused of helping her husband in a burglary.

A middle aged woman and a boy, about 15 years old, apparently mother and son, are believed to have robbed the home of Morris Nagel, 2425 North Logan boulevard, according to a police report. Jewelry and clothing valued at $200 was taken. Neighbors told police they saw the woman and boy ascending the back stairway of the home during the afternoon.

YOUTH HELD AS HIS AUTO KILLS 2 SMALL GIRLS

Faces Two Charges of Manslaughter.

Clarence Freund, 19 years old, 3018 Wentworth avenue, was formally booked on two charges of manslaughter yesterday as the result of an automobile accident late Saturday night in front of 4545 Wentworth avenue.

Two small girls lost their lives when they were struck by a car driven by the youth, who, according to witnesses, was speeding on the wrong side of the street. The victims were Ruth Clara Austerlade, 8 years old, 150 West 46th place, and Emma Gabriel, 10 years old, 137 West 46th place.

Accompanied by Ruth's 13 year old sister, Lillian, the children had been to a store to purchase candy. On their way home they saw a friend across the street and decided to go to her. Linking hands, they stepped from the curb. The smaller girls, struck by the car, were torn from Lillian's grasp.

Bonds Set at $20,000.

Freund's bonds on each case were fixed at $10,000. The mother of the Austerdale girl said she would produce witnesses who would prove that Freund was driving carelessly.

These two deaths and four others in Cook county yesterday raised the 1928 toll to 746. The other victims:

Walter Ribet, 3 years old, 1247 North Claremont avenue. Struck by the automobile of William Collins, 1323 South Western avenue, at Ogden and Western avenue. Mrs. Eva Collins, the boy's mother, and an infant nephew in a baby carriage, narrowly escaped injury. Collins was held.

Clara Byrd, colored, 3 years old, 711 East 43d street. Killed when she was struck at 43d street and Langley avenue by a taxicab driven by Royston McAllister, colored, 4941 Prairie avenue. The child's mother, Blannie Byrd, 32 years old, was seriously injured.

George Brunkhorst, 74 years old, 3837 North Mozart street. Knocked down at Lincoln avenue and Robey street by an automobile driven by Carl F. Mozer, 2043 Roscoe street.

Glen Meek, 45 years old, 1113 West Congress street. Died at the county hospital of a fracture of skull suffered several weeks ago. The police believe that he was injured in an automobile accident.

Girls' Condition Serious.

Three girls, injured in a crash early yesterday morning on the outer drive at Jackson boulevard, were reported in a serious condition at St. Luke's hospital. They are Miss Helen Carr of Aurora; Miss Eve Laymon of Des Moines, Ia., and Miss Mary Gregory, 516 Cornelia avenue.

In the same accident Leo Larivee, 26 years old, 3930 Lake Park avenue, and Miss Peggy Petchik, 25 years old, of the Morrison hotel, were killed.

Larivee, a senior medical student at Loyola university, was a member of the American track team at the 1924 Olympic games and had recently run in Chicago under the colors of the Chicago Athletic association. He was also track coach at Loyola.

U. S. SUPREME COURT MAY RULE TODAY ON CHICAGO DIVERSION

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—The Supreme court of the United States will hand down the first decisions since its summer recess tomorrow. It is considered a possibility that among them may be a ruling in the Chicago water diversion case.

Twelve states have figured in the case. States bordering on the Great Lakes, including New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota, attacked the legality of the diversion of water by the Chicago sanitary district from Lake Michigan and contended that it has lowered lake levels to such an extent as to injure commerce and navigation. The Chicago sanitary district and the state of Illinois were supported in defense of the diversion by states along the Mississippi, including Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, and Arkansas.

POLICE SEARCH JOLIET FOR TWO KIDNAP SUSPECTS

A detective bureau squad headed by Lieut. Paul Riccio yesterday went to Joliet to search for Julio Romano and Tony Perconti, alleged leaders in the plot to kidnap 10 year old Billy Ranieri.

In the opinion of the police, all the members of the kidnaping plot will be in custody when these two are captured. Perconti, a Joliet saloonkeeper, is said to have been the man who slugged the boy when he was seized on the street. A guard has been maintained at his home, but he has not been there for two weeks and has not been in touch with his wife and four children.

Six men, two of whom are alleged to have conducted the ransom negotiations for the boy, which were abandoned when the gang became fearful and released him, are under arrest.

Larry Semon Very Low; Hope of Recovery Gone

Victorville, Cal., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Larry Semon, film comedian, continued near death today at the Mojave sanitarium, where he was taken several days ago, critically ill with pneumonia. Mrs. Nancy Smith, Semon's mother-in-law, said today he was not expected to live another 24 hours.

FOREIGN POLICY AND DEFENSE IN THIS CAMPAIGN

In Mr. Hoover's speech of acceptance is one of the best summaries of a sound American policy in foreign relations that any of our statesmen has made. He said: "Our foreign policy has one primary object, and that is peace. We have no hates; we wish no further possessions; we harbor no military threats. . . . There are two coöperating factors in the maintenance of peace—the building of good will by wise and sympathetic handling of international relations, and the adequate preparedness for defense. We must not only be just; we must be respected."

This as a general statement of underlying principles could hardly be improved upon. Any government which acts judiciously and practically upon it will have the solid support of the American people.

Both congress and the executive, under both Democratic and Republican administrations, have failed to realize it and make it fully effectual. But Republican conduct has come nearer to it than Democratic, and it is Mr. Hoover who has thought clearly to the fundamentals, not Gov. Smith, whose statement on foreign policy, as we have said, is inconsistent, inaccurate, and ominously sentimental.

Mr. Hoover realizes, as all advocates of a strong international policy realize, that we are not and cannot be isolated, and that we must bear our share of international responsibilities. But Mr. Hoover expresses the sound realism of a true American policy when he points out that "our people have determined that we can give the greatest help—both in times of tranquillity and in times of strain—if we maintain our independence from the political exigencies of the old world." That is the clear wisdom of Washington, demonstrated again in our time. It does not avoid coöperation. It does not represent even an attempt at isolation. It adheres to independence of judgment and freedom to act upon our own judgment upon the facts and conditions before us.

And it involves preparedness to defend our rights and legitimate interests and the proper organization of our strength, for, as Mr. Hoover puts it, though we are particularly desirous of reducing by fair agreement the burden of costly armament, "we know that in an armed world there is only one certain guaranty of freedom—and that is preparedness for defense."

There is a conspicuous body of opinion in this country that holds an opposite view. It favors a maximum of commitment in foreign affairs and a minimum of preparedness to protect our own interests or give weight to our influence. Its difference with advocates of an America possessing freedom to act and strength to act is well expressed by Rear Admiral Schofield when he says in an article on "The Heart of the Navy": "The navy believes that peace with justice can best be attained through trusting in the integrity of intention of our own country. The pacifist desires to see us weak, believing that this weakness will guarantee peace. The naval officer believes in seeing us strong, believing that strength is the best guardian of peace, and that since in international affairs we must trust some one, we can trust best our own government."

This is not only the viewpoint of the navy. It is that of the American people when they are constrained by events to act. In peace times our peaceful preoccupations and inherent optimism lead us to neglect the duty of preparedness for defense. We are neglecting it now. But it is reassuring to know that Mr. Hoover does not shirk the duty and has the candor to place it clearly before the American people.

If we are to take Gov. Smith's acceptance speech as evidence of his spirit, viewpoint and intentions in this field, he will show no interest in an efficient defense, any more than Wilson did until he was plunged into war. Gov. Smith might with justice have criticized the Republican administration for neglecting the national defense, but he has no complaint on that score and no word for its correction. His criticism is that "in 1921 there was negotiated a treaty for the limitation of the construction of battleships and battle cruisers of over ten thousand tons," that this was approved without party dispute to relieving the "toiling masses," but that "for seven years the Republican administration has followed it with nothing effective. No limitation has been put upon land armaments, submarines, vessels of war of under ten thousand tons displacement, poisonous gas or any other machinery devised by man for the destruction of human life. In this respect our diplomacy has been futile."

We give Gov. Smith credit for a keen sense of humor and he must have read this out at Albany with his tongue in his cheek. If it were taken seriously it would mean that Gov. Smith has no more sense of the realities of international relations than the proponents of the Ford peace ship. It is in fact what Gov. Smith has called boloney, but it has a very serious aspect, nevertheless, for it is evidence of Gov. Smith's lack of thought, of candor, of responsibility as to one of the gravest and most difficult duties imposed upon a President of the United States.

AIMEE ABROAD.

Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson in Paris regretted that she hadn't the gift of tongues to reach the French people. Aimee can talk. She is a living flame of eloquence, but she can't talk French, and, although she liked the idea of giving the Parisians a revival, there was the difficulty of not knowing exactly how to get the word to them. An interpreter would delay or dilute it and Aimee does not care to rely entirely on her bounding physical vitality to make things clear.

Even if she had pure and fluent French it may be doubted that she would have anything she would regard as a success with the French. They have enthusiasm, and Aimee might give them a new one, but they do not understand the evangelical thrills of revivalism. Temperamentally they would have some difficulty in bringing themselves into accord with it.

In Los Angeles Aimee has proved that she can make it take hold. Los Angeles is the ripest city in the United States in that respect, but Billy Sunday has proved that nearly any American city will respond to high pressure evangelism with a vigorous circus personality. The American strain which Aimee can work with and exalt is English. In England Aimee will have a hundred chances to one in France and the more discreet Englishmen fear that on her visit there she may seize the opportunity to stand some of them on their heads.

Nearly all the more energetic types of nonconformity which have produced evangelistic enthusiasms or eccentricity in the United States have been derived from England. They were peculiarly successful on the American frontier and in the days of the hard drinking of hard liquor. Hard living men and hard working women would be deeply moved by rough and passionate exhortation of missionaries stirring them to great excitement. They could be brought into a great state of emotional disarray, and survivals of the frontier, such as in the mountains, where the old stock remains virtually undiluted, preserve much of the evangelistic vitality.

Aimee probably would find the French curious but unmoved. They mix their wine with water and do not have the emotional temperament for making themselves violently conscious of sin under the stimulus of a magnetic exhorter. On the trail of the Salvation Army in London or in other English cities Aimee might instantly sense that she had just as good a chance as in Los Angeles. She might have no luck at all with the beer drinking Germans or anywhere in Europe except possibly in Russia if she could talk Russian, penetrate to the dark Russian soul and escape the consequent activities of the anti-religious commissars. Her best chance for anything like a harvest in Europe will be in England, and as to France, if she could be persuaded that all of France is not in her favorite tourist sections of Paris, she might find that French morality and standards of disciplined and decorous living are quite as high as similar standards in southern California.

THE MICHIGAN LIFER.

The state of Michigan will soon file its brief in the test of the habitual criminal act in the state Supreme court, the question being the constitutionality of the law under which Fred Palm was sentenced for life. His fourth offense was the possession of a bottle of gin. In Michigan law a violation of the liquor law is a felony and under the habitual criminal act of the state the fourth conviction on a felony charge must be followed by a sentence to the penitentiary for life.

Since Palm was put in prison there has been another such sentence under the law and there are said to be still other cases which will be affected by the test of the law. Defenders of the act are not impressed by its excessive severity. That in itself is symptomatic. It is said that the victim has not been a desirable citizen. It is hardly probable that the most reputable citizens of the state would be caught in violation of the liquor laws or of any other laws. Reputable citizens of Michigan do violate the prohibition laws, but it is improbable that any such citizens will be convicted on one charge, much less four. Palm was not a vicious or desperate character if not a model citizen He may have been a good deal of a saphead, but his negligibility or even his worthlessness is not the issue.

Michigan has an inhuman law. The courts may find that it is within the power of a legislature to pass it, but the people of the state who support it reveal themselves as vindictive. They do not have this savage impulse in other prosecutions. They want adequate laws justly administered. They want fitting punishments, not savage ones. It is only when prohibition misdemeanors are involved that there is any public sentiment for brutality in handling the offender. Michigan has the death penalty only for treason. Palm has been given a punishment which would be given a murderer.

This is an unbalance of the mind. It reveals a disordered state overturned by zealotry. Palm's predicament is not so alarming as is the mental state which his punishment discloses. Such a law is alarming for what it discovers in the lawmaking authority and in the sentiment of the people who support it. This is a glimpse of the dark ages.

AMERICANIZATION.

[Liverpool Post.]

One must grant that America has imparted an element of her own to things which are common to her and to England and Europe in general. She is the country of vast distances and wide spaces. Her people naturally think in expansive terms. Moreover, they are, most of them, isolated from the direct impact of the ancient culture of Europe, with its thousand and one social and industrial conventions. Thus they are beginning to evolve a culture and social and industrial habits of their own, and the stimulating climate in which a large portion of them live fills them with a consuming energy for work. Accordingly, genuine "Americanization" might, perhaps, be defined as bigness and enthusiasm in industrial and commercial operations. If the skyscraper, for instance, was familiar to the Rome of the Caesars and even more so to medieval Edinburgh, none the less America has improved upon the idea of erecting houses in tiers one above the other by simply applying it on a scale which neither the Romans nor the citizens of old Edinburgh ever attempted, or possibly ever imagined. The "note," then, of "Americanization" might be described as the huge, the titanic, the time-defying, though unquestionably we should not overlook the American genius for devising "gadgets" for saving human labor.

SUBNORMAL CHILDREN AND DUCTLESS GLANDS.

How much are mentally subnormal children benefited by the use of ductless glands? That is a question on which physicians find it difficult to agree. If the feeble-mindedness is not associated with fairly definite disorder of some one or more ductless glands, there would seem to be no reason for expecting improvement to follow the use of any preparation of any ductless gland.

Miss Edna J. Fox undertook to discover what was the effect of ductless gland therapy on the mentality of 182 mentally retarded children in whom there was some ductless gland abnormality. These children were under the care of St. Vincent's.

Most of the cases were diagnosed as having too little thyroid. A few were definitely cretins. The next largest group had pluriglandular trouble. There was associated abnormality in the thyroid, the pituitary, and the gonads. The third largest group had too little pituitary. There were small groups with too much thyroid, too much pituitary, and a mixture of pituitary and thyroid deficiency.

The children in each group were given ductless gland remedies appropriate to the diagnosed ductless gland disorders.

Miss Fox's problem was to rate the intelligence of these children both before and after treatment to discover whether their intelligence levels had been raised or lowered. One conclusion she came to was that if such remedies were to be used on such children for the purpose of improving their mentality, it should be done in early childhood. Used late in childhood, the mental benefits were greatly lessened.

She came to the conclusion that this line of treatment was of most benefit in the children with pluriglandular troubles—mixtures of thyroid, pituitary and gonad disorders. There was considerable mental improvement in the group where there was too much pituitary. In the cases where there was too much thyroid and in those where there was too little pituitary there was almost no benefit. In fact, some cases seem to lose some of their mental qualities.

In this connection it is recalled that two medical writers think that the use of ductless gland preparations benefits Mongolian idiots. Many disagree with them.

BREAKING BABY OF BOTTLE

Mrs. A. E. H. writes: My baby, who is just 2, will not begin nor end the day without his bottle, nor will he drink his milk any other way.

I have heard it is harmful to let a child nurse from the bottle after 14 months of age. Is this true? In what way does it affect the child? Should it be stopped?

REPLY.

This is a matter of training. Since he must stop eventually, why not now?

I suggest that you go to bat with him. You will win, though both of you may have a few unhappy days.

You should have fought this battle a year ago last spring.

You would have won easily then.

SMOKING AND THE ATHLETE.

F. B. writes: 1. I am 15 years of age and am in training to run the mile on my school track team. Will the smoking of 4 or 5 cigarets a week injure my wind?

2. Will this stunt my growth? I do not inhale.

REPLY:

1. Some trainers permit the use of tobacco. More do not. My suggestion is that you do not smoke.

2. No.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Letters to this department must be signed with names and addresses of writers.

APPLYING FOR CITIZENSHIP.

Calumet City, Ill., Oct. 2.—[Friend of the People.]—1. Where do I apply for what are commonly known as "first papers" of citizenship?

2. Do I need birth certificate or other papers?

3. Do I need witnesses and what is required of them?

4. Is there a fee? C. Q.

1. An application to file a declaration of intention [first paper] may be had at room 776, Post Office building, Chicago.
2. A birth certificate is not required.
3. Witnesses are not required.
4. The clerk's fee for filing the declaration is $1. FRED. J. SCHLOTFELDT, District Director of Naturalization.

IN CASE OF FORECLOSURE.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A friend is greatly worried, her parents having signed many papers and agreements, and now summons has been served giving a certain length of time before foreclosure.

1. Can household furnishings be taken?
2. Can children's playthings be taken?
3. Can a child which is of age of these parents save the things which are hers?
4. Can they take the things from her room?
5. Can pieces of furniture which have been purchased in the parents' name, but which the girl has paid for, be taken? U. B.

1 and 2. Yes, if they are expressly covered by the mortgage. Otherwise the only way that they could be reached would be by levy under a deficiency decree or after a judgment on the note. In the latter cases, there would be a $400 exemption.

3 and 4. Yes.

5. The facts that the goods were purchased in the parents' name would seem to indicate an intention to give them to the parents, in which case they would be like other goods, belonging to the parents.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

YOUTHFUL MARRIAGES.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Is there any state in the Union in which a girl of seventeen can legally marry without the consent of her guardian? 2. Could a girl of seventeen be legally married at sea without guardian's consent by a ship's captain (taking it for granted that a ship's captain has a legal right to marry persons)? T. F. J.

1. Yes. Connecticut, West Virginia, Rhode Island, and Minnesota.
2. Depends on the nature of his "legal right" which you are taking for granted.

DANCER.
(TO A. E.)

You rose limb-lovely in the trembling air, a sudden radiance in the bluedark night.
And in my heart you wakened old delight in pulsing beauty, luminously rare.
Your thighs' pure etching on the black of trees, your swaying arms in silver filigree revealed ecstatic mystery to me—that visions may extinguish reveries.

Let every wisdom I encircle now melt into rhythmic flow of limb on limb.
Let no profoundness atrophy or mar
the fragile-vibrant gesture of a star.
Rather let febrile minds with eye grow dim before I forfeit beauty's virgin vow.

DAVIDA.

THREE ROUSING CHEERS! They're going to put Al in Soldiers' Field instead of the Coliseum. That's a grand idea. Putting Al into the Coliseum would be like putting Ringling Brothers' Sacred Blood-Sweating Behemoth of the River Nile into a bird cage. There'll be a chance for one hundred and forty thousand or so to hear Al in Soldiers' Field. That means lots of work for you, Mr. O'Brien. And so many people will want front row seats. Of course, personally, we'd just as lief be in the second row or on the platform. How are you, Mr. O'Brien? Wonderful weather we're having for this time of year, Mr. O'Brien!

WE HAVE ENLARGED the scope of the BALLOT we are now taking for the PRESIDENCY. Instead of a HAY-STRAW ballot, it will be a HAY, STRAW, and CORN ballot. If you wish to be COUNTED as voting for AL you will send in a STRAW vote. If you are going to vote for MR. HOOVER you will send in some HAY. If you wish to vote for that GRAND old man, the champion of the com-mun pee-pul, COL. ETAOIN SHRDLU, you will send in CORN. All STRAW, HAY, and CORN sent in will be carefully COUNTED and TABULATED, and within a week we EXPECT to give an EXACT forecast of how the COUNTRY will vote on Nov. 6. Why, Venus, How You've Changed!

RHL: I read in a movie column the other day where Mama Talmadge had written the editor: "We have been spending a week in Paris buying clothes for Connie's next picture, 'Venus.'" Evidently, Dick, our old friend Venus is going to wear more clothes in the movies than she did in Mythology. And if it's to be a talkie, they'll probably have Venus sing a little number entitled, "I May Be a One Armed Mama, but I Know My Left Hand Turns." There's simply no stopping these cinema wizards, is there?

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 8, 1863.

LEAVENWORTH.—Information as to a change in the Department of the Missouri and the creation of a separate military district out of Kansas has been verified by news from Washington. Kansas is now a separate department. The command was tendered to Gens. Hunter and Curtin, both of whom refused. It has been offered to Gen. McNeil and he will probably accept.

SPRINGFIELD.—Gov. Yates has been granted permission by the war department to organize a colored regiment in this state, to be called the 1st Illinois colored volunteers if wishing to organize as an Illinois regiment, or the 13th U. S. volunteers if wishing a national organization.

MILWAUKEE.—A letter from Gen. Starkweather of Rosecrans' army gives the number of killed in his brigade as 63, the wounded 292 and the missing 252. Out of 1,458 men that went into the fight, 597 were killed, wounded or are missing.

LOUISVILLE.—A Chattanooga dispatch reports that Gen. Whittaker received a severe flesh wound in the engagement of the 20th, but still commands his brigade. His loss is heavy, being about 950 killed, wounded and missing. All of his staff except one were killed or wounded.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 8, 1898.

WALKER, Minn.—Gen. Bacon and the 59 fighting men who were left in his command after the battle of the 5th returned to Walker. Gen. Bacon said he was satisfied the Indians were whipped and knew it, too. The Indians have been holding a pow-wow at the agency, discussing the surrender of the other twenty witnesses wanted by United States Marshal O'Connor to testify in illicit liquor selling cases. The hostile Pillagers are still out, however, and their friends say they may refuse to be surrendered.

CANTON, O.—George D. Saxton, brother of Mrs. McKinley, the President's wife, was shot to death here this evening, and Mrs. Anna C. George, whose alleged relations to Saxton have figured in a number of cases in court in recent years, has been placed under arrest on suspicion. The murder occurred in front of the home of Mrs. Eva B. Althouse, widow, who was known as a friend of Saxton. Saxton was shot three times.

JACKSON, Miss.—Gov. A. J. McLaurin of Mississippi is now a fugitive from yellow fever in the heart of the great pine section. Having voluntarily abandoned his office, and being turned out of his native town, he is now a wandering refugee. No state business can be transacted and the stricken people of Mississippi look in vain for their leader. Every day some new town is infected. The list now numbers 13 counties and 17 towns.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 8, 1918.

WASHINGTON.—President Wilson will reject the Teutonic plea for a compromise peace, and he will do so as the spokesman not only of the United States but of all the nations fighting the central powers. As a result of exchanges of opinion between the President and the heads of the allied governments now in progress, Germany will be informed, it is believed, that peace can be obtained only by unconditional surrender and that an armistice can be granted only on the basis of the evacuation of Belgium, France, and all other invaded territory.

LONDON.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg has resigned as chief of the German general staff after a heated interview with the emperor, in which the field marshal declared that a retreat on a large scale was impossible to avoid, according to a Central News dispatch from Amsterdam.

BERLIN.—The Americans this evening began an attack against the Germans between the Argonne forest and the Meuse, according to the German official communication issued tonight.

PARIS.—The German retreat from the Champagne region continues, with the Franco-American troops in close pursuit. The Suippe and the Arnes rivers have been passed by the allies at several points and the indications are that the Germans will be forced to retire as far as the Retourne river before they can make a stand.

OUR DEBT TO MR. TUNNEY.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—"Sour grapes." That's all I can say about your attitude toward Mr. Joseph Tunney and his seclusion from your staff's nobility in Italy.

So he owes it to the newspapers, does he? All that fortune, heiress, heavyweight crown, etc.? "Sour grapes" some more and "fie" to boot.

It seems to me, in view of the fact that Mr. Tunney's adventures have sold a lot of papers and have furnished your readers with a few thousand lines of thrilling news, that the newspapers are far more indebted to Gene than he is to them. In view of which fact they might have been good sports enough to let the fellow have his own wedding party confined to the friends he wanted there, without being subjected to critical editorials regarding his "not appreciating what they've done for him." Why forget that it was his being socked on the nose that made your paper interesting, not your great ability to win him friends. I suppose you made him a "popular champion" with all your great influence?
NOTTA FITEFAN.

THE DAYS ARE DRAWING IN.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—It will not be long now until we have "Injun Summer" with us, and I sincerely hope that you are going to publish again the famous picture that has appeared in THE TRIBUNE every year since it was first published. If it could possibly be done, what a fine thing it would be to see it printed in the natural autumn colors!
D. C. SLEEPER.

BRIDLE PATH PAGEANTS.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Every man in the republic of ancient Venice worked for the glory and wealth of his own city, not for personal aggrandizement and riches. In that day Venice, culturally, was the greatest city in Italy and noted for its supremacy in commerce, art, and literature.

Emulating that Venetian ideal, it is fitting and proper that the citizens work for and suggest from time to time those things that will improve, beautify, or add to the luster and renown of their own city.

On this head, may I be permitted to suggest that Chicago make greater use of the beautiful bridle paths that meander miles and miles through our parks and beside some of the boulevards.

Why not put on two or more bridle path pageants each year; stylish affairs, free from any suggestion of the rodeoesque? Let the equestrians and the equestriennes compete for prizes; riding over the whole course, not confining the pageantry to certain sectors. Then people in all parts of the city can see the pageants without going far, and it will be a great inspiration to the children and young people as well as the older folk. After such a show every boy's desire will be to ride a horse and every girl will want to own a pony.

Besides the prizes of horse millinery, blue ribbons, cloth of gold, ornamental sashes, boots, hats, and riding habits—to add spice such numbers as Paul Revere's ride, Sheridan's ride, Tam o' Shanter's ride, Ride of the Headless Horseman, Little Red Riding Hood (let's see, did she ride or walk? Well, no matter; we could stage the number anyway. Ask Harvey Woodruff whether Little Red Riding Hood rode or walked). And other interesting numbers would lend spice to the seasonal occasions of bridal path pageants.
WILLIAM C. WALKER.

THE NAVY MEMORIAL.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—The correspondent who signed himself Bert L. Perry and criticized the plans of the Naval Memorial association seems to be seriously misinformed.

The scheme for the naval memorial has not been changed a dozen times, as Mr. Perry says, nor has it been changed one time. Neither is it to be a statue, as he says, but it is to be a memorial tower, some 40 feet in height and about 35 feet square at the base, ornamented by statues emblematic of the enlisted personnel of the navy and marines. It has never been contemplated as a bridge pylon. The only change in location contemplated has been its placing adjacent to the new outer drive rather than west of the pier, upon which warehouses may be erected.

The time for submission of designs of these sketches has been extended at the request of a number of sculptors, and among the many very beautiful submissions now in our headquarters there is none which involved any great amount of time on the part of any of the competitors.
GEORGE C. ISBELL,
Captain, U. S. N. R., chairman.

THE PRICE OF A POSTER.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—The art critic of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE advocates that the prize award for the poster for the Chicago World's Fair be postponed because the poster designs submitted are so mediocre and weak. Ten to one she is right. Ten thousand dollars for first prize for a bathing beauty contest, but $1,500 is considered an enormous amount for first prize for a poster to advertise a project which will cost millions and which is expected to bring millions of dollars to this city. How can the committee expect men of ability to waste their time in a competition with the prospect of getting nothing for their work, or of taking a loss even if they win first prize?

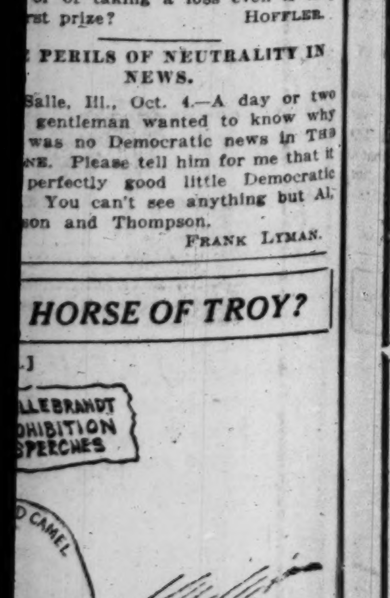
HORSE OF TROY?



STYLE—The New Fur Salon

Furs have always been one of the greatest elegancies of the mode. But time was when the beauty of the pelts surpassed any consideration of their style. Now, however, style in furs has become a question of momentous importance. Great designers employ all their art to create models which are smart enough, lovely enough, elegant enough to suit the furs themselves.

Our new Fur Salon, opened on the Sixth Floor this Fall, is a fitting background for the most beautiful and luxurious furs. Chic little coats for sports wear, smart day coats and lovely evening wraps are the creations of famous designers. Probably in no other place in the country is there a larger or finer collection of sables and silver and cross foxes. And our extensive fur workrooms make possible a custom service which we believe is unequaled in Chicago.

FURS
For Daytime

Of classic beauty is this sable wrap and one of an unusually handsome collection. The skins are worked like some exquisite fabric in straight vertical lines. A bracelet of jade and pearls, a hat of soleil in fur-matching shades, a strap slipper of kid and antelope and a copy of Patou's latest pouch, also of antelope, carry out the rich tones of the wrap.

AL SMITH IDLES AS LEADERS BEG FOR SPEECHES

Observers Say He Plans Whirlwind Finish.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—"What's the governor's idea?"

The question is on the lips of the dozens of newspaper and political observers on the Albany scene.

Twenty-seven days remain for Al Smith to win the presidency of the United States, if aggressive campaigning can win it. He intends to make the last of his campaign speeches in New York City Saturday night, Nov. 3. That ciphers out at 27 days.

And yet Al Smith is serene. By comparison with him the phlegmatic John Davis was a hysteric when the closing days of his inglorious campaign drew near four years ago. By comparison with him, the morose James M. Cox was a vivid go-getter when oblivion was stalking him eight years ago.

Enjoys Roast Beef Dinner.

On Sundays, as today, Al placidly goes to mass in the brown stone cathedral, placidly plays golf, and placidly has the family around him for a roast beef dinner. On weekdays he intensively looks after the state's business.

On Wednesday he serenely tore up an elaborate campaign itinerary which the Democratic committee had prepared for him, saying he wanted an itinerary that would leave him time to think.

Later in the week he said:

"Only 30 days more and only eight or ten more speeches. American voters don't like to be talked to death."

It cannot be lethargy that is holding the nominee back. He looks in the pink of physical condition, and his voice is resonant. Mentally he is prime. Never since I have been reporting him has his conversation been more instructive or more entertaining.

And the weather tempts to touring. From Boston, where I was yesterday, to Albany, golden autumn weather broods over the Berkshires and the Catskills, and in classic Concord I heard old line Republicans saying. "We are voting for Hoover, of course, but wouldn't be surprised to see Smith carry Massachusetts."

When Concord talks that way, you may be sure that Concord and the old Bay State generally have again worked themselves into a revolutionary state of mind.

Meanwhile Al idles. Meanwhile requests for speeches by him are pouring in from party wheelhorses of the Atlantic seaboard, in the middle west, and in the border states.

Indiana wants him. So sagacious a man as Meredith Nicholson telegraphed Smith a few days ago that his western speeches had cheered the hearts of Indiana Democrats "like waving banners," and wouldn't he come into the state?

Judge Floyd Thompson, Democratic nominee for governor of Illinois, wants him to make one speech in southern Illinois and has given him specific reasons for the strategy in the request. But not one Illinois date has been positively set.

But none of the enthusiasts or the strategists inflames Al to action. And yet he is the best campaigner since Bryan. Hence the moans of "What's the governor's idea?" and "What's the matter with Al?"

The answer of some who think they know his mind is that he is a fatalist. The answer of some is that he plans a sortie finish to the campaign, an old time dash over the breastworks with flags flying, bands playing and all the artillery firing.

Departure on Thursday for Chattanooga is expected. On Friday he will make "an appearance" but no speech in that city. What that will win him remains enigmatical. On Saturday night, Oct. 13, he will speak in Louisville, Ky., "probably" on the tariff, telling the people that he favors the principle of the Underwood tariff only insofar as it provides for the scientific determination of schedules by a reorganized commission.

RASKOB DEFIES WORK TO PROVE AL CALLED UNDERWOOD BILL IDEAL

New York, Oct. 7.—(AP)—In a letter sent today to Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican national committee, John J. Raskob said he would resign as chairman of the Democratic national committee and vote for Herbert Hoover if Dr. Work could prove that Gov. Smith, at any time since he received the Democratic presidential nomination and accepted the Democratic platform, "has stated that the Underwood tariff embodies the ideal method of handling tariff legislation."

Mr. Raskob's letter was prompted by a newspaper clipping of Sept. 28 quoting Dr. Work as saying: "The aspect of the campaign that would be most humorous, if it did not threaten so much harm to the American farmer and worker, is the effort of Chairman Raskob to convince the country that the Democratic nominee for President didn't mean what he said when he declared that the Underwood tariff act embodied the ideal method of handling tariff legislation."

Mr. Raskob reminded Dr. Work that Gov. Smith, indorsing the Democratic platform declaration on tariff legislation, had said: "The Democratic party does not, and under my leadership will not, advocate any sudden or drastic revolution in our economic system which would cause business upheaval and popular distress."

SIX BANDITS STAGE ROBBERY.

Six armed men entered the saloon of Timothy Hogan, 6614 South State street, yesterday and after threatening the owner and five customers left with $80, a diamond ring, a radio set, and Hogan's cash register.

Aimee Opens London Meet as "Everybody's Sister"

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Nearly 10,000 Britishers gathered in Albert hall tonight for the opening session of Aimee Semple McPherson's revival meeting. She had been billed as "Everybody's Sister." An expected demonstration against the Los Angeles evangelist failed to materialize.

HAIRPIECES add the touch the New Fall MODES Require

The Panorama of Style changes; the "flapper" gives way to the young "modern." The bobbed head—youthful and charming—takes on a knowing air and adds a bit of a hairpiece to cover growing ends—particularly for evening wear.

There is L'ADORIA—Two small strands of hair which can be draped in any number of attractive ways—$5.00 and LA CHARMION—A petite "bun" just big enough to cover the ends —$3.50 or L'ENCHANTE—A chic cluster which snaps on easily and hides those annoying ends completely—$5.00 again, for those who require a larger piece—natural parted TRANSFORMATIONS—$27.50 and up.

THE POWDER BOX—SIXTH FLOOR

Have you moved to a new home? Are you tired of looking at the old floor coverings? Then why not—

Oriental Rugs

Nothing in the realm of floor coverings possesses the beautifying and enriching qualities of good Oriental Rugs. They lend to a room an atmosphere of distinction that cannot be achieved in any other way—regardless of the kind or style of furniture and furnishings used.

The cost need not deter you, because the prices quoted on our own direct importations are surprisingly reasonable. You see, the profits of unnecessary middlemen and needless extra handling costs have been eliminated. The substantial saving goes to our customers.

Then there is, of course, the additional advantage of making selections from an exceptionally large and comprehensive collection of modern, semi-antique and antique Oriental Rugs (including Chinese). We take pride in the fact that there is no finer collection in America.

WHY there will be No More "Excess Allowances" by GENERAL MOTORS TRUCKS

PLEDGED TO BETTER DELIVERY for 1 SAFER STREETS
2 LESS TRAFFIC CONGESTION
3 MORE ECONOMICAL DELIVERY

THIS publicly announces action to end an evil that has menaced the whole truck industry. An evil that has definitely worked to the harm of all who use or make trucks. The evil of "excess allowances."

Effective now, in the 42 branches of this Company, no more "excess allowances" will be made on used trucks traded in on General Motors trucks.

By "excess allowances" we mean allowances above the actual market re-sale value of the used equipment, as set by fair appraisal.

Some truck buyers will not agree with us that this is a sound and beneficial move. They will—mistakenly, we believe—feel that it deprives them of a benefit. But thoughtful truck buyers already agree, and even now make their truck investments on this basis. Both classes will very surely benefit, in the end.

How our competition will take this move we do not know; and, in fact, it is immaterial. Many good and honorable competitors will unquestionably approve, and follow this move for the good of our industry. Others may not.

The vicious results of "Excess Allowances"

Money, "given" to truck buyers in excessive allowances on trade-ins, has to come from some pocket or pockets.

It should go, we think, into betterments that would make trucks more efficient; into engineering study and research work that would still further advance and modernize all truck-transport. It should be applied in every possible improvement of methods and materials that would, finally, reduce all costs of commercial transportation-by-truck.

But, if "given" in unwise, unsound "allowances" it cannot go to these ends that would benefit all who use trucks—and, indirectly but finally, everyone.

Over-eagerness in selling started the practice. Competition forced others to fall in line.

Many truck buyers formed the custom of considering their investments in haulage equipment as a modern sort of horse-trading. Sharpest traders, with plenty of time for haggling, got the most for their old trucks. Trying to be shrewd sellers, they failed to be truly shrewd buyers.

If ever a circle of vicious cause-and-effect menaced an industry, this one menaced the truck industry. And this is a basic industry which, increasingly, affects all industry.

Action now replaces the words with which, for years, our industry has dealt with this problem.

We count it a privilege to take the lead—a duty and a privilege in this way to use our advantages which make the action possible. With every resource and facility at our command pledged to Better Delivery—to better commercial transportation—we are glad of this chance to put a punch back of the pledge.

Extra value, instead

In building General Motors Trucks we have always tried honestly to give extra value—rather than to anticipate "excess allowances." Our complete line of modern trucks squarely represents this policy; today more than ever before. We count ourselves fortunate in this, because it enables us again to pioneer something that is for the good of our industry.

Applause is not asked or wanted. These are the facts as we see them. For them we desire only clear understanding, and serious thinking.

AUSTRIA'S 'CIVIL WAR' TURNS INTO TWO BIG PICNICS

Hot Words and Prayers but Not One Shot.

WIENER NEUSTADT, Austria, Oct. 7—(AP)—The huge rival meetings of the Social Democrats and Home Defense leaguers today passed without disorder under the vigilant guard of thousands of armed soldiers. Sixty communists who staged a demonstration here were arrested and double that number were taken in custody at Pottendorf.

Due perhaps to the awesome presence of the troops, not a shot disturbed the Sabbath quiet of this home of Austria's former kings. The two belligerent political organizations, although secretly well armed, contented themselves with verbal broadsides.

Simultaneous gathering of the Social Democrats, who control the city of Vienna and the Heimwehr, or home defense league of Christian socialists who control the federal government presented a strange blending of a hilarious picnic and a gigantic military maneuver wholly unedifying to a foreigner. "Such a ludicrous affair," said one prominent American tourist, "could occur only among guileless Austrians."

The Home Defense leaguers, in dinky coats of olive green, juvenile knickerbockers and green bonnets from which a large Tyrolese feather protruded, contributed to the affair, a circuslike aspect. Although the marchers carried pickaxes, shovels and long metal lances, the marchers forgot armed conflict and they bent their bare knees to the cold, damp earth during a military mass.

While the main show produced no fireworks, several sideshows were more productive. The Social Democrats were dispersing after their meeting when a group of sixty communists led by Victor Stern, Moravian member of the Czecho-Slovak parliament, deluged the streets with inflammatory circulars calling on the Socialists to slaughter the Home Defense leaguers and to use violence against the national government.

They were quickly subdued and arrested by gendarmes. Among them was the communist editor Slamsky of the Brunn Tageblatt, and Franz Lauscher, a leading Austria communist.

Plans of Reds Frustrated.

The extraordinary precautions taken by the army and police are believed to have frustrated the plans of communists, of whom there are about 3,000 in Austria. At Pottendorf last night 131 were arrested while discussing subversive plans. They were cooped up in freight cars for transportation to Vienna. While enroute to the capital one of them pulled the emergency bell cord of the locomotive which brought the train to a sudden halt This was a signal for the communists to make a dash for liberty. The majority were recaptured.

In Upper Eggendorf and Burgenland the police headed off contingents of communists who were marching in solid formation toward Wiener Neustadt.

3,000 Soldiers Watch Factions.

In this city the 22,000 Heimwehr followers who had been listening for several hours to the oratory and invective of their leaders ended their meeting precisely as scheduled at noon and marched quietly off to make room for 45,000 Socialists who met in the same great public square hung with flaming red bunting.

A cordon of 3,000 armed soldiers with barricades of barbed wire kept the wordy belligerents safely apart. On a plateau overlooking the town the army had constructed a veritable Gibraltar with howitzers trained on the public square where the meetings were held. The town itself, which is only an hour's journey from Vienna, was alive with machine guns, mortars, bayonets and rifles held by vigilant soldiers.

Two hundred white robed Red Cross nurses and doctors equipped with first aid materials were posted at strategic points. Fleets of motor ambulances manned by stretcher bearers also contributed in making the scene more warlike than Austrians had seen since the country faced the allied armies a decade ago.

Costs State $500,000.

Those of the inhabitants who remained in the city took up vantage points on the roofs or at windows to watch the colorful processions.

While criticism continues of the government policy of permitting these gatherings, in which it cost the state $500,000 to maintain peace and order, Chancellor Seipel defends it all by saying that the right of unrestricted political assembly in Austria must not be abridged.

255 MILLIONS SPENT IN TRYING TO DRY UP U. S.

More than Total to Enforce All Other Laws.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—Figures compiled by house appropriations committee experts in anticipation of next month's consideration of various departmental estimates, indicate that over 255 millions of dollars have already been spent by the federal government in an attempt to enforce prohibition. Upward of $38,000,000 more will be required during the next fiscal year, it was shown.

The experts' figures disclose that more money has been spent annually to enforce the Volstead law than has been spent to enforce all of the other 10,000 laws on the federal statute books. At least one-third of the total spent by the department of justice, according to the tabulation, has gone for liquor law prosecutions, court costs for liquor trials, and the care of thousands of prohibition violators in jails and prisons.

How Total Was Arrived At.

Computing the cost of prohibition enforcement since 1920, the experts arrived at the staggering total of $255,370,869 as follows:

Prohibition unit	$96,713,760
Coast guard	82,499,888
Department of justice	69,857,221
Customs service	5,300,000
Miscellaneous [printing]	1,000,000

By way of graphic comparison, the tabulation shows that the $37,594,070 which will be spent by the various federal agencies charged with phases of prohibition enforcement is more than twice as much as was appropriated this year for the state department. It is more than three times as much as was allowed the labor department, and only slightly less than the amount appropriated for the commerce department, with its numerous and important activities here and abroad.

Exceeds Total of 16 Boards.

In addition, it is shown that the amount being spent for prohibition enforcement during the present fiscal year exceeds, for instance, the total expenditures of sixteen of the most important boards and commissions in the federal establishement. These include the shipping board with its fleets of vessels, the interstate commerce commission, the general accounting office of the government, the federal trade commission, the federal radio commission, and others as follows:

U. S. shipping board	$13,568,511
Interstate commerce commission	7,654,745
Employés' compensation com'sion	3,675,000
General accounting office	3,820,000
Federal civil serv. commission	1,098,752
Public buildings and parks of the capital	2,584,980
Smithsonian institution	944,182
Federal trade commission	963,000
Federal tariff commission	754,000
Board of tax appeals	720,740
Executive of. [White House], etc.	437,180
Board of mediation	347,902
Housing corporation	475,750
Bureau of efficiency	210,350
Federal power commission	112,640
Federal radio commission	80,560
	$37,568,511

Controversies in the house appropriations committee, and later on the house floor when the various supply bills come up for passage, are almost certain to be provoked by wet members, who plan to use the figures in contrasting the huge amounts expended for prohibition enforcement with the results achieved.

BISHOP MANNING, ONCE SKEPTIC ON DRY LAW, CONVINCED IT'S A BOON

New York, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The Rt. Rev. William T. Manning, Protestant Episcopal bishop of New York, said in a sermon today that although he did not vote for prohibition, and for some time doubted the advisability of the law, he was now convinced it was "bringing much benefit to our people as a whole," and would "bring much more in the course of time."

Preaching at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, on the text, "Say Nothing but the Truth," Bishop Manning said:

"I hold it right to speak upon this subject [prohibition] at this time because it is a great moral issue directly affecting the lives and homes of our people."

"Some great and serious evils have resulted from this law," he continued, "but these evils are often exaggerated by those who oppose the law, and most of the evils are due not to the law itself but to failure to observe and enforce it. What is now needed is not abandonment of the undertaking but more thorough and impartial investigation of the facts relating to it.

"The assertions that this law cannot be enforced come, most of them, from those who do not wish the law to be enforced."

Bishop Manning said he supported prohibition "because of the benefits it is bringing to the lives and homes of the plain people." and that he saw signs of "a change of feeling" in circles of society where opposition has been most pronounced.

PLAN TO HAVE SALTIS GIVE UP PROVES A FLOP

Joe Saltis, well known beer baron, was still at large yesterday upon the

140th day since he became a fugitive from Chicago police and federal marshals, despite a reported "dicker" for his surrender made by his brother, John Saltis.

John Saltis parleyed with United States Marshal Hans P. Fuley of Hayward, Wis., for the surrender of Joe after Fuley, with a posse, descended upon Joe's alleged stronghold in the great north woods near Hayward. But though Marshal Fuley sat hopefully at home all day yesterday awaiting the promised telephone call from John, no call came, and the fugitive Saltis, at last accounts, was miles away from Hayward and still going strong.

Chicago friends of the south side gangster-beer chief were a bit satirical when they heard Joe was contemplating surrender. "Why surrender?" they wanted to know. "The cops can't catch him anyway."

NEW YORK LINES SPEND MILLIONS FOR COMMUTERS

Service Bettered to Meet New Demands.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 7.—[Special.]—At last the commuter is getting a break in suburban New York. The passing of the wooden car virtually has been achieved and the complete electrification of the network of railroads leading into Manhattan is approaching.

But even so, the suburban traffic is increasing so rapidly that by the time additional facilities can be planned and made ready for us it will have increased almost 50 per cent more than the present traffic.

Figures obtained today from the suburban transit engineering board show the railroads are trying to meet the pressing traffic demands and are spending huge sums in the electrification and improvement of their roads.

The problem is recognized by the regional planners of New York and its environs and they are coöperating with the carriers.

Divided Into 3 Sectors.

Suburban New York is divided into three sectors—Long Island, Westchester and New Jersey. To the residents of these outlying districts rapid transit is just as necessary as it is to dwellers in the more crowded boroughs. These New York and New Jersey suburban areas compose about 1[illegible] square miles or twelve times as much as the City of New York, yet contain only a little more than half of the city's population.

Here in New York City 19,800 persons are packed into each square mile, but in the Jersey sector this figure is 1,117 and for the Long Island and Westchester suburban areas only 735. To meet the needs of these scattered communities ten railroads most concerned either have turned or are turning to electrification and the most modern equipment available.

The New York Central and its twelve branches are leaders in this move. The main line is electrified fifty miles up the Hudson and most of the branches in the suburban districts have done away with steam. The Long Island railway is electrified on all lines as far out as Jamaica, about fifteen miles from Manhattan. This gives it 50 per cent electrification.

Electrifies Jersey Lines.

The Manhattan and Hudson running through Jersey is 100 per cent electric and the Lackawanna railroad now is spending $14,000,000 to electrify two of its most important New Jersey branches.

Both property owners and the railroads are learning that population always follows transportation. The number of commuters increases 6 per cent per year according to figures compiled by the transit board. There now are 350,700 coming into Manhattan each morning from the Jersey sector [not including those from Jersey City, Hoboken and other cities just across the Hudson] and 76,500 from Westchester. Long Island, outside the reach of the subway, sends in 175,100 by train. Thousands of others from each of these sectors come in by automobiles, buses, and ferries.

During the maximum traffic hours all suburban terminals are being operated virtually at their full capacity. Jersey terminals have Erie trains at 1 minute and 18 seconds intervals; Lackawanna trains 1 minute and 53 seconds intervals and Central Railway of New Jersey trains every 1 minute and 46 seconds.

Nine Million by 1965.

The last available figures on the annual railroad passenger traffic to and from terminals in the New York metropolitan district show that 384,495,762 passengers are using the carriers. Using these figures as a basis, the regional planners have forecast a daily passenger burden of 9,000,000 persons entering New York by rail in 1965.

In urging complete electrification of all suburban lines the suburban transit board points to the smoke nuisance which comes from steam operation.

"This nuisance," reads a report, "is particularly evident on the New Jersey lines, which pass through tunnels under Bergen hill. It has in many cases held back resident suburban development in the area served by such railroads. Furthermore, almost complete electrification of all lines is essential before a system of joint terminals serving New York City can be developed."

The electrification of 173 miles of track in Jersey by the Lackawanna will serve about 1,250,000 persons living in that territory. Committees from the sections to be served have represented they would be willing to pay increased commutation fares to obtain such improvements.

QUINCY AREA REPORTS EXCELLENT SEED CORN; NUTS ARE PLENTIFUL

Quincy, Ill., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—Seed corn gathered this fall in this section of Illinois and in northeastern Missouri and southeastern Iowa is reported to be of the best quality and more plentiful than for many years. This is due to the excellent quality and the large yield of the corn crop this year.

There are more nuts this year than in the last ten years. Walnuts, hickory nuts, both the large and the small shell barks, hazel nuts, and pecans are in abundance. Fall wheat is looking exceptionally good. No one has started cribbing corn anywhere in this section of the three states.

NEW PARLIAMENT OF AFGHANISTAN VOTES BIG ARMY

Orders Special Tax to Buy French Guns.

BY H. BASIL.

[Copyright: 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.]

TEHERAN, Persia, Oct. 7.—The Afghan press, of quite recent birth, is lost in admiration for the doings of Amanullah Khan, king of Afghanistan, following his return from Europe. He is taking rapid steps toward the goal of modern civilization.

He has consolidated his country by doing away with the state council, the members of which were nominated by the king, and, in place of it, has summoned a parliament, named the Jorgeh, composed of 150 members, elected by the people. In its first sitting, when Queen Suraya also was present—quite a strange thing in a Mohammedan country—the Jorgeh made military service compulsory for all Afghan men from the ages of 17 to 70. All young Afghans of 17 will be enlisted and will serve for three years.

Not content with having 200 officers completing their studies in Russia, Germany, France and Italy, the amir has decided to send seventy more to London.

Opens 370 Schools.

The most important point in Amir Amanullah's program, however, is the attention he is paying to education. Afghanistan now boasts 370 elementary schools, with 510,000 students, costing the state $3,000,000 per annum. For a small country like Afghanistan which was, less than a century ago, a Persian province, this budget for public instruction looks rather high, but it appears legitimate.

In his opening speech to the new parliament, the amir laid particular stress on the country's need for the most modern arms of warfare. He favored a well stored arsenal, for if a war broke out, he said, it would be almost impossible to procure the needed arms and ammunition. He asked the jorgeh to sanction the purchase from france of 50,000 rifles and 50,000,000 cartridges.

The jorgeh sanctioned his demand, but in order not to touch the existing revenues, it passed a law making every Afghan above 15 years of age liable to a tax, for this purpose, of 5 afghans, the Afghan coin. The military and civil service men have to forego one month's salary.

After this law was passed, one of the members rose, and after a short speech on the good work the jorgeh had done that day, offered 100,000 Afghans for the purpose. He strongly advised every merchant to subscribe at least 25,000 afghans.

The amir has changed the Afghan flag. It was an ugly thing, a bit of black cloth, showing, the amir said, that Afghanistan was dependent upon foreign kings, meaning perhaps Persia, and then the emperor, or Raj of India. The new flag is of three colors, black to remind the people of the past, red to show that it was with spilling of blood that independence was secured, and green, as a sign of felicity and hope for a bright future.

The Afghan government also is negotiating with French and German companies to construct three railway lines. One is to go from the capital to the Indian frontier; one to the Persian, and another to the Russian frontier. Afghanistan is unfortunate in having no outlet to the ocean, but is seeking one to the Indian ocean through British Baluchistan.

Pending the construction of the railways, the existing caravan roads are being put into better order for automobile traffic.

IT MEANS SOMETHING, TO OWN A STEINWAY

Small Parlor Grand
$1900
A model for the home in which there is no space problem. This is the standard home size, and an instrument of amazing power and depth of tone.

The Ebonized Baby Grand
This instrument is small enough for the most limited space, yet it retains that breadth and beauty of tone which a true grand piano ought to have. A very popular model.

IT MEANS that at any moment you can delight your ears with the most beautiful piano tone in the world. It means that you have always at your call a friendly and sympathetic companion. And it means that you have instant access whenever you wish, to the lovely and enchanting world of music.

The Steinway is more than a piano—it is an institution. For three-quarters of a century it has been the choice of virtually every musician of note. It is preferred by music-lovers everywhere. No other instrument has ever enjoyed such universal recognition. No other instrument has ever earned it.

Yet the Steinway is not difficult to own. A 10% first payment puts it in your home at once—and the balance will be distributed over two years. And once there, it will serve you faithfully for 30, 40, or even 50 years and more. You need never buy another piano.

NO NEW ORLEANS RUM TRUST, BUT SHAKE IS THERE

BY MARCO POLO JR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New Orleans, La., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—America's oldest saloon, known as the "Old Absinthe House" in the old French quarter, is shuttered and cobwebbed at the age of 145 years. It's the symbol of a nonexistent dryness, for New Orleans is perhaps as wet as in the days when Gen. Andy Jackson licked the British more than a century ago.

The "Old Absinthe House" has an antiquarian value as a landmark of bygone customs and is prized here as a historic relic. That's about all. Even in pre-Volstead days it served punk drinks to the tourist trade. In later times it was a soft drink joint with moonshine behind the lemon soda, and Mabel's agents swooped down with a padlock. Since then the drys have used it as an advertisement to prove that prohibition prohibits.

Work Like Bond Salesmen.

But within a radius of two blocks the tourist finds a score and more of speakeasies, blind tigers and joints where colored alky is tossed off with a chaser of red wine at 15 cents a shudder. Corn "likker" is obtainable in cubbyhole places, with maybe a policeman propping up a lamp post fifty feet away with his face in the other direction.

Bootleggers are as busy as bond salesmen looking for prospects; and the tourist traffic is good pickings. The local drinkers go in for moon and home brew, and for local products in wine and corn, but the city is well endowed with imported stuff. Anything that Cuba has can be bought here.

The bootleg and speakeasy industry is not organized or syndicated as in New York and Chicago, but is on an individualistic basis. From rum runners to alky cookers and moon dispensers, they are independent operators. Of course the usual shake is there.

It's about as hard to get a drink in New Orleans as it is to buy a newspaper. But with all the wetness, the naive joyousness is lacking of the old days when the shaking of a drink was a rite.

A fortnight ago, Henry C. Ramos, internationally known as the originator of the Ramos gin fizz and famous here as the first importer of Bacardi rum, a saloonkeeper who never took a drink, died. In the old days he had the Stag saloon, across from the St. Charles hotel, which had as its first rule, a Ramos dictum that none must become jingled. Patrons used to stand up in line while a dozen white aproned experts shook them up.

Catered to Political Elite.

This traveler once saw a score of congressmen and eight governors of states, to say nothing of senators lined up at one time at that bar—it was on the expedition when President Taft headed the waterway demonstration down the Mississippi from St. Louis. When Ramos died the other day, the newspapers printed columns about him, dwelling on him as a "splendid citizen."

In a three column obituary sketch, the New Orleans States published to the world the famous fizz recipe, as given by Mr. Ramos a few weeks before, to Stephen Curtis West. Here it is:

"You want the formula for the original Ramos gin fizz? Well, all right.

"But it's easy to make this fizz. It's all in the knowing how. Now then, just take a bar glass, or better still, a lemonade glass, put in a tablespoon of sugar, three or four drops of orange flower water, then lemon and lime—I would say a third of a lemon and a quarter of lime, for the lime gives the drink its good flavor. Then you add the gin—a jiggerful of gin. What is a jigger? Why, a jigger is a stemmed sherry glass containing a little more than a fluid ounce. Then cap these ingredients with fine broken ice, and put the white of an egg on top and add two or three tablespoonfuls of rich milk or cream.

"Now then, pour this mixture into a good, airtight shaker, with the same glass on top, if that's the kind of shaker you have, and commence shaking. Just shake and shake and shake. Make the bottom hit the top and the top hit the bottom. O, say, two or three minutes—until the mixture has a creamy, fluffy, silvery consistency, with no bubbles showing, and then, my friend, why, you just quaff."

They'll probably mention it on his tombstone.

Home Complexion Peeler Beautifies Skin

It is simple to make your complexion beautiful and keep it so by the regular use of pure mercolized wax. Procure an ounce from your druggist and use as directed. It will quickly but gently peel off all the grimy, withered or blemished skin with such defects as freckles, pimples, blackheads and excessive oiliness. The new skin then revealed is smooth, fresh, firm and younger looking. Mercolized wax brings out the hidden beauty. To quickly remove wrinkles and other age lines, use as face lotion 1 ounce powdered saxolite and 1 half pint witch hazel.

Health Officers of 225 Cities Vote Against Overheated Homes

Survey by Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association makes startling revelations

Is your home heating plant a source of danger to the health of your family? Today this question looms up more seriously than ever before, because it is the almost unanimous opinion of the medical profession that overheating predisposes toward pneumonia and tuberculosis.

Consider the opinions stated above. These men are guardians of our public health—leaders in the modern movement to prevent illness and preserve life. Their opinions support actual experiments which prove that overheating by only two degrees causes 70% more colds. Ask the health officer of this city what he thinks about overheating.

Automatic Heat Control Prevents Overheating

The information from this survey was furnished to the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association by health officers in all parts of the country. It warns you to take immediate steps toward providing your heating plant with the only practical means of avoiding overheating: an automatic temperature regulator.

Investigate now. Let our representative show your entire family how the Minneapolis-Honeywell maintains a steady, even temperature without anyone ever touching dampers or drafts — how it saves fuel and provides warm rooms to dress in every morning through clock control. See our interesting "10-point Demonstration," which in 20 minutes' time gives you the complete story. It is presented in your own living room and the demonstrating outfit requires no connection with your heating plant. Our representative will call any day or evening and will also inspect your heating plant free. Phone today.

Gray Hair Gone!
Read How....

Yes, gray hair can be avoided—if you know Kolor-Bak, the clean, colorless liquid which brings color back to hair, whether blonde, auburn, brown or black. So gently and gradually that others can't detect the change, Kolor-Bak brings back a natural appearance without harming the finest hair or the most tender scalp. Wise men or women won't use any preparations which so often produce weird colors worse than gray; Kolor-Bak is a very different proposition! No worry over shade—the one bottle is right for all. No uncertainty—you needn't experiment on even one lock of hair; Kolor-Bak is sold on a MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE.

STATE BLOCKS COUNTY PLAN TO WIDEN LAKE ST.

Refuses O. K. on Issue of Narrow Roadway.

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.

The state highway department has refused to approve plans under which the county proposes to widen to 40 feet the pavement on Lake street between Oak Park and Elgin.

This road is designated as state highway No. 5, and about twelve miles of it are within Cook county, though somewhat more mileage lies in Du Page county. It carries an immense traffic between Chicago and Elgin, as well as beyond Elgin to the northwest of the state.

The reason the state divisional highway department office at Elgin gives for its refusal to approve the plans is that Cook county has not provided a continuous 100 foot right of way for the distance it proposes to double its pavement width.

Frown on Another Plan.

This is in line with the refusal by the state, reported Saturday to approve the plans for widening Milwaukee avenue from Touhy avenue to the county line, a distance of nine miles, long ago rendered inadequate by the volume of traffic accustomed to travel over it.

In contrast with the state's objections to the widening of these two main traveled and overcrowded arteries, a further survey of a piece of work done by the state at the southwest of the city has been made.

The highway in point is state route No. 49, known as the Governor's highway and planned to connect Kankakee with Chicago as a 40 foot pavement on a 100 foot right of way. It has been under construction for three years and twenty-one miles of it has been completed. The southern end of it lies at the outskirts of Kankakee and the northern end in an inaccessible cornfield south of Richton Park, a hamlet near the Cook county line.

Near Other Main Roads.

The route passes through such "metropolitan" centers as Manteno, Peotone, and Mone, before approaching Richton Park.

A half dozen miles east of the line of this highway is state route No. 1, main north and south artery out of Chicago, and a short distance west is combined state routes No. 44 and 51, a direct route from the west side to Kankakee, with No. 44 branching to Joliet.

Ultimately the road has possibilities, as it taps the suburban district along the Illinois Central railway.

Traffic experts estimate that 200 cars a day would be a liberal volume from the abutting population.

On the other hand the highways which Cook county is trying to widen to 40 feet, as to pavement, have a joint probable traffic volume of 130,000 and up a day, when and if the widening job is done.

Conditions along the Lake street highway as to additional right of way are quite similar to those on the Milwaukee avenue line. The county has obtained a portion of the 100 foot continuity, but latterly has encountered obstacles which will make it necessary to start long drawn out negotiations for purchase or institute condemnation proceedings.

Either or both processes require long periods of time, and the most optimistic county officials do not hope for complete settlement of all right of way complications within five or ten years.

Many Stay Off Roads.

Meanwhile these two main arteries out of Chicago must continue as narrow, obsolete and dangerous thoroughfares, filled with traffic to such an extent that many automobile owners will not take their cars upon them unless absolutely forced by pressure of business or other emergency, and the 19 miles of 40 foot road ending at the Richton Park cornfield exists to ornament the countryside, unable to attract any sort of traffic upon its smoothly finished surface.

"The state has the county in a corner," said one county commissioner yesterday, "and evidently intends to make the whole community squirm during the dying days of the present state administration. The only ray of sunshine lies in the comparatively short time it will be necessary to struggle with our road problem under these conditions. A new administration certainly will take steps to throw the absurd 100 foot right of way rule in the ash can, so far as it affects the existing roads in populous areas."

The Lake street improvement is one of the projects to be paid for entirely out of the $15,000,000 bond issue. The county has prepared its surveys, plans and specifications for the work and is in a position to put it under contract this fall, if the state does not block proceedings.

Maintained by State.

Because of the fact that, when completed, this thoroughfare becomes a part of the state system, and, as such, is subject to maintenance by the state, it is necessary to obtain from the state highway department approval of plans. If such approval is given the state thereby assumes responsibility for future maintenance. If the county proceeded to build the widened pavement without approval, the maintenance would be a perpetual obligation of the county.

As about the only benefit Cook county is to have out of the bond issue expenditures and future license fees and other vehicle taxes, will be future maintenance of its roads by the state, county officials believe that it cannot afford to go ahead with its road projects without official approval.

U. S. LABOR LEADER TELLS OF SOVIETS' SPY SYSTEM HERE

New York, Oct. 7.—[Special.]—Matthew Woll, acting president of the National Civic federation, and vice president of the American Federation of Labor, in an open letter to A. L. Scheinman, newly selected head of the Amtorg Trading corporation, made public today, summarized the reasons why the United States withholds recognition of the soviet régime and what Mr. Scheinman may do to facilitate a change in policy.

Mr. Woll asserted that communist agencies in this country, acting under orders from Moscow, have created much trouble in the United States, especially among trades unions in an effort to carry out the policy of the Third Internationale, which is interested in fomenting a world revolution.

"The charge is made that it is through Amtorg that all the money for communist activities in this country is handled," declared Mr. Woll in the letter. "A like charge was made in the case of Arcos, the 'Amtorg' of London and Peking.

"It is also asserted that, under the direction of the Amtorg and through its offices, there exists here in the United States a very active soviet secret service which is not doing our country any good. Since, unfortunately, we have no 'Scotland Yard' at the moment these assertions have not yet been fully substantiated; but you will be in a position to get at the facts and it goes without saying that, as evidence of good faith, you will report them to our government."

Recognition should not be granted the soviet government by the United States, according to Mr. Woll, until "Moscow, first of all, stops all of its subversive activities in the United States; second, reimburse American citizens for the property stolen from them; third, pays its debts to our government, and fourth, establishes a régime which, recognizing the sanctity of international obligations, would be fit to associate with civilized nations."

HAPPY HUNTING GROUND BRANDED AS 'SMOKE DREAM'

Civic Federation Says Bond Figures False.

Proponents of the $20,000,000 state bond issue for fishing and hunting grounds were charged by the Civic Federation of Chicago yesterday with deliberate misrepresentation of the financial burden that would be placed on the taxpayers if the voters approve the proposal submitted to them on Nov. 6.

In a bulletin authorized by its executive committee, the federation branded as a "smoke dream" a pamphetl issued in the name of the "Illinois Conservation and Flood Control association."

"To sustain their 'no-direct-tax' misrepresentation," it read in part, "they present a large table, the basis for which is absurd and dishonest. In the face of figures from State Auditor Nelson showing the operating expenses of the fish and game division were $353,141 in 1924, $439,011 in 1925, $445,143 in 1926, and $498,975 in 1927, they have the effrontery to use only $350,000 as the probable cost for 1928.

"Besides presenting these and other unwarranted figures, the 'boosters' table makes startling disclosures of their real plans.

"1. Instead of paying the entire bond costs themselves, these self-styled sportsmen plan not to increase license fees at all until 1935 and not to double the present $1 fee until 1949.

"2. Only $2,000,000 in bonds are to be issued annually for ten years. This proves the bonds unnecessary. The legislature might better appropriate annually for ten years and save millions in interest.

"3. No bonds will be retired until 1935 and the heaviest retirements will fall between 1951 and 1967, so that the total interest charge will be $16,896,000—nearly as much as the amount to be spent for land—instead of $12,400,000, the interest on the normal basis of retirement.

"This so-called 'flood control association' has not an engineer on its board. Competent engineers have declared that the pending act will not aid in flood control. Conservationists have said it would set aside a well considered plan for a system of state parks distributed throughout the state.

"The bond issue is a fraud and should be beaten."

Elmer Gets Joy from First of Concert Series

Alda and Chamlee Present Opening N. Y. Program.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

To Frances Alda, soprano, and Mario Chamlee, tenor, were given the honors of officially opening the fall and winter season on the now nationally famous New York 8:15 to 9:15 Sunday concerts through W-G-N. There will be thirty-one concerts in the series.

I mention Mme. Alda's name first because of her surprisingly excellent singing. Apparently she grows better with the years, like a good violin. Her voice has gained in resonance, in clarity, and in freshness of tone. Hers used to be an Alda tone; now it is a large, pure, soprano tone.

And it was no ordinary privilege to hear the great operatic singer, Mario Chamlee. The range of expression that is at his command is not often met with in radio concerts. He was intensely dramatic when he wished to be. The largeness of his tone was impressive when he desired to convey that quality. Then again, his voice sailed high in the air, and ringing as clear and as delicately as a flute.

Theirs was a Puccini program exclusively, through arrangements with the publisher. As to Puccini music, we find it enticing. It is theatrically effective, or, in other words, clever artificially. It just misses that quality, depth, or something, that really grips and sinks into the heart.

Here's once again warmly welcoming the Sunday Evening club services, Clifford W. Barnes, president, through WMAQ. It was a delight to hear Stanley Martin's organ recital, 7:40 to 8. This is our best chance to hear a big organ played in a big way. And that great choir—yes, "The Heavens Are Telling" us much when they are on the air.

Richard Henry Little, in his Sunday Air Line, W-G-N, 9:15 to 9:45, is a sort of alternating current, bucking bronco speaker. Last evening his stories backed up and went forward scheduleless, and the smiles produced by his stories twisted our faces backward and forward and round about.

The last act of "In Old Vienna," was put on by the W-G-N players under the direction of Harry W. Spingold. Evidently the Spingold players are now solidly hooked up with this station. If so, that's good news.

Announcer "Pat" Barnes, in his readings at 6:35, made a deep impression, not only by the content of the subject but by the manner of the delivery

Host Accidentally Shot as His Guest Jests with Gun

"Pour me a cup of coffee or I'll shoot," said Harold Freese, 27 years old, 6085 Cumberland avenue, Park Ridge, last night to Jack King, 26 years old, who was host to Freese in his apartment at 713 Rush street. "Pour it yourself," retorted King, whereupon the pistol which Freese had picked up in jest was discharged, the bullet striking King in the body. King was taken to the Illinois Masonic hospital, where his condition was pronounced critical. Although police regarded the shooting as an accident, they held Freese. King refused to sign a complaint.

DOUGHERTY TO ANSWER CHARGE IN COURT TODAY

Assistant State's Attorney Charles S. Daugherty will appear in the Grand Crossing court this morning to answer a charge of disorderly conduct preferred against him following a combat Saturday night with a number of Yellow cab drivers. Earlier in the week, Dougherty was a member of a raiding party which seized books of the Checker Cab company. The books were ordered returned in a court order.

An apparent attempt to erase Dougherty's name from the police records and substitute the name of Douglas was noticed at the Woodlawn station. The record was later amended to read "Dougherty, alias Douglas."

A grand jury inquiry into the taxi dispute will be conducted this week as a result of the Checker company's petition to Judge John J. Sullivan, chief justice of the Criminal court.

National Radio Show Opens in the Coliseum

Chicago became the temporary radio capital of the continent last night when the national radio show opened at the Coliseum for a week's run. The show is sponsored by the Radio Manufacturer's association of which H. H. Frost is president. While no revolutionary changes in construction were noticeable among the exhibits, improvements in design and advancement of manufacturing refinements are prevalent, Mr. Frost said.

ALL THREE SIDES OF TRIANGLE FIND SELVES IN COURT

Henry Schubert, 2743 Wesley avenue, Berwyn; his estranged wife, Mrs. Emily Schubert, 1616 South Kominsky avenue, and Mrs. Frances Morrison, a divorcée, who form what is commonly known as a triangle, face a busy winter in the courts.

Each is now a defendant in a suit. The first legal action filed was a demand for separate maintenance by Mrs. Schubert, who charged her husband with being unfaithful to her. Several weeks later, while acting as her own detective, she saw Mrs. Morrison go into her husband's home. At her request the Berwyn police made a raid, Mrs. Morrison was arraigned before Magistrate Cerny and was fined $100 on a charge of disorderly conduct. Schubert paid it.

Mrs. Morrison then filed a suit for $25,000 in Circuit court, with Mrs. Schubert and the magistrate as defendants. She alleged that Mrs. Schubert had exaggerated in her testimony and Magistrate Cerny had exercised illegal methods. On Saturday, Mrs. Schubert filed a praecipe in a $50,000 suit against Mrs. Morrison. Her attorney, Anton Zeman, said that his client would show that the divorcée had alienated the affections of Schubert.

Pastor, 3 Others Drowned at Baptizing in Mississippi

White Castle, La., Oct. 7.—[U. P.]—A Negro baptising ceremony in the Mississippi river ended in the deaths of four today when Pastor A. M. Lockett lost his footing and dragged the Negro he was immersing to the bottom with him. Two others were drowned attempting a rescue.

John J. Lindman, Grain Pit Pioneer, Dies at 74

Funeral services for John J. Lindman, 74 years old, a member of the Chicago Board of Trade for nearly 50 years, will be held tomorrow at 4 p. m. in Rosehill cemetery chapel. Mr. Lindman died on Saturday at Evanston hospital after a brief illness. He was contemplating retirement from the firm of F. L. Schreiner, 309 South La Salle street, successor to Lindman & Co., which he founded. He is survived by a brother, O. F. Lindman, of Pasadena, Cal.; a son, Raymond H. Lindman of Palms, Cal.; and a daughter, Mrs. Frederick B. Thomas of Winnetka.

OBITUARY.

JAMES R. MULROY, 65 years old, former general storekeeper for the Pullman company and well known in Chicago railroad circles, died of pneumonia yesterday at his home, 1533 East Marquette road. Mr. Mulroy is survived by his widow and five children, Mrs. P. B. Baldwin of East Orange, N. J.; Miss Mary Mulroy and James, Thomas, and George Mulroy. "THE NEW VOICE OF THE SKIES"

Now. . . . . Radio so dependable that you can forget it . . . but so enjoyable that you never will!

Model R-2. Radio with Dynamic Speaker.

Price—including Dynamic Speaker, less tubes: $260.

THE EDISON RADIO, sensation of the radio world, is now presented to the people of Chicago. As you would expect, it is advanced, electrically correct, and beautifully encased as befits its scientific excellence. The outstanding radio achievement of 1928—it was the hub of interest at the Radio World's Fair in New York . . . The Edison is truly THE "Local and Long Distance" receiver. It is super-selective for local work—in fact, the best receiver that could be designed for local work exclusively. The turn of a switch, and it becomes an entirely different receiver. A new power is unleashed, making it a receiver of great sensitivity and an astonishing distance getter . . . But the outstanding feature of Edison Radio is the amazing, lifelike quality of its rich and mellow reproduction. There it scores its greatest triumph. It faithfully matches the performance that goes into the microphone at the studio. When you hear the Edison, you'll feel that you are listening to radio in final and ultimate perfection . . . Here, at last, is a line of dependable receivers presented by a company whose very name is a guarantee of fair dealing, stability and worth. Thomas A. Edison, Inc., Orange, New Jersey.

Model R-1. Radio with Dynamic Speaker.

Model C-2. Radio with Electric Phonograph.

Generally conceded the most beautiful moderate-priced combination at the New York show. Completely electrified. Contains, in addition to the Edison Radio, an Edison electrically-amplified phonograph, electrically driven. Has the only electric pickup that plays all types of records—both hill-and-dale and needle-type. The cabinet of blended walnut finish, with ornamental panels of burl maple, fits pleasingly into any interior and harmonizes with other furniture.

Price—including Dynamic Speaker, less tubes: $495.

Model C-1. Radio and Electric Phonograph.

Price—including two Dynamic Speakers, less tubes: $1100.

Outstanding Features of the Edison Radio

THE EDISON RADIO has a super-power amplifier using the new R. C. A. "250" tube. It also has an inbuilt, new-type, extra-size Dynamic Speaker. As a result, the Edison gives superb quality at all degrees of volume, with a startling response on bass notes. It can be tuned down to a whisper or tuned up to full orchestral volume. The Edison method of using and controlling the Dynamic Speaker accomplishes amazing results.

All models are for A. C. operation, using 3 stages of radio frequency, a detector, and super-power amplifier. All have single dial control and concealed phonograph jack, with change-over switch (from radio to phonograph) on the front panel. Throughout, the Edison Radio is a notable example of advanced design and electrical efficiency.

THE NEW MODES IN APPAREL for the BUSINESS WOMAN

THE season lends many of its smartest modes to the wardrobe of the business woman, and adjusts them to her needs so that they retain their delightful chic and individuality all the while they are practical.

SEAMS indicate a waistline without destroying the slim silhouette. Large collar and cuffs of wolf—gray on black, natural on tan—in lines of simplicity. Moderate Price Coat Section. $95.

Fourth Floor, East.

MOIRE rubber, imported from England, where they dress with most swank for rainy weather, has been made into the newest of trim raincoats. In green, red, blue or black, with a matching velvet collar. $16.50.

Fourth Floor, East.

SILK crepe serves the daily needs of the woman in business with such practical satisfaction. Clever touches in fagoting and tailored gardenias on black, navy, cocoanut, green. Moderate Price Frock. $19.50.

Fourth Floor, Wabash.

REGNY designed the original of this woman's frock, doubtless with the chic American in mind. Ideal as the frock which must sometimes serve both business and semi-dress. Tan, navy, black, green, blue. $50.

Fourth Floor, North, State.

MINK tails, used luxuriously but simply on soft woolen fabric, are the single note of elegance on a slender straight-line coat for women. They are of dark brown against the black or warm tan. $150.

Fourth Floor, North, State.

HUDSON seal (dyed muskrat), the fur classic for constant, serviceable wear, makes one of the season's most stunning coats in a simple, slim style, self-trimmed. Sizes for misses, $295; for women, $315.

Fourth Floor, North, State.

DIAGONALS in seams and pleats are characteristically youthful in a frock—after Lecomte—for misses, which serves the purposes of "after-hours" as well as business. Blue, black, green, tan, wine. $39.50.

Fourth Floor, South, State.

PLAID wool Georgette, fashioned and finished with a nicety of workmanship that gives it a new chic in detail. Two-piece in style, its skirt is pleated and its blouse leather belted. Tan, blue. Sports frock. $37.50.

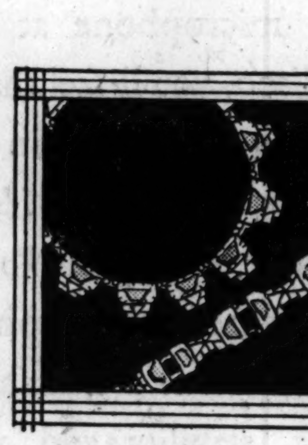
Fourth Floor, South, State.

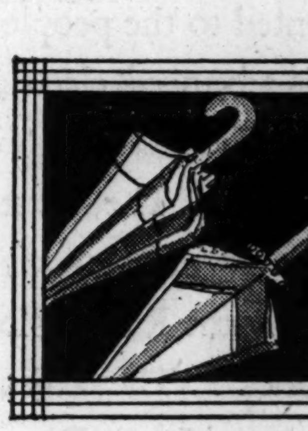
TUCKS outline the points in which civet cat fur is applied to the bottom of a coat for misses, which has chosen the smartest of plain fabric in black, tan or blue—with the civet cat, natural or dyed. $125.

Fourth Floor, North, State.

JEWELRY becomes essential to complete the costume in this mode of color and ensemble. Synthetic stones have been made to serve new design in many pieces such as this set—lapis, jade or carnelian (imitation) set in antiqued gold. $8.50 the set.

First Floor, South, State.



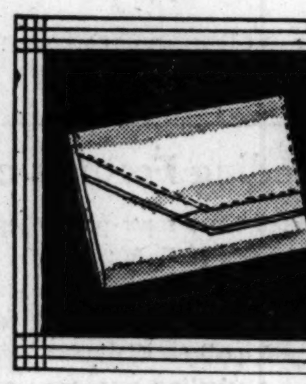


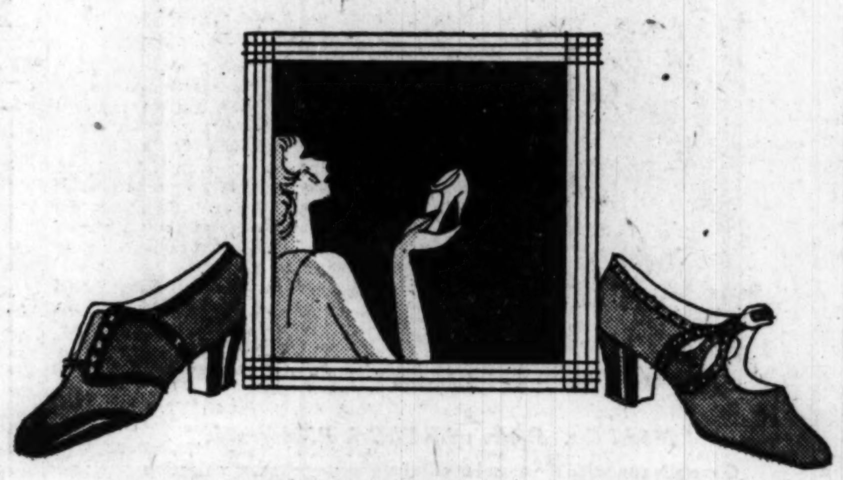
FALL rains will spare your new hat and give you a chance to walk demurely and without splashing haste under a colorful new silk umbrella. A wide variety of colors and black, with handles of wood or "amberette" in several styles. $5.

First Floor, South, State.

HANDBAGS must be chic for the mode which demands the absence of all elaboration in costume accessories which go to business. The simple envelope bag in brown or black suede suggested for such use unites excellence of fabric with simple perfection of design. $6.50.

First Floor, South, State.

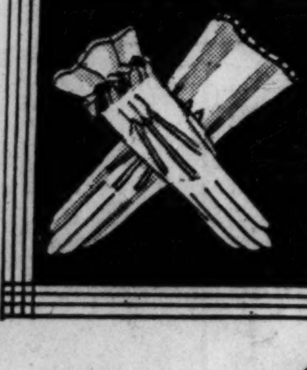




THESE hats hold in their smartness lines especially wearable. The velour has a twist of brim, giving formality to an otherwise tailored hat. In the Trotteur Section. $12.50.

The dress hat represents a group in felt and velvet combinations. Main Section. $16.50.

Fifth Floor, North, State.



WASHABLE gloves in leathers or materials are the choice of her who knows the many pitfalls for soiling gloves which fill a day in town. In a variety of light or dark shades. Slip-on gloves of suede or glace kid are $3.75. Sueded fabric, $2.

First Floor, North, State.

COMFORT in shoes for constant wear is important, but in a trim feminine world there must be no sacrifice of style. A blucher oxford of suede—brown or black—walks in the right direction. $13.50.

Rather more formal is a buckle strap slipper of suede or kid in black or brown. $13.50.

Shoes sketched represent Arch-Sustainer group ranging in price from $8 to $15.

Third Floor, South, State.

THE Beauty Salon, with its one hundred trained and efficient attendants, gives to the woman whose hours are regulated by business the prompt service which means perfect comfort in manicures, shampoos, haircuts, facials or chiropody.

Ninth Floor, Wabash.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Tommy Thomas, the talented White Sox pitcher from Baltimore, yesterday showed the baseball masses how he does it when he gets a normal amount of support from his cast. With his mates playing airtight ball he whipped the Cubs with graceful ease, being threatened only once in the entire enterprise. The score was White Sox, 2; Cubs, 0.

The official count of the paid customers was 44,868. Those of Cub persuasion—about 30,000—didn't glean the joy of seeing one of their heroes reach second base except in the seventh inning, when Stephenson pulled up at third and Grimm at second after Thomas had fanned Cuyler and Wilson. This was the aforementioned lone threat against Tommy.

By his great performance Tommy kept the 1928 city series from coming to a close. The series count now is three games won by the Cubs and two won by the Sox.

Hunnefield Drives In Sox Runs.

Sharing the hero rôle with Thomas was Hunnefield, who drove in the Sox's two runs with a double and saved a tie with a tremendous stop and throw. Hunnefield was shifted to short with the benching of the nonhitting Cissell. Malone pitched a great game for the Cubs after the first inning, while the fielding honors for the losers were carried off by Stephenson and Maguire.

Thomas allowed four hits—a scratch by Stevie in the second, a bona fide drive by Wilson in the fourth, a two base sock into the overflow crowd by Grimm in the seventh, and a single by Maguire in the nith. Malone allowed six hits, including two doubles and a single in the deciding first inning.

Thomas struck out seven—Cuyler twice, Wilson, Hartnett, English, Maguire, and Beck. Malone had four strikeouts—Thomas three times and Redfern. Root fanned Swanson in the ninth.

Stephenson Makes Great Catch.

The game opened with a big thrill. Metzler drove the ball into the overflow in left center and appeared to be the possessor of a double. But big Stevie plowed into the crowd and pulled down the ball as he dropped to the ground over the retaining rope. The cheers of Cub rooters for this stellar accomplishment were short lived, however, for Shires lined a single into center and, because of ground rules, stopped at third when Falk knocked the ball into the crowd in deep right center. Hunnefield then sent a long fly to the edge of the crowd and Wilson and Stephenson pulled a "you-take-it." The blow was a double, Shires and Falk scoring the only runs of the game. Swanson walked, but Redfern popped to Beck. After Wilson was out in the second

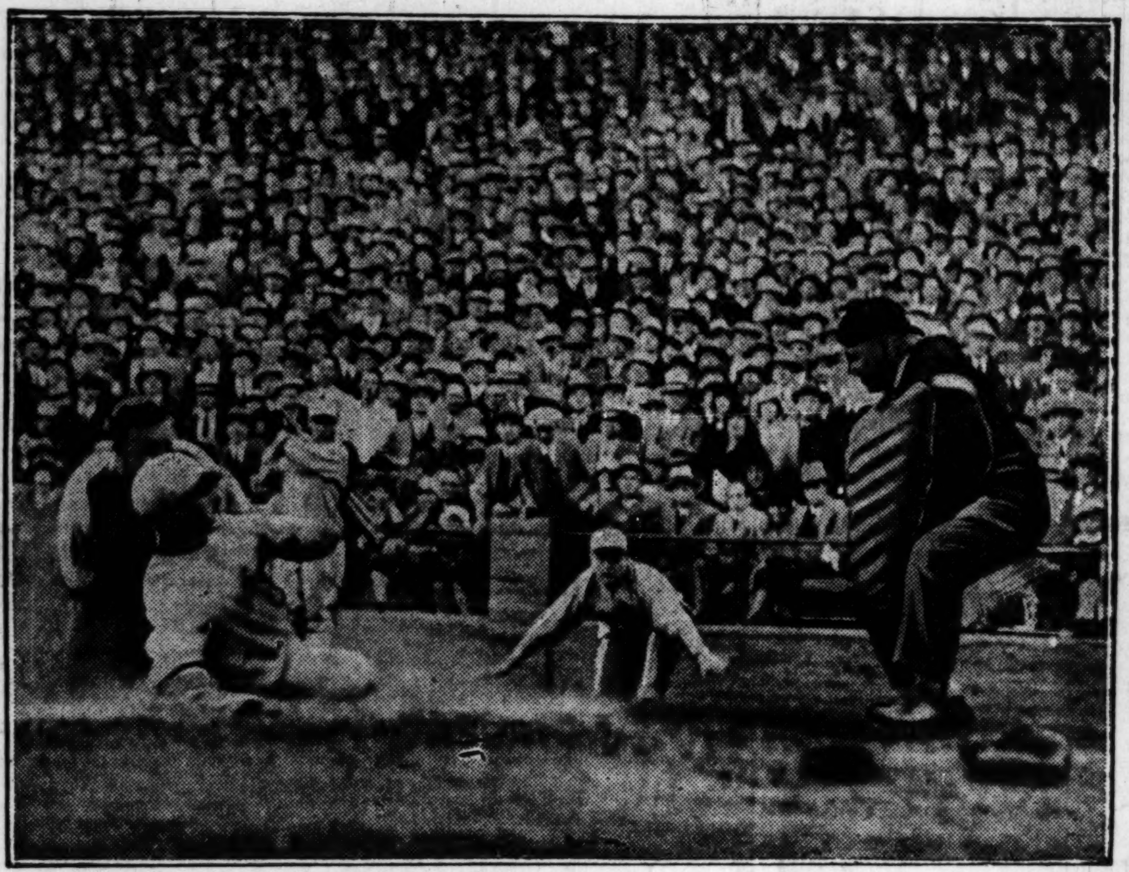
JUST A BIT TOO SLOW



Reynolds, Sox outfielder, is out at the plate in the third inning to complete a double play. Carl was on third with one down when Hunnefield hit to English at short. English threw to Grimm at first for the out and when Reynolds dashed for home Grimm relayed to Hartnett in time to stop the score.

Cheers as Cubs Run on to Field; Then Drops Dead

While cheering the Cubs as they took the field against the White Sox yesterday at Wrigley field, George A. Peterson, a retired business man, 53 East 16th street, dropped dead.

Peterson was sitting with his brother, Oscar, in the upper tier of the grand stand near the home plate. He rose with the other fans as the Cubs ran onto the field. Suddenly he crumpled and fell.

Dr. John S. Davis, summoned from the crowd, pronounced him dead after an examination.

TUDY MARCHESE WINS 150 MILE DIRT TRACK RACE

Driving a Frontenac Special, Tudy Marchese yesterday won the 150 mile dirt track race at Roby speedway. He finished seven laps in advance of the field of 15 starters and was timed in 1:58:32 4-5. Those who were forced to digest Marchese's dust, in the order of their finish, were: Harry Nichols, in a Frontenac; Glenn Fites, driving a Whippet, and Cliff Henderson, who piloted a Romo. Forty-five hundred saw the race.

Senators and Seals Play for Coast League Pennant

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 7.—[U. BY WILFRID SMITH.

Chicago's Bears won the professional grid game yesterday morning at De Paul field, 12 to 6, but Herb Joesting of the Minneapolis Marines won the applause of the crowd.

Joesting, Minnesota's all-American full back by unanimous selection the last three seasons, has had quite a reputation in these parts, but in his first appearance on a Chicago gridiron he convinced the capacity crowd it was deserved.

Joesting carried the ball on every other play, and the number of times he was stopped at the line of scrimmage could be counted on the fingers of one hand. He slashed through repeatedly for three, four, and five yards, and on three occasions broke away for runs of 20, 17, and 30 yards. With a mediocre line in front of him, he dived over the pile when the husky Bear forwards stacked it in a heap.

Joesting Strong on Defense.

In addition to this exercise, Joesting backed up the line on defense, scurried back and forth, finding time to intercept several Bear passes besides getting in a bit of tackling practice when Full Back White of the Bears popped across the scrimmage line.

Sandberg, once of Los Angeles, and Lundell, a big, springy end, gave Joesting adequate support, Lundell showing superior ability at pass receiving when the Bears became too interested in Joesting's ramblings.

Alertness in following the ball gave

Intercepting a forward pass in midfield just after the second half got under way, Swede Erickson galloped down the sideline for a touchdown that gave the Chicago Cardinals a 7-0 decision over the Dayton Triangles yesterday in a National Professional Football league game at Normal Park.

Throughout the rest of the game it was a battle between Cardinals' offensive that repeatedly speared the middle of the Dayton line and the latter's stubborn defense that always kept the Cards from scoring. Several times during the game the Chicagoans worked the ball down to within ten yards of a touchdown, only to lose possession on downs or when an alert Daytonian batted down a pass attempt.

The Cards threatened continually from the start, when McDonnell ran back the opening kickoff and eluded all but the Dayton safety man, who got him on the 28 yard line. But the line tightened and his work was to no avail.

To start the third quarter Slater kicked off to Dayton's 35 yard line and on the first play Cook sliced through tackle for six. On the next Matso attempted a short pass and Erickson did his stuff. Grabbing the ball about ten yards from the sideline, he swerved to his right and ran parallel with the line to the goal. Grant place-kicked the extra point.

The Cards got down to the four yard line as the third quarter neared completion, but lost the ball on downs. Twice they were down to the ten yard line in the final chapter. Lineup:

BADGER DEFEAT OF NOTRE DAME STIRS TITLE HOPE

Victory Gives Wisconsin Confidence.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Although football games of importance were played in all sections of the country last Saturday, the 22 to 6 victory of Wisconsin over Notre Dame caused the greatest comment. This struggle will be talked of all week because of Saturday's battle between Notre Dame and Navy on Soldiers' field in Chicago.

Wisconsin's victory over Notre Dame, a nationally respected machine for years, should make the Badgers a formidable contender for the Western conference championship. It was back in 1912 that the Cardinal won its last Big Ten title and the Badgers' triumph of last Saturday starts them on the way to an honor which other Wisconsin teams have sought for years.

Back in the old days Wisconsin was represented by great elevens, especially when Phil King, a former Princeton player, was the coach. John Richards, who played football at Wisconsin, developed strong elevens, but they never were able to go through their seasons undefeated.

Fans Have Faith in Team.

Despite unexpected defeats, Wisconsin supporters have shown faith in their teams. On many occasions, wearers of the Cardinal have filed out of the gates of Camp Randall field keenly disappointed. But they came back year after year hoping for a reversal of form. They were rewarded last Saturday by a victory which means as much as the winning of the Western conference championship.

The game emphasized a cardinal point in football. Alertness in following the ball always has been a gridiron fundamental. The Badgers had a nose for the ball last Saturday and recovered Notre Dame fumbles consistently. "Follow the ball" is one of the strictest orders of any coach and the Badgers carried out this command. In addition, Wisconsin flashed a strong close and open attack.

Notre Dame Still Dangerous.

Although the result was a jolt to Coach Rockne, his team can be depended upon to rally and make plenty of trouble for the elevens it will meet during the remainder of the season. Notre Dame has had its fill of gridiron success and its supporters must expect defeat. Rockne will reorganize his team this week and place a strong eleven on the field against the Navy this week-end.

Following its defeat by South Carolina a week ago, Chicago came back impressively to defeat Wyoming, 47 to 0. The Maroons mixed their attack nicely and showed promise with the forward pass.

Pity That "Dumb Dutchman" Gehrig; All He Can Do Is Hit

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 7.—One time the New York Yankees picked up a ball player by the name of Schultz or Krauss or Schmidt. He made a lot of bad plays and lost several games of ball so Mr. Jake Ruppert, who owns the firm, asked Mr. Charlie O'Leary, the coach, what seemed to be the outstanding difficulty.

"The trouble is that he is a Dutchman," Mr. O'Leary said. "Dutchmen are too dumb to play ball. There is an old saying in our profession, 'Dutch and dumb; dumb and Dutch; if he wasn't Dutch he wouldn't be dumb and if he wasn't dumb he would not be Dutch.'"

"Is that so," Mr. Ruppert replied "I will take the matter up."

The next day Mr. Ruppert is said to have telegraphed to his field foreman Mr. Miller Huggins and to have ordered Miller, "Let's get rid of this Dutchman who has been losing the ball games for us and if we have got any more Dutchmen on the club, get rid of them too. Dutchmen are too dumb to play ball."

Time Passes; It Always Does.

Let us here imagine a printer's jim dash or a line of cartoonist's stars to signify a lapse of time and a change of scene. We are now in the third game of the world series of 1928 on a Sunday afternoon in St. Louis, Mo., and two athletes are crossing the plate. One is named Herman—George Herman Ehrhardt Ruth—and the other is named Louie—Louie Gehrig. Louie has just hit his second home run of the game, sending Herman home in front of him.

Between them they have done about 50 per cent of the hitting and scoring for the Yankees in the three world series games thus far played and won by Mr. Ruppert's employés. Herman has made seven hits and Louie five but three of Louie's were home runs and two of them drove Herman in ahead. In the dugout on the other side of the ball grounds sits Mr. Willie Cold Eye McKechnie, the foreman of the St. Louis Cardinals, who are losing this third game 7 to 3, wondering where he might find a few ball players named Otto or Ludwig or Emil.

Herman's personal tastes and pleasures have been duly notified to the public long before this, not only in the newspapers but between the covers of books costing as much as two dollars. Carl Sandburg, the poet who did a book about Lincoln, set out last winter to attend to him in a serious literary way as a phenomenon of American life and any time they start doing that to a man you just know there isn't much left untold.

No Color to Louie.

This would be a pretty late time in his career to go into a character sketch of Louie, too, because he has been a celebrated ball player for several years now and moreover it would be something like trying to play golf with a billiard ball. No matter how enthusiastically you may go at Louie's character it just rolls a couple of feet and settles heavily in a heel print, and your wrists hurt from the impact.

Gehrig remains a thick-legged.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 7.—The greatest laugh producing world's series of all time moved another lap today toward its inevitable conclusion. The St. Louis Cardinals, feeble in the preceding battles, staggered and collapsed, and the Yankees, none too steady themselves, won their third straight victory, 7 to 3, before some 40,000 spectators, who came to cheer, but went away muttering.

All that now remains of St. Louis' hopes is Wee Willie Sherdel, the unlucky southpaw. If he fails tomorrow, baseball's sun will set for 1928 and the Yanks can go back whence they came, with the honor of being the only team ever to win two successive world's series titles in the minimum of four games.

Gehrig Means Business.

The only one who stood out heroically this afternoon was Louis Gehrig the Larruper. Some of the Yanks clowned a bit, but many of the Cardinals did the same. But Larruping Lou had no time for mirth-provoking. He was busy with his bat.

In his first appearance in the second chapter, when the arena was still reverberating with the shouts of those who saw good omen in the scoring of two tallies by the Cardinals in the initial round, Gehrig hit a ball to the roof of the right field pavilion. Then he came up in the fourth with a man on base and whistled a wicked drive to center. The ball was played badly by Douthit, and it hopped on its way to the fence while Gehrig charged around the sacks for his second homer. After this the Cards respected him so highly that they walked him twice, but he was content to rest on his laurels, which included tying the record for runs driven in during a fall series. The mark is eight, and Bob Meusel set it in 1923.

Cards Go to Pieces.

Among those who went down in the crash was Big Jess Haines, the star of the St. Louis staff, with nine wins in the waning weeks of the National league campaign. Haines wasn't exactly bad, but was without the knack of stopping his foes when they needed stopping. Gehrig's two homers and a single by Ruth, were all that were made off him in four innings.

The Yanks wasted a hit in the fifth and then added three runs on two hits in a ridiculous sixth, when the Card defense cracked wide open and Haines lost control. The only Yank run after this was off Sylvester Johnson, who gave up one hit in the seventh.

Seven runs on seven hits is no mean achievement, but it was just another sample of what the Yanks did in the two preceding games. Four runs on seven blows in the opener. Nine runs on seven hits in the second struggle. A total of 20 runs on 22 hits, and two of the hits didn't figure in the scoring. And Gehrig has contributed in this assortment four runs scored and five hits for a total of fifteen bases in nine times at bat.

YANKEES DEFEAT CARDS, 7-3, FOR 3D WIN IN ROW

Gehrig Hits Two Homers Against Haines.

Old Tom Pitches Steadily.

While the Card hurlers were sinking gradually but surely under the blunders of their own mates and the timeliness of the Yank attack, old Tom Zachary, taken from Washington at the waiver price a couple of months ago, was hurling one of the choice games of his checkered career.

Old Tom took it on the chin on the opening, when a boyish bit of outfielding by Durst gave the Cards a two run jump. But the old left hander simply kept on throwing curves that the Cards didn't like and after the initial round was pressed only once. This was in the fifth, when the National leaguers registered their last run and created a tie with the three runs Gehrig had driven across on his homers.

But the tie was no sooner in their hands than the Cards fell apart like an explosion of a bale of shingles in the sixth and the rest of the way was easy for the veteran.

Wilson Is Elected "Goat."

Just as no series would be complete without at least a few tiffs with the umpires, there must always be a goat. Two battles were waged without the rôle being filled. But the candidate turned up today in Jimmy Wilson, the Cards' backstop, who in one inning dropped a ball at the plate and then picked it up and threw it to second base with nobody covering.

This was what helped to make the sixth session one for the humorists. And Wilson further qualified for the rôle by striking out twice before Zachary and banging into a double play in the eighth with none out.

Another gentleman who made motions as if he was intent on giving Wilson a run for his doubtful honor was Frankie Frisch. When there was a lot of action in the sixth, Yanks running here and there, Frisch sat down to remove a shoe. He thought he had lost a toe in a collision with Gehrig at second. It was while Frisch was conducting his untimely examination that Wilson made his throw to second, with nobody present to receive it.

Hafey Needed Some Glue.

Just a couple of other things completed the list of offenses by which the Cards managed to encourage the Yanks in their travels around the bases. Gehrig's homer in the fourth with one on could have been avoided if Douthit, instead of choosing to do a nose dive for an impossible chance, had elected to play the ball for a legitimate single. And the Yanks wouldn't have scored their lone run in the seventh if Hafey, after running almost to the wall for a long fly, hadn't let the ball trickle through his hands.

The Cards made a flying start in the opening inning when High, with one out, slapped a single off Koenig's glove at short. Frisch produced a hit of the same kind, but off the mitt tip of Zachary. Then the Yanks made their only costly miscue of the battle. Bottomley worked the count to 2 and 2 and lined lustily to center. Durst ran in, stopped, turned, and went back, but was too late. The ball sailed over his head and rollled to the fence. High and Frisch scored and Bottomley pulled up at third. It looked as if the luck of the Yanks was finally going to desert them. But it wasn't.

Lazzari Hits Into Double Play.

Mixing slow ones with fast ones sent Haines through the first inning without a miss, and he had two strikes across on Gehrig in the second before the Larruper opened up. He dug into a fast ball and it sailed gracefully out toward right, to plunk down on the roof of the pavilion. The tap so surprised Haines that he followed with a pass to Meusel. But this was discounted when Lazzeri bounced to High for a double play.

The Yanks put their only two errors of the game into the Cards' half of the second, but the home troops couldn't profit thereby. After the round had started with Wilson missing his third strike, Maranville was safe when Robertson failed to come up with an easy grounder. Haines was eliminated on a fly ball. Then Douthit bounced one over second and Lazzeri, bad arm and all, made a great stop behind the bag. As time was precious, Lazzeri pegged without taking aim, but the play was too sudden for Koenig and he missed the ball. Lazzeri was given an error he didn't deserve. Zachary jumped this hurdle by whiffing High.

Ruth Singles to Right.

An out and a hit had occurred before Gehrig exploded homer No. 2 in the fourth. This out was on Koenig, who was retired on Bottomley's somewhat brilliant stop of a hard grounder behind the initial sack. Then Ruth looked at three that were wide. A fast one through the middle was next and was overlooked. Another came over just like it and Ruth lined a typical Ruth single to the right field wall. Gehrig fouled off the first pitch and the next, a knuckle ball, sailed to center. Douthit dived, turned a somersault and picked himself up. About this time the ball was rolling around the center field fence and Gehrig kept going until he had followed Ruth across. This put the Yanks ahead, 3 to 2.

The entering wedge on the tie created by the Cards in the fifth came when Zachary nicked Douthit on the left sleeve with a pitched ball. High swung at the first pitch and produced a low fly that came tumbling down just a matter of inches inside the right field line. Douthit scored and High pulled up at second. Frisch properly sacrificed High to third, because the game was still at the point where one run was worth playing for, but nothing happened. Bottomley, after getting the count to 3 and 2, fouled to the catcher and Hafey lined to Durst in center.

Then came the sixth that turned the affair from a battle to a laughing rout. Koenig started it with a single to left and Ruth forced him, Frisch to Maranville. Haines let Gehrig go to first on a pass. Then the comics were uncorked in earnest. On a grounder that went to High off Meusel's bat High whipped the ball to second, forcing Gehrig. Frisch wheeled to make the throw to first for a possible double play but Gehrig's huge frame jammed into him and his throw to Bottomley was wide. The latter knocked it down by diving.

About the time Bottomley made his dive to check the ball, Ruth was rounding third and when he saw the first sacker sprawled on the ground the Babe made a dash for the plate. Bottomley jumped to his feet and pegged to the plate. Just as Wilson turned to make the play Ruth's spikes caught him on the left shoulder, ripping off his protector and knocking the ball from his hand. The Babe was safe. Wilson picked up the ball and without observing that Frisch was sitting on the ground removing his shoe and that Maranville was over close to third, pegged to second with the idea of stopping Meusel, who was running down from first.

Holm Makes Diving Catch.

The ball rolled to center and Douthit managed to peg it back in time to keep Meusel from going any farther than third. Then Lazzeri walked and with Meusel worked a double steal that scored the latter. Robertson completed the inning's damage with a hit that drove Lazzeri home.

Johnson retired Zachary for the first victim in the seventh and Durst came along with a long fly to Hafey. Chick ran and finally got under it, but couldn't hang on and the batter pulled up at second. He was halted from scoring when Holm made a diving somersault catch in right of Koenig's liner, but Ruth stepped up with his second single of the day and it was sufficient to get Durst over the pan with the last run of the peculiar struggle.

WE'LL END IT TODAY, BATTLE CRY OF YANKS

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—All the noise under the grandstand at Sportsman's park here this afternoon, after the first local game of the world's series and the third astounding rout of the Cardinals, came from the Yankees' dressing rooms.

Yes, all the noise came from the Yankees. And by the same token, all the peace and quiet of extreme depression came from the Cardinals. Gone is that to which they looked forward. Gone also is that confidence a hopeful baseball crew ordinarily exudes, and the spirit, while not broken, is thoroughly shaken. None of the players could or would talk and you could not talk with them either.

The Yankees, on the other hand, were a merry making lot of recovered cripples. Establishing conversational communication with the victors was a difficult undertaking, not because of an atmosphere of depression, but rather because of the terrific din resounding through the confined quarters of the dressing room as the forces of Col. Ruppert went through a maniacal demonstration of the joy that is theirs.

Yankees Hope for 4th Straight.

"It's all over now but the shouting."

That's the spirit of the Yankees, who look forward to tomorrow's fourth series game as just another occasion for them to go out and win.

Manager Miller Huggins, although sharing the joy of his athletes, warned against an excess. On his arrival in the locker room Huggins said, in effect, to his charges:

"No celebrating for you boys tonight. Don't let this thing go to your heads. You have another ball game to win tomorrow. Don't forget that."

And the players promised they wouldn't forget their pilot's admonition.

"We're getting hitting now and plenty of hitting," said Huggins. "The team's going along fine and, on the whole, playing up to standard. We're hitting and we're winning. What more could be asked? I'll use Hoyt or Johnson tomorrow, probably Hoyt, because he's ready again, and we want four straight."

Ruth Favors Ailing Knee.

Babe Ruth set at rest any idea that he aggravated the complaint in his left knee rounding first in the seventh, when, from the stands, it appeared that he pulled up lame. "Naw," said the Babe, "I didn't hurt the leg. I was just favoring it."

Manager Bill McKechnie did all the talking for the Cardinals, and little of it, too.

"We are terrible—rotten," was his way of summing up the situation. "We started hitting today, but what did it get us? The breaks went against us.

"If they can win three games, so can we. This thing is not over until the fourth game is won. I'll start Sherdel or Alexander tomorrow."

slightly bowlegged young Dutchman by the name of Louie who lives in New York with his mother, eats eels in season, and gets $25,000 a year for playing ball. A syndicate manager did have some photographs taken showing Louie in the kitchen of his mother's flat wiping the dishes for her, but it was like those pictures of noted statesmen wearing Indian head feathers, and anyway Benny Leonard exhausted the home and mother theme when he was the lightweight champion of the world.

Home Runs Talk for Themselves.

Louie is no laugh, whether you want to laugh at him or with him, whereas Herman has been amusing both ways. Louie doesn't visit little boys in hospitals, doesn't get arrested for speeding, doesn't get sick and doesn't stay out late. He played high school and college baseball in New York and now he has hit home runs to win ball games for the home town team in the world series, but I imagine that as he gallops around the bases on those pool table legs of his, instead of wondering whether any of the co-eds of his 'varsity days are up in the stands saying "Oo——Oo," he just says to himself, "Well, I hit a home run."

Well that's just the way he is and that will have to do.

For purposes of newspaper copy he is as romantic as chiropodist. There are athletes who can imitate Irving, tell fortunes with cards and sing to the Spanish guitar, but the one who hit the home runs in the world series game, one over the right field roof, the second on a high bounce over the center fielder's head, with 40,000 people witnesses on an Indian summery Sunday, was a Dutchman named Louie.

THOMAS SHADES MALONE IN DUEL OF MOUND ACES

Stephenson popped a looper toward the pitchers' mound, and it was called a hit when Thomas lost it in the sun. Grimm forced Stevie on a nice play back of third by Hunnefield. Hartnett then struck out.

Hunnefield to the Rescue.

Wilson's single in the fourth came with two out and he forthwith was forced by Stephenson, Swanson to Hunnefield.

It was three up and three down for the Cubs in the fifth and sixth. Then that exciting seventh.

Cuyler struck out and so did Wilson, but Stephenson got the only walk on four pitched balls. then doubled into the crowd in center and the rules forced to stop at third. Hartnett then a terrific grounder just out of fern's reach, but Hunnefield with it, righted himself and out Gabby by a step while Stevie Cap'n Charley were making a dash across the plate.

In the eighth Heathcote and batted for Beck and Malone but easy outs. Maguire started the with a nice single to right, but ler fouled to Reynolds, Wilson to Berg and Stephenson filed to nolds to end the game.

Sox Helpless After First.

There wasn't much to the Sox sive after the first, except in the In this inning Reynolds opened a double over third, and went to on Falk's sacrifice bunt. grounded to English and when threw to Grimm Reynolds tried home, but Grimm doubled him perfect throw to Hartnett.

HUMBERT, ILLINI FULL BACK, LEADS BIG TEN SCORERS

Makes 3 Touchdowns; Brockmeyer Second.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Scoring three touchdowns in the opening game with Bradley Tech Saturday, Fritz Humbert, Illinois full back, took the lead in the race for individual scoring honors in the Big Ten football campaign.

Second to Humbert was Win Brockmeyer, Minnesota half back, who went over for two touchdowns and kicked three points after touchdown as the Gophers trounced Creighton college of Omaha, giving him a total of 15 points. Burgess, Chicago full back, was third, scoring two touchdowns and a kick after touchdown for 13 points.

Six were tied for fourth place with two touchdowns each. They were Kirk, Minnesota; Bennett, Indiana; Robinson, Illinois; Heywood, Chicago, and McClure and Holman, both of Ohio State.

Only two field goals were kicked Saturday. They were made by Hughes, Indiana full back, and Mendenhall of the Maroons. Barrett of Ohio State kicked four goals after touchdowns to lead in that department.

LAFAYETTE LEADS EAST

New York, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Amassing the huge total of 134 points, Herb McCracken's Lafayette Leopards lead eastern colleges in team scoring with the first two weeks of the football season over. The eastern aggregation piled up 56 points against Muhlenberg yesterday after overwhelming Albright, 78 to 0, in its first engagement.

Georgetown, chiefly because of the 87 to 0 score she rolled up against Susquehanna yesterday, holds second place with 119 points. Carnegie Tech is third with 97, Dartmouth fourth with 83 and Pennsylvania fifth with 80.

The records of a representative group of eastern colleges follow:

	W.	L.	O.P.	Total Pts.

DUFFY FLORALS, LOGAN SQUARES PLAY TO TIE, 4-4

The Duffy Florals and the Logan Squares battled 13 innings to a 4 to 4 tie yesterday at the latter's park. It was a hurling duel between Vaughan, Miller and Palmer. Six double plays checked threatening tallies. Knyble opened the final frame with a triple, but his mates failed to drive him in. Score:

Navy Primes Grid Guns for Notre Dame

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—In spite of defeats by Davis and Elkins and Boston college, the Naval academy football team is not ready to concede that the season is to be without honors. Tomorrow the team will start preparing for its intersectional battle against Notre Dame next Saturday in Chicago.

It happened that the naval team struck opponents in its first two games who are particularly strong this year and who had made special preparations for the Navy.

In both games, particularly yesterday against Boston, there were flashes in the Navy's play which gave promise of better things as the season progresses. The work of Castree and Kohlhas, youthful and inexperienced backs, was so good that they will be given consideration for varsity berths. The second string linemen also attracted attention, doing better work than the regulars.

Every day this week will be devoted to special preparation for the Notre Dame game, and every effort will be made to put a far better team on Soldiers' Field than the one which represented the naval academy in its opening games.

AMERICAN GIANTS VANQUISH MILLS, 4 TO 2 AND 8 TO 1

The American Giants won a double header from the Mills at Mills stadium yesterday. The scores were 4 to 2 and 8 to 1, the second game being halted by darkness after six innings. In the opening contest Lockhart won a pitching duel from Lefty Sullivan, who hurled for the Mills. In the second game the Giants pounded Paddock. Scores:

Report Leonard Plans to Purchase Pitt Hockey Club

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 7.—(AP)—Benny Leonard, retired lightweight champion of the world, was expected to close a deal here tomorrow giving him the controlling interest in the Pittsburgh club of the National Professional Hockey league. The club, it was said, would remain in Pittsburgh, and the price to be paid for the franchise and players was reported as $125,000.

Injun Summer Sets Its Seal; Hunters Lazily Gaze at Teal

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Upper Illinois River, Oct. 7.—October has painted the landscape with vivid splashes of scarlet, orange, yellow, and brown. The jacksnipe and yellowlegs still linger in the mucky potholes where food is abundant, and the wary pintails are decoying to the live callers. It is great fun to spend a day in the marsh at this time of the year, when the warm Indian summer sun keeps the blind at a comfortable temperature.

Teal Missing.

We stowed our traps in the carefully masked blind at the edge of the pond down here about 10:30 this morning and immediately noted something missing from the picture. The whizz-bang ducks, the feathered cannonballs of the air, were not on deck.

You know the birds we have in mind, because early in the season only the blue winged teal is eligible to the name of cannonball.

The teal have gone through. They were here in numbers about the 23d of September. They have taken the widgeon with them. But the pintails and a few mallards are sticking around. When we came down to the pond this morning and started to put out the decoys we saw a flock of 15 mallards ["strikers" flying high at a regular migration altitude]. They were headed down river.

Forget to Shoot.

But you are inclined to forget the duck shooting down here [at least for a while] and do nothing more than enjoy the "autumn scene." Pintails circling high over the trees; scarlet sumac and purple asters forming a combination that hits you smack in the eye; jacksnipe darting, twisting, and sideslipping over your head [hanged if we could hit one this morning], and yellow punkins shining through the shocked corn.

Beat Ohio, Is Battle Cry at Northwestern

Encouraged by their 14 to 0 victory against Butler, Northwestern university's Wildcats return this afternoon to the business of preparing for the Ohio State invasion Saturday. The two teams will open the western conference race at Dyche stadium before an estimated attendance of 40,000, despite the two other major football games here the same afternoon.

The Wildcats came through the Butler contest in good fashion and while errors in generalship and several fumbles marred the offensive work, the Purple's defensive tactics exceeded expectations. With the exception of the single triple pass play that was released when needed to score the first touchdown, Coach Dick Hanley kept his more intricate plays under cover from Buckeye and Illinois scouts and the more varied attack will be brushed up during the week.

The offensive strength will be bolstered by the return of Heinie Bruder, sophomore half back, who did not play against Butler because of minor injuries. Bruder will work out with the squad again either today or tomorrow and it is believed that he will start at left half back. The other backs will be Holmer, Calderwood and Levison.

Both Ohio State and Northwestern are making extensive plans for the battle.

Eight special trains have been chartered by Columbus students and more than 2,000 fans will leave the Ohio capital Friday night for the game. The Bucks are also bringing their band of 135 pieces.

Pro Urge Grips Joie Ray Again; to Sign with Tex

New York, Oct. 7.—[Special.]—Joie Ray, leading American middle distance runner for nearly a decade, will race as an amateur no longer. The Kankakee flyer, eight times national mile champion, joint holder with Paavo Nurmi of the mile record of 4:12, and credited with having run a mile in better than 4:20 on sixty-five occasions, will sign with Tex Rickard as a professional tomorrow morning.

Sparta Beats Carpenters in Soccer Tilt

After scoring two goals in each period, Sparta called it a day and left Sparta field with a 4 to 0 decision over the Carpenters yesterday in a Midwest league soccer game. The Carpenters flashed an improved defense and better team work, but this was not enough to halt the scoring activities of the Sparta sharpshooters.

At the end of 20 minutes Matus at inside right received a pass and from an awkward angle scored on a 15 yard boot. After equal exchanges in midfield, the next score came on a brilliant shot by Burger at the end of 37 minutes.

In the second half the Sparta forwards crowded the Carpenters' defense so that when a shot was made by Joe Fencl it caromed off Matt Reid and went into the net. A bit later Burger scored his second goal.

In a curtain raiser Sparta trimmed the Cicero Meteors, 4 to 2, in a Czecho-Slovakian league engagement. Sparta-Carpenter lineup:

DODGERS WIN LEAD.

Oak Park Dodgers triumphed over the Maywoodians, 6 to 0, yesterday, placing the victors in a lead position in the Oak Leaves Inter-Athletic association. Oak Park Bruins were trounced by the Ferons, 31 to 6, in another league game.

Jack Berg, Spug Myers Top Malloy Fight Card Tonight

Jack Berg, English lightweight, and Spug Myers of Idaho will be the principals in the windup of Promoter Mique Malloy's boxing show tonight at White City. They will go ten rounds to a decision, weight 138 pounds.

Both fighters are popular among Chicago fans. Although Berg was stopped by Billy Petrolle of Fargo, N. D., in five rounds last summer, he previously boxed a thrilling ten round draw with the Fargo Express. In his other Chicago bouts he won from Pedro Amador of Panama and Freddie Mueller of Buffalo. He stopped Mike Waters of Los Angeles in nine rounds.

Myers' best fights in Chicago were with Mushy Callahan, the world's junior welterweight champion. Both fights went the limit of ten rounds and each was given a decision. Myers never retreats, and the fight should be full of action from start to finish. Both are under the weight.

George Kerwin and Paul Allen, local lightweights, will meet in the six round semi-windup. Kerwin is a stiff right hand puncher, while Allen is the better boxer.

Another interesting fight will bring together Roger O'Brien of the west side and Ted Henry of the south side. They will weigh 135 pounds, and box six rounds. The other fights will be between Danny Delmont and Jerry "Red" Dolan, Harry Schuman and Marty Fields, and Sammy Adduci and Walter Keller. The show will open at 8:15 o'clock.

Jimmy Byrne, the Louisville heavyweight who recently defeated Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis, and Johnny Squires of South Africa are ready for their ten round decision bout at the Hippodrome tomorrow night. Both wound up the harder part of training yesterday.

Billy Light of St. Paul and Jack McCarthy of the west side will meet in the feature of Promoter James C. Mullen's boxing show at the Cinderella hall, 5600 West Madison street, on Friday night. They met once before in St. Paul and Light was given the decision.

EAST SHIPS ITS BEST HERE FOR $20,000 STAKE

Hawthorne Gold Cup Tops Final Turf Card.

BY FRENCH LANE.

The last race meeting of the Chicago season, now more than five months old, will get underway this afternoon at Hawthorne. For 21 days the thoroughbreds will match speed and stamina there. At the end of this period the Lager racing law automatically ends turf activities in Illinois until May 1 of next year.

Hawthorne's fall meeting carries added importance because of the running of the $20,000 Hawthorne gold cup, at a mile and a quarter, on Thursday afternoon. The best handicap stars in the east left the Laurel track in Maryland yesterday for Hawthorne to hook up with the leaders in the western stake division in this race.

In the shipment due from Maryland today are Crusader, Sun Beau, Display, Sir Harry, and Hydromel. And ready to take them on in the rich event are Misstep, Mike Hall, Flat Iron, Sankari, Chicago, and Handy Mandy which have been running in the west throughout the season.

Scramble for Jockeys.

The race has already attracted more interest than any other all age stake fixture decided on the western turf this year. It promises to draw an enormous throng to the old Cicero course on the afternoon it is decided.

The scramble for jockeys for the gold cup was on yesterday. Trainer Mose Lowenstein signed by Mack Garner to ride Misstep and he will come from New York. Johnny Maibel is coming west to ride Display, Pete Walls will be here to ride Crusader, J. Craigmyle is coming to pilot Sun Beau, and L. Pichon will be in the saddle on Sir Harry. Hydromel will be guided by Willie Garner and Earl Pool will come from Kentucky to ride Chicago. L. McDermott will have a leg up on Mike Hall and Charley Allen has been signed to guide Sankari in that colt's quest for the $20,000 prize.

Handy Mandy and Chicago, great performers a year ago but which have been slow rounding into form this season, will get their final tuning up for the gold cup race in the Marquette purse which serves as the feature on Hawthorne's opening program this afternoon. This event is at a mile and a sixteenth and with Canaan and Tyrol also in the struggle should provide a fine contest.

Expect Larger Crowds.

Chicago showed flashes of his old time form at Lincoln Fields about 10 days ago and won a race handily. A few days later he was given another trial and failed. Handy Mandy's last start was in the Jockey club Gold cup at Belmont park, which was won by Reigh Count.

Because of its handy location to Chicago's loop the racing at Hawthorne last August attracted the biggest turf crowds of the year in Chicago. Play in the mutuel betting department was also reported to have been heavier there than at any other Chicago track. President John C. Schank expects the crowds to be larger during the fall meeting than they were in midsummer when the west side track was running in opposition to Saratoga in New York.

The Broadmoor purse, a sprint at six furlongs, is the other feature on today's program. It has attracted such flyers as Old Slip, Oh Say, Our Buddy, Chaff, Aleader, and Quick Return. The post time for the first race at Hawthorne during the early days of the season will be 2:15 o'clock.

U. S. GIRLS' POLO TEAM DEFEATS CALGARY, 7 TO 1

New York, Oct. 7.—[Special.]—A hard riding and accurate hitting United States team in the international girls' polo match easily rode to a decisive 7-1 victory over the Calgary women's team from the province of Alberta, Canada, on the Westchester Biltmore field here this afternoon. Today's victory settled the series in favor of the American women who had previously defeated the Canadians in the first match on Sept. 26.

The American girls' team work and coöperation were too great a handicap for the Canadians.

Badgers Loom as Threat for Big Ten Title

leyan, 17 to 7, was not entirely unexpected. The Wolverine coaches have not the material of former years.

Indiana was forced to extend itself to win from Oklahoma, 10 to 7. A fumbled punt in the final period paved the way for the Hoosiers' touchdown, which won the game. Indiana must show improvement in tackling and blocking this week if it hopes for a victory over Michigan at Ann Arbor on Saturday.

Purple Shows Strength.

Northwestern got away to a good start by winning from the strong Butler team, 14 to 0. Although the Purple showed some glaring weaknesses in its general play, these will be corrected before Saturday's game with Ohio State at Evanston. Northwestern executed a strong open and close attack which will become more pronounced with practice.

Nebraska gave evidence of its strength by winning from the strong Ames eleven, 12 toi 0. Kansas, another member of the Big Six, was victorious over Grinnell, 14 to 0, and the Kansas Aggies won from Oklahoma Aggies, 13 to 6.

In the east, defeat of the Navy by Boston college, 6 to 0, and the one point victory of the Army over Southern Methodist, 14 to 13, featured the contests. It was the second setback of the year for the Middies, who were beaten by Davis and Elkins, 2 to 0, the week before.

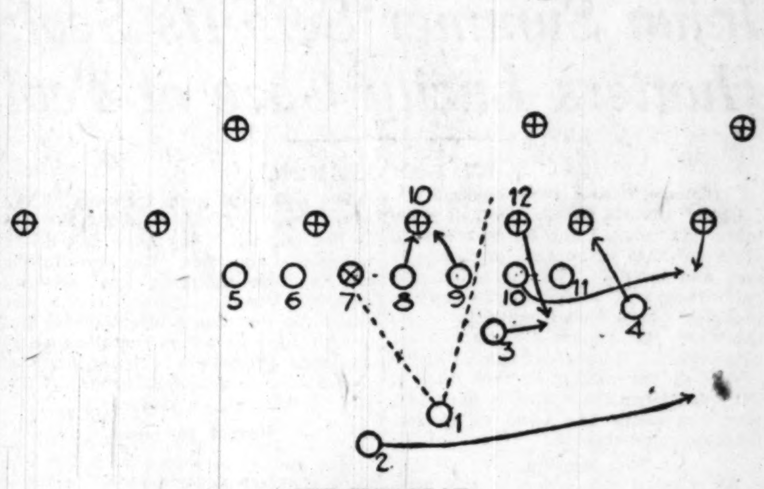
EL OUAFI, FRENCH RUNNER, JOGS TO WIN OVER PAYNE

Tulsa, Okla., Oct. 7.—(AP)—El Ouafi, the Franco-Algerian winner of the 1928 Olympic marathon, won his first race in America this afternoon when Andy Payne of Claremore, Okla., was forced to withdraw because of an attack of cramps. Payne, winner of C. C. Pyle's transcontinental foot race, dropped out after running ten miles. He was then more than a mile behind El Ouafi. The total distance was sixteen miles.

The Algerian continued to jog around the muddy track at the Tulsa baseball park in an effort to set a new record. The distance was changed to 16 miles by mutual agreement.

HOW TO PLAY FOOTBALL

DIAGRAM VI.



THE SPIN PLAY.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

This play is sprung from an unbalanced line. The ball is passed to No. 1 back, who steps to right and fakes a pass to No. 2 back, who continues to run to his right to draw out the defense. No. 1 back makes complete turn or spin to his right and then dashes through opening off No. 9 forward. No. 10 forward comes out to check defensive left end. No. 4 back helps his teammate on left put the defensive left tackle out of the play.

Defensive lineman, No. 12, drives through hole left by offensive No. 10 forward and No. 3 back blocks him to the right. If defensive forward, No. 12, does not come through the hole, No. 3 back charges straight ahead and takes off the defensive No. 12 forward. Players 8 and 9 of the offensive team block defensive player No. 10 to the left.

Success of this play depends largely upon how backs 1 and 2 fake their movements and conceal the ball. Back No. 2 should make an apparent effort to take the ball from back No. 1. Back No. 2 should bend over slightly with his arms crossed as if he had the ball. In making the spin, back No. 1 should bend over and conceal the ball as much as possible. After going through the hole, No. 1 back should pivot out of tackles and he should run low and with plenty of power. This is a good play to use in opponent's territory, but its success depends upon the blocking of the offensive players.

BEARS WIN, 12-6, BUT JOESTING GETS APPLAUSE

the Bears two touchdowns in the first quarter and thereafter they were content to play their lead.

When Cleve, Marine half back, fumbled in the first minutes Voss fell on the ball on the Minneapolis 28 yard line. White and Walquist advanced to the 16 yard strip, and here Mayer, who was substituted for Teberg, talked, penalizing his team to within one yard of the goal. On the third play the Bears scored, Sturtridge going over the Marines' left tackle. The former De Pauw player missed the place kick for the extra point.

Immediately after the kickoff Joesting fumbled a bad pass from center and Drews recovered 20 yards from the goal. Romney grabbed Walquist's pass and was downed on the Marines' 3 yard line, from which point Walquist went over on the second attempt. Drews' drop kick was wide.

The game bogged down under the midday sun, and although the Marines clicked off four first downs in the second quarter they failed to advance within the Bears' 40 yard line. But the second half was different.

Joesting Gets Busy.

Joesting's plunges and the Sandberg to Lundell pass combination coördinated until, as the final period started, the Marines reached the Bears' 33 yard line. Fifteen yards were stepped off when Romney held, and Joesting added two more on a plunge. Lundell took a pass for seven yards and Herb made it first down.

Again it was Joesting for five yards and again for two. Third down and inches from a score. Joesting plunged at the line, dove through the air, and the thing was done. Lundell tried to place kick, but it was low and blocked by the Bear forwards.

Twice more the Marines threatened, Joesting providing the fireworks. A faked end run with the blond giant crashing between Evans and Voss game him two lengthy runs, but he was unable to keep the pace.

GIANTS BEAT PACKERS

Green Bay, Wis., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—The Green Bay Packers dropped a hard fought 6 to 0 National league football game this afternoon to the New York Giants before a crowd of 7,000.

The cnly score of the combat came in the third quarter when Mule Wilson, former Texas star, went over after the ball had been put in scoring distance by a well executed lateral pass. A stone wall defense in the shadow of their own goal posts saved the New Yorkers three times, once in the final minute of play.

SINCLAIR "3 gas" SERVICE gives you Superior Engine Performance

HAVE you driven into a Sinclair Station lately? Have you noticed the three different gasolines—giving three different fuel services at Sinclair Dealers and Stations? If not—a new motoring experience is awaiting you!

Why three? Because Sinclair realizes that today one kind of gasoline no longer meets every motoring need or satisfies every motorist's demands. Engines are changing. TIMES are changing!

One kind of engine-performance requires high-test gasoline — another requires high-compression gas. Some drivers like a speedy, peppy, flashy gasoline — some, whose motors knock, want a gas to "stop knocks". Others prefer a gasoline which gives sustained power with long mileage.

Obviously, one gasoline cannot satisfy all these demands! But three gasolines can—and do—at Sinclair Stations and Dealers.

There is Sinclair Aircraft Gasoline for the motorist who wants quick starting, quick getaway, and flashy stop-and-go performance in traffic, with brilliant sustained speed along the highway. It gets away like a rocket! The Ace of high-test gasolines!

There is Sinclair H-C Gasoline for the motorist who wants High-Compression performance—who wants better low-gear performance—who wants to stop knocks and reach top-speed in his engine, smoothly, silently.

And thirdly, at three cents less per gallon, there is Sinclair "Regular" Gasoline—for the motorist who wants a gas full of eager power, yet economical in long mileage and low cost.

Each of these three Sinclair Gasolines is all-Gasoline—nothing is added. They contain no foreign substances and are sold upon their merits for superior performance.

Drive in wherever you see the Sinclair Sign—select your gasoline for your own car—to fit your own idea of what a gas should be and do, and get out of your engine the constant stream of power it is designed to give. Try Sinclair "Three-Gas" Service.

1..SINCLAIR AIRCRAFT GASOLINE

The ACE of High-Test Gasolines . . . for Speedy Take-off . . . Flashy Acceleration . . . Brilliant Performance.

It meets the specifications of the Army, Navy, and Bureau of Mines for AVIATION GASOLINE—domestic grade.

2..SINCLAIR H-C GASOLINE

Gives Higher Compression . . . Stops Knocks . . . Better Low-Gear Performance.

3..SINCLAIR GASOLINE {REGULAR}

Economy and Mileage . . . Full of Eager Power.

LEECH TRACES U.S. CAPITAL IN FOREIGN FIELDS

BY HARPER LEECH.

Although public utilities have absorbed the largest slice of American money invested in the securities of foreign corporations in the last few years, it constitutes less than 20 per cent of our ventures into private business abroad, and is just a million or so in excess of American investments in the securities of foreign railroads.

All our investments in the securities of such railroad companies do not, of course, represent construction and operation of railroads by Americans, but most of the amount does represent such activity. Americans cannot match the record of the British as builders of railroads into remote places, but the department of commerce reports, through Wendell E. Thorne of its investment and finance division, that Americans have invested $730,114,750 in the securities of foreign railroads since Jan. 1, 1914.

Cuba and Latin America account for much of the American capital in foreign railroading—and much railroad construction in Latin America has been auxiliary to American development of sugar and fruit enterprises. Undoubtedly much of our capital in foreign railroading does not show up in the totals of foreign railroad securities sold here because such roads are sometimes owned by American chartered companies.

Sugar accounts for $347,673,990 of the par value of the securities of foreign corporations publicly offered in our investment markets in the fourteen years to Jan. 1, 1928.—southward expansion that. Paper companies offered $346,769,-460 in the same period—northward expansion of American business into Canada mostly. Mining companies followed with $229,425,500.

To date most of the movement of American capital in mining has been into Latin America, but with Canada now assuming prominence as the world's best gold prospect just as the Rand begins to dwindle, we may expect American capital to go into Canadian mining on an ever increasing scale.

British capital will go into the same regions in great volume—London has ever been a hospitable money market for mining promoters. London is today deeply interested in the expansion of mining in Africa. Britain has led America in such foreign development, but American mining engineers, including such world famous figures as Herbert Hoover and John Hayes Hammond, have carried the American names and influence wherever modern mineral exploitation on a large scale has permeated. That is one of the arts or sciences in which American supremacy was developed early.

Investment in foreign oil companies in the last fourteen years by buyers of securities in our markets has amounted to $175,624,745. This is just a beginning, if present indications in the Caribbean region are a clew to the future.

I. C. C. PONDERS PROPOSED RAIL MERGER IN N. W.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—After many months of hearings and arguments the interstate commerce commision is now taking up for final consideration the largest railroad consolidation proposal presented under the 1920 transportation act. Arguments in behalf of the merger by counsel for the Great Northern and Northern Pacific, the two applicant roads, and against it by counsel for the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific and by various states and communities, were concluded during the past week. A decision early in 1929 is anticipated.

In their final pleas before the commission the two Northerns asked the commission to approve the scheme because:

Savings of $10,000,000 annually will represent operating economies on the two railroads which will react to the public benefit.

Any grouping of railorads in the northwest cannot be practical unless it includes the Northern Pacific and Great Northern, which jointly own the Burlington.

The Milwaukee road will not suffer, since adequate competition and commerce will remain and the offer to affected short and weak lines is fair.

PROVISION STOCKS INCREASE

Despite a reduction of 42,271,000 lbs of lard at western packing points in September stocks of 100,584,000 lbs at the end of last month were 12,000,000 lbs more than last year, and the largest at this time in twelve years or more.

Prices moved within a limited range with the close on lard 5c higher to 20c lower, aJnuary leading. Bellies were unchanged to 7½c lower, and short ribs practically unchanged, compared with a week ago. Prices follow:

HAMILTON SCHOOL DISTRICT includes all of the City of Hamilton and some adjoining territory. The city, located about twenty-five miles north of Cincinnati, is an important manufacturing and trading center, having four banks with combined resources of over $17,000,000. Ample transportation facilities are furnished by the Baltimore & Ohio, The Pennsylvania and The Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Western Railroads.

These bonds, authorized at an election for the purpose of purchasing additional school sites, are a direct obligation of the entire district, and are payable from unlimited ad valorem taxes levied against all taxable property located therein.

Authorized issue limited to $50,000,000, principal amount, to be outstanding at any one time under the Mortgage; presently to be outstanding $33,229,820, principal amount, including this issue. Coupon Bonds in the denomination of $1,000, registerable as to principal only, and interchangeable with fully registered Bonds in the denominations of $1,000 and authorized multiples thereof. Redeemable, on any interest date, at 110 and accrued interest, in the manner provided in the Indenture.

GUARANTY TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, Trustee.

Principal and interest payable in New York City without deduction for any tax or taxes imposed by the United States, or any state, county or municipality therein, which the Company or the Trustee may be required to pay or retain therefrom under any present or future law.

The issuance and sale of these Bonds have been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Mr. W. B. Storey, President of The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company, summarizes his letter regarding this issue, as follows:

These Bonds are direct obligations of The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company. The California-Arizona Lines First and Refunding Mortgage, under which these Bonds will be issued, has been executed by both The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company and The California, Arizona and Santa Fe Railway Company; all of the outstanding capital stock of the latter company is owned by The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company. The Mortgage constitutes a direct lien on all property now owned or hereafter acquired by The California, Arizona and Santa Fe Railway Company, which property now consists of an aggregate of 734 miles of line, including about 170 miles of double track constituting a part of the transcontinental main line of the Atchison System. The total funded indebtedness of The California, Arizona and Santa Fe Railway Company aggregates $38,169,820, principal amount, including this issue, equivalent to about $52,000 per mile of line covered by the Mortgage.

The Mortgage constitutes a first lien on an aggregate of 300 miles of line. The lien on 193 miles is subject only to the lien of the mortgage securing $4,940,000, principal amount, of First Mortgage Gold Bonds of Santa Fe, Prescott and Phoenix Railway Company, and the lien on 241 miles is subject only to the lien of the mortgage securing $4,127,500, principal amount, of First Consolidated Mortgage Gold Bonds of Southern Pacific Railroad Company. The lien on two branch lines is subject to the liens of mortgages securing $227,000 aggregate principal amount of bonds.

The following is a condensed statement of the income account of the Atchison System as set forth in the annual reports for each of the past five years ended December 31. The Fixed Charges include interest on the Adjustment Mortgage Bonds.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company and its affiliated companies, all of the capital stock of which is owned by The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company, own and operate a railway system aggregating about 12,350 miles of line, extending from Chicago, Illinois, to Los Angeles, San Francisco and San Diego, California, and Galveston, Texas, and including an extensive network of branches. At current quotations, the aggregate indicated market value of the Preferred and Common stocks of the Atchison Company amounts to over $580,000,000 as compared with about $282,000,000, aggregate principal amount, of funded indebtedness.

The First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds, Series A, 4½%, now outstanding, are listed on the New York Stock Exchange, and application will be made to list this additional issue.

Price 100 and Interest

We offer these Bonds, if, as and when issued and received by us, subject to the approval of all legal proceedings by S. T. Bledsoe, Esq., General Counsel of the Company, and by Messrs. Shearman & Sterling, of New York City. It is expected that delivery will be made on October 15, 1928, partly in the form of definitive bonds and the balance in the form of temporary bonds.

Marmon Motor Car Company
COMMON STOCK

We recommend the purchase of the above stock for the following reasons:

1. Earnings from January 1st, 1928 to June 30th, 1928, after depreciation, taxes and preferred dividends were equivalent to about $5.50 per share for the six months.
2. The company shipped more cars in the first six months of this year than during the whole of 1927.
3. Total funded debt outstanding is but $250,000.
4. Current dividend rate $4.00 per share shows an income return at present market of about 6.15%.
5. The company's new models have been very favorably received and the company is understood to be about one month behind on deliveries.
6. The company enjoys excellent management.
7. Compared with other motor stocks, Marmon Motor Common appears to be selling substantially out of line.

New York, Oct. 7.—[Special.]—If proof had been needed that the course of the stock market has not only come to dominate the whole financial situation but has confused the judgment of serious men regarding the whole financial future, the last weeks' events would have provided it.

The bankers' convention at Philadelphia, the annual deliberations of which are usually addressed to the public finances, the condition of trade, home and foreign currencies, practically devoted all its discussion of last week to the stock speculation and disturbances in credit which had accompanied it. Considering the formal and conservative character of these annual conferences, the frank talk indulged in regarding the Wall street market was as remarkable and unusual as the speculative movement which inspired it.

Market Ignores Warning.

But the stock market's response to the plain spoken comments of the bankers was quite as usual, in the light of all experience. It is not at all difficult to say in what manner it would have received at any time, even in the comparatively recent past, public description of existing values are unwarrantably inflated, positive expression of judgment that the speculation must break down, and discussion of possible methods of curtailing the credit facilities on which the present market has been built up.

Yet neither these distinctly unfavorable judgments from responsible quarters, nor the week's official evidence that credit was pyramided last month at a pace which, if continued for a year would double even the present abnormally great commitments, appeared to abate in the least the speculative enthusiasm.

Adverse Conditions Beaten Off.

There will be different explanations for this seemingly complete disregard of developments which would in ordinary times have caused at least a halt, a cautious reconsideration of the speculative position, and that may yet be witnessed. In the light of the year's experiences, however, the market's attitude is comprehensible, for the last six months have presented a fairly continuous story of the speculative movement resisting and eventually shaking off the effect of a series of distinctly adverse developments.

DRY GOODS SALES REFLECT BETTER FARM OUTLOOK

Country merchants visiting Chicago's wholesale market in the last few weeks reflected a general tone of satisfaction with agricultural and business conditions in their respective localities, according to Porter J. Case, general sales manager for Marshall Field & Co.'s wholesale store.

Their optimism has found outlet in the placing of more business than last year, Mr. Case said. Nearly all have reported universal good feeling among farmers and storekeepers.

Prospects of better business in the wake of good crops have enabled the merchants to put more stock on their shelves. Mr. Case said that sales at Field's have been averaging higher in most departments, with road sales particularly good.

Practically all of Field's early fall business has been cleared away in shipments, he asserted, and cold weather is now awaited with the expectation that winter sales will reach a new record.

The cool snap late in September brought early demands for winter goods. Sales then also made up for a slight falling off in business during previous weeks.

Mr. Case found that among the items in greatest demand were silk and woolen goods; the dress department business was a strong feature. Flannels, tweeds and broadcloths for coats have featured woolen sales. Canton silk has been in demand.

Transparent and printed velvets have remained unusually strong in demands for dress goods, Mr. Case said. Marshall Field's has experienced much the same reaction to these velvets as reported elsewhere. Retail merchants have been reluctant to stock up heavily upon them, fearing a possible loss in popularity, but have found it necessary to make frequent re-orders to cope with the demand from their customers.

TOPICS OF FINANCE, TRADE AND INDUSTRY

One hundred thousand shares of common in the recapitalized Sikorsky Aviation corporation have been privately placed. Application is to be made to list the stock on the New York curb and the Chicago stock exchange. The company has a selling agreement with Curtiss.

A syndicate including the National City company, New York and Chicago; the Guaranty company of New York, Bankers Trust company, Lee Higginson & Co., Harris Forbes & Co., and Brown Brothers & Co., is offering today at 100 and interest an additional issue of $14,691,000 of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, California and Arizona lines, first and refunding mortgage 4½ per cent bonds, series A, due March 1, 1962. The bonds are redeemable on any interest date at 110 and accrued interest.

GRAINS ADVANCE IN WEEK DESPITE BEARISH OUTLOOK

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

That grain values can be advanced in the face of adverse conditions when it seemed among the impossibilities has been demonstrated of late. There has been a refreshing change from the long period of pessimism, accumulating supplies and limited foreign demand, with a moderate volume of speculative trade. Wheat prices have advanced 8⅝@10¼c from the recent low point, and finished last week with net gains of 1⅞@2½c. Corn futures are up 12¼@12½c, oats 4¼@6c, with December leading, and rye has led all grains in the upward movement, gaining 14⅜@16⅝c from the low level.

The close on Saturday was around the top prices, with corn up 4¼@5c, oats 1@1¼c, rye in Chicago 5¼@6c, and in Winnipeg 8¼@10⅞c, the latter in October. The volume of trading in grain futures has increased fairly as compared with the finish a week ago in wheat, corn and rye, with a little loss in oats.

Wheat Statistics Bearish.

Wheat statistics are bearish, with a continued accumulation of supplies despite the unusual holding tendency of American farmers in the northwest. On the other hand, Canadian farmers have continued the record marketing and have delivered around 190,000,000 bu since Aug. 1.

The Winnipeg wheat market has given a striking demonstration of what it can do in the face of the most bearish conditions that ever existed.

With cash handlers having hedged country purchasers in October, expecting higher grades, while the Canadian grades were largely low, they discovered that they were in an uncomfortable position and their covering was largely responsible for the big advance, with net gains of 5¼@7⅞c, October leading. The finish on October was $1.23, December $1.21, and May $1.26⅝.

There has been a large accumulation of wheat futures by strong interests on the belief that values were too low. Politics have also been a factor.

The government report on Tuesday is not expected to change spring wheat estimates materially from that of 323,000,000 bu last month. Private reports average 316,000,000 bu, while last year's harvest was 319,000,000 bu. Prices for the week follow:

	December.	March.	May.

Corn Report Due on Tuesday.

The corn trade expects the government report due on Tuesday to show close to 2,900,000,000 bu. Last month its estimate was 2,931,000,000 bu. Private reports averaged 2,965,000,000 bu, a loss of 105,000,000 bu in September. Last year's harvest was 2,774,000,000 bu.

Quality is above the average and the crop has dried out unusually well.

Trade estimates are that more than 5,000,000 bu of new corn are already under contract for November and December shipment to Chicago, an unusual quantity for so early in the season.

Stocks of old corn are being readily absorbed and holdings by the bull leaders have been reduced considerably below 1,000,000 bu of white and yellow corn, while industries have absorbed a greater part of the 2,900,000 bu of mixed corn delivered at the close of September.

Sentiment as regards futures is more friendly to the buying side on breaks. December corn closed Saturday at 83@83⅛c; March, 85½@85⅝c; May, 87¾@87⅞c. Prices for the week follow:

	December.	March.	May.

Industries Buying Oats.

Industries are buying cash oats and futures, and are doing a fair amount of hedging, while the trade is spreading between December and May, but the volume of business is not heavy.

Expectations are that the movement will be increased within the next few weeks. Closing prices were well toward the top, with December, 44c; March, 45¼c, and May, 46⅜c. Prices for the week follow:

	December.	March.	May.

Rye Market Oversold.

Rye futures in Chicago and Winnipeg, particularly the latter, have been heavily oversold, especially for October, which led the advance in all markets. Canada and the United States have short crops of rye. The trade has apparently lost track of this factor because of the bearishness in wheat. Export business has not developed to any extent, and a large part of the speculative trade is in spreading between wheat and rye and with the northwest.

There has been 500,000 bu of rye bought in Duluth to come to Chicago and one small carload is due here this week.

G. R. Kinney.

L. J., St. Petersburg, Fla.: G. R. Kinney company, Inc., reported net income of $801,546 for 1927, as compared with $577,031 for 1926.

This was equal to $15.05 a share earned on the preferred and $6.18 a share on the common stock in 1927, against $10.63 a share on the preferred and $2.38 a share on the common in 1926.

After payment of dividends there was a surplus of $370,432 for the year 1927, which compares with a deficit of $97,148 for 1926.

Profit and loss surplus stood at $864,924 at the end of 1927, against $509,764 at the close of 1926.

Current assets were $7,035,900, and current liabilities $1,901,114 at the end of 1927.

This left net working capital of $5,134,786, which compares with $4,950,929 at the end of 1926.

For the first six months of 1928 the company reports net income of $297,633, against $291,015 for the first six months of 1927.

This is equal to $1.42 a share on the no par common stock in the 1928 period, compared with $1.23 a share in the 1927 period.

Surplus stood at $810,878 on June 30, 1928.

Current assets on that date were $7,512,972, and current liabilities $2,672,147, leaving net working capital of $4,840,825.

No dividends have been paid on the common stock since Jan. 3, 1927.

The preferred deserves a fairly good rating.

The common has merit, but is pretty much of a speculation at present.

The company operates a chain of about 272 shoe stores in 235 cities in 36 states.

25 Million People Can't Be Wrong

When 25 million people make up their minds that they want a change—when that many people demand new products, new sensations, new results—there are only two things an industry or business can do: meet the wish or look for the nearest exit.

And there are 25 million new people—every 10 years. Their views are new, their tastes are new, their likes are new—and emphatic.

How may you in your industry or your business prepare to meet the inevitable demand for changes from oncoming generations? Charles F. Kettering writes a thought-provoking article on this question in the October Magazine of Business, in which he draws richly from his experience as president of General Motors Research Corporation.

Why Tight Money?

Why should business be asked to pay more for its commercial requirements than it has been accustomed to pay for many months past? What is the underlying cause of credit stringency in the richest country in the world, the gold reserves of which a short time ago were a point of international discussion? What effect has the tremendous activity in the Stock Exchange had on our credit facilities? Is it a critical situation? Can it be relieved?

George E. Roberts, vice president, The National City Bank of New York, answers these questions for the business leader in the October issue of the Magazine of Business. Out of his years of experience and study and with simple directness and easy comprehension he presents a subject that is being discussed wherever business men ask and answer the question "How's Business?"

Testing Air Travel For Business

Does flying really save the business man's time? How much does weather interfere? How much does air travel cost? What future effect will aviation have on business?

Out of a year of flying for business, 44,327 air miles of line-of-duty travel, R. L. Putman of the Magazine of Business answers these questions in the light of his own first hand experience in adapting the airplane to the travel needs of an executive in a typical business enterprise.

NIGHTMARE

By GERALD MYGATT

SYNOPSIS.

Patricia Shane is being entertained in one of New York's night clubs by Fanning Eddgar. She is annoyed by the insulting stare of a hawk-nosed man on the opposite side of the room. At the table with the Hawk are a blonde, coarse looking woman and a slight young man who appears to be drunk. The head waiter calls young Eddgar away from his table on a pretext, and as soon as he is gone the Hawk approaches Patricia and tries to engage her in conversation. He is interrupted by a good looking young chap who orders him back to his place. The newcomer introduces himself as Jimmy Kirklin. Patricia tells Kirklin that she thinks the hawk-nosed person had asked the head waiter to get rid of her escort. A fight ensues and Fanning Eddgar walks in on it. He pays the head waiter to restore order and Patricia introduces Kirklin to him and then asks Fanning to take her home. A few minutes later, as Kirklin leaves the place with his companion, he is followed by a man on the street who appears to be drunk.

The hawk-nosed person, known as Bart Stoman, after taking the blonde woman home, makes for his secret hide-out and there goes over a number of old newspaper clippings dealing with the disappearance of the fourteen year old daughter of Col. La Verry, who offers a million dollars reward for the safe return of the girl. Stoman gloats over the fact that the pictures of Sylvia La Verry resemble the girl he saw in the cabaret with Fanning Eddgar, except for a red birthmark shown in the pictures.

The next day, which is Saturday, Patricia and Jimmy spend the afternoon together and then Patricia takes the evening train to her home in Far Harbor, Long Island, after Jimmy promises to come out to Far Harbor on Monday. Patricia goes to meet Jimmy at the end of the bus line on Monday, and is bitterly disappointed when he doesn't appear.

INSTALLMENT XIX.

ROUGH WORK.

A man servant who looked like an ape appeared noiselessly and stood attentively in the doorway with the eternally expectant expression of one who lives by taking another man's orders.

"Good morning, Jake," said Stoman pleasantly. "Let's see. Cantaloupe, if you have it thoroughly chilled; two poached eggs; coffee and toast as usual. And, O, yes! I'm going to the country today and I may do some motoring. May stay over night; I don't know. Lay out the things I'll want and pack a bag. Got the papers and mail?"

"Yes, sir; I'll bring them right in."

"I'll go through them after breakfast. No hurry this morning, Jake."

The man turned away with a half salute and Stoman smiled privately. Not for nothing had Bart Stoman given Jake certain invaluable information, legal in nature and in origin, by means of which Jake—other name never mentioned—had avoided an enforced railway journey terminating at Leavenworth penitentiary. Jake, it seemed, had been charged with robbing the United States mails and shooting, though providentially not killing, the driver of a mail truck. And not even Chicago gunmen fool much with the United States mails, there being an idea current that it's a game that isn't healthful. Anyway—it was some years back—Jake saw Stoman and Jake proved an alibi; and presently Jake was working as Stoman's man servant.

Friends of Stoman's chaffed him now and then about Jake's apelike countenance and gorillalike shoulders, but Stoman only laughed and declined to make comment. It was possible that he could have found a more experienced butler-valet, but Jake possessed certain other qualifications for his job which made him extremely desirable. So Stoman paid Jake well and Jake was happy; in addition Stoman kept his mouth shut and so Jake—his employer had impressed this upon him quitely definitely—Jake stayed out of the pen. Thus Jake, who never even so much as thought of getting another job, took orders and obeyed them as effectively as a well tooled motor car obeys its driver; and Jake knew that nothing was impossible, because this had been proved to him. And that, in short, was Jake. It is probable that he was genuinely fond of Bart Stoman. At any rate what Bart said went.

"Ordinary clothes for you, Jake. Nothing flashy."

Stoman did not pick up the paper until he had finished his eggs. Dull! Same every Monday! Piffle! Bart Stoman turned the pages without interest, stretched himself, yawned, and was about to lay the paper down when a pair of printed words caught his eye. He shook his head with a jerk and focused sharply. Then, very softly, he whistled.

Now he stood up abruptly and yelled, "Jake!"

"Yes, sir?" The ape face and gorilla shoulders were in the doorway.

"Plans changed, Jake. Got to hurry, fast. Get my stuff laid out quick. Wait a minute. May need you. Don't know yet. But don't go out till you hear from me, if it's a week. Get me?"

"Yes, sir."

"Ordinary clothes for you, Jake. Nothin' flashy. Wait a minute. Press that cop's uniform of yours and pack it. Don't forget black shoes to go with it. Badge, too. Everything. Yeh, and while you're at it you might bring along a couple of persuaders."

"Blackjacks?" The man's eyes came to life with the word.

"That's what I said. No gun work this trip, Jake. If there is any I'll take care of it. Put the persuaders in the thermos bottle, like we did last time. They won't open that. Put a little hootch in it, too, in case they do. Get a coil of rope and bring a half dozen silk handkerchiefs. Go over to Tenth avenue to get the rope—don't get it nearer—but hurry back. Need you here. That's all. Now pack my stuff."

"Tyin' rope?" he asked after a moment.

"Yes, you damn fool. Pack some string, too, in case you feel like flyin' a kite." Stoman eyed the man sarcastically, then smiled one-sidedly and said: "I don't mean that about the string, Jake. I was only kidding. Good God, you'd bring it!"

"No, sir," said Jake with pride. "You always think I ain't got any brains. Well, I ain't. But what you tell me to do I do."

"That's the ticket," said L. Barton Stoman. "That's all, Jake. Rope, handkerchiefs, blackjacks, thermos bottle, hootch, uniform complete with shoes, cap, and badge. Also night stick."

He wheeled and hurried into his bedroom, closing two connecting doors. Then he sat down by the telephone, called a number.

"That you, Queenie. Sleepy? Snap out of it. Read the papers, all of 'em. Nope, use your head. Do what I say. Nothin' goin' to be said now. Also get this. I was goin' on a trip today. I ain't. You are. You'll get together with Joe and wait for me. Immediate job. No questions. Get your clothes on; country week-end. Meet me at eleven sharp—let's see," he pulled out his watch, "that's in thirty-five minutes—all right, then, make it eleven-ten—meet me at the Eighth avenue entrance, Eighth avenue, of the Pennsylvania station—just inside the doors. Eleven-ten, Eighth avenue entrance, Pennsylvania station, just inside. Got it? Say it over. . . . Right."

Stoman hung up the receiver, shook his head savagely, rubbed his eyes as if to remove the last remaining cobwebs of sleep and asked for another number. Presently he got it.

"Dr. Lasten," he said to a feminine voice.

"Who is this, please?" the nurse asked.

"Mr. Stobell, an old patient."

"I beg your pardon?"

"Stobell, I said—S-T-O-B-E-L-L," he spelled it.

"I'll ask the doctor."

"That's right," Stoman grumbled over an empty wire, "ask him. Watch the bird jump."

Dr. Lasten must have jumped, because a deep, booming voice buzzed in Stoman's ear.

"Leo?" asked Stoman crisply.

"Me?—Yeh—O, I beg your pardon," haughtily, "who is this, please?"

"O, is this Dr. Lasten?" Stoman's voice asked with certain blandness. "Well, this is Mr. Stobell, an old patient of yours. You have office hours this morning, Dr. Lasten?"

"Yes, eleven to one."

"Well, Doctor, I have a most unusual case and I couldn't think of discussing it during office hours. Will you be in this afternoon, Doctor?"

"Say, I was going to play golf——"

"I'm sorry, Doctor, but it's most important. This is a most urgent case. Suppose, Dr. Lasten, that I came to consult with you at one o'clock?"

"That's my luncheon hour."

"I am sorry, Doctor, but my case is urgent. Interesting, too. And when I say interesting—one o'clock, Doctor?"

"I shall be here," said the deep, booming voice.

Bart Stoman turned from the telephone with a moody shake of his head. Again his eyes sought the folded newspaper he had retained in his hand.

"It means we've got to hurry," he mumbled. "Rough work, maybe, and I don't like rough work. Well, we've got to get there first. If the old guy dies on us we'll be as wet as Poydras Parish. Four days! The answer is we've got to cop the girl tonight."

Good morning!

Behold another screen monument erected as tribute to the doughty news reel camera man, the part which is Buster Keaton being, as usual, just plain granite so far as any ripple on the surface is concerned.

As a rule, the advertisedly comical Mr. Keaton fails to bring laughter to these ruby lips, but in the case of "The Cameraman," well — that was different. All alone in a projection room I sat, grinning like a Cheshire cat (poetry); behind the grin feeling sorry for the poor little devil who was Luke, and thereby experiencing exactly the emotions the makers of this here comedy had hoped would be aroused by their bebby.

The hapless Buster isn't a news reel cameraman when the film opens. He's a tintype photographer. Into his line of vision bursts a beautiful creature, escorted, and, it may be said, practically entirely surrounded by, a whirlwind of a news reel cameraman who is there photographing madly a visiting celebrity and the crowds gathered to feast their eyes upon same.

Buster (Luke) trails the damsel, discovers she work for (a little advertising matter introduced here by the producing company) and decides forthwith to take pictures for the news reels. It is with his adventures following this momentous decision that further action concerns itself.

Though many of the situations are farcical and practically impossible, they are nevertheless humanly appealing; conducive, I believe to the "stomach laugh" which our editorial writers are so fond of laughing.

Direction is smart. Leading lady pretty, supporting cast snappy. Action is swift, hokum sure, ending happy (poetry).

So, folks, "The Cameraman" is in your hands. Guess you better treat it kindly.

THE CAST.

The Masked Stranger	Tim McCoy
Rosa	Sylvia Beecher
Owens	Roy D'Arcy
Inez	Polly Moran
Carlos	Richard R. Neill
Wells	J. Gordon Russell

Wal, this is jest fair, the bookoo Col. Tim McCoy being hampered considerably by the story matter, and a wooden leading lady. Many more such vehicles and blondes and the rising tide of McCoy popularity is due to ebb with a vengeance.

The plot of the piece is the one about the Spanish grandee and his beautiful sister, whose California land grant is swiped by outlaws. Mr. McCoy, wearing a perfectly revealing mask, come Dougfairbanksiantly (Ah, there's a woid for you!) to the rescue, and you know what happens without being told, because it's what always happens when this particular spigot is turned on.

Two or three able players—you'll recognize their names in the cast—support Timothy, who, as always, throws himself heart, soul and agile body into his performance, but the things they are called upon to do—particularly the antics of Polly Moran as Cousin Inez—are, if you will pardon me, bologney and banana oil. And DON'T let's talk about the subtitles.

BUT, said Pollyana brightly, the scenery is swell.

Tags on Sale Today to Help Children of Chicago's Poor

Every Chicagoan who can spare a hundred dollar bill is expected to exchange it today for one of the blue, starshaped tags that will be sold by the Children's Benefit league to provide food and clothing and shelter for the city's dependent little folk for another year. Those who can't afford the hundred dollars may be able to slip a ten or a five, or even a one dollar bill into the cannisters carried by 5,000 women who will sell the tags today.

All the inmates of fifty institutions for the care and support of homeless children are anticipating the results of the day, during which it is hoped to raise $150,000. The proceeds of this one day on which Chicago people are asked to aid these children provides the major portion of their operating expenses for another twelve months, and every cent that can be raised is especially needed this year. Mrs. Edward Carrothers is president of the league.

5,000 Will Campaign Today for Chicago's Storm Relief Quota

Chicago's lagging fund for the relief of hurricane victims in the West Indes and Florida will be accelerated today by the starting of an intensive drive to complete the total of $300,000 assigned as the city's quota. Five thousands workers from four agencies, the Association of Commerce, 150 American Legion posts of Cook county, the Illinois Federation of Labor, and nineteen Kiwanis clubs will start out this morning to augment the $195,000 that has been reported up to last night.

William R. Dawes, president of the Association of Commerce, called attention yesterday in an urgent appeal to Chicago business men to devote their time and energy to the fund, to the fact that a least a dozen of the larger cities of the country have completed their quotas, while Chicago alone remains dilatory. While in the east a few days ago, he said, he found it not at all pleasant to listen to the reports of the response of other cities, while Chicago lags behind.

The Question.

Would you like to travel from the United States to Europe in the new German Zeppelin?

The Answers.

G. C. Gobleman, 2224 Sedgwick street, clerk—I believe I would, if I had the money to spare. I understand a ticket costs $3,000. That's a lot of cold cash for a short trip. If it were to go into the water one would lose both self and money. Perhaps in time everybody will be crossing the ocean by airship or airplane.

Miss Evelyn Cochran, 60 East Walton place, student — I have been up in an airplane, and I don't suppose there would be much difference between an airplane flight over land and a flight across the Atlantic in a Zeppelin. Still—I don't know about that kind of a trip. Perhaps it would be better to wait until the Zepp's two or three hundredth voyage.

J. L. Shaloway, 1137 Pratt boulevard, salesman—That would be a very interesting trip. The Shenandoah made the trip from Germany to the States. I believe transoceanic flying is safer in a Zeppelin than in an airplane. But either one would afford great experiences.

Miss Etta Wismer, 4456 Oakenwald avenue, cashier — I wouldn't like to go across on that Zeppelin. I would rather go across in an airplane, if it were a choice of one or the other. With either I should say good-by and trust to luck to get us over.

Harry Jewett, Elmhurst, Ill., artist—Yes, sir, I would like to be a passenger on its return trip. I served with the French and the American armies during the war and I would appreciate the opportunity to visit Europe after these ten years of peace and reconstruction. I have had several airplane rides.

Britain Trains Men for Jobs in Dominions

Acts to Readjust Home Surplus of Labor.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 7.—After a decade of "muddling through," Britain is at last admitting an alarming employment situation, which is not going to cure itself automatically.

England's unemployment problem has been complicated by the immobility of her labor. The free movement of labor which distinguishes the situation in the United States is unheard of here. A miner takes up the work his father and grandfather did before him, lives in the same little village, and bequeaths his birthplace and his trade to his son.

If the mines on which he depends for a living close, he waits for them to reopen. If they do not reopen, he starves. He is attached to the land by custom almost as firmly as were his ancestors, the serfs, in feudal days.

An extensive system is in operation, training men for new employment at home and abroad and transporting them to the localities where their labor is wanted.

There are two overseas training camps, one at Claydon and the other at Brandon, both in East Anglia. They are caring for 2,300 men, already accepted by the dominion authorities of Canada and Australia. After training that will prepare them for a considerable shift in occupation—from coal mining to farming is the commonest change—that these men will be sent to the dominions which want them on a plan which provides for their passage and allows them a grant to take care of their initial expenses, while guaranteeing them employment.

THEATER

By a change of arrangements made late Saturday, "Young Love," which had been bulletined for next Sunday in the Princess, will be put into the Woods. "The Big Pond" will be taken from Chicago after Saturday night's performance in the latter theater. As "The Five-O'Clock Girl" is now scheduled for the 28th in the Woods, there are for "Young Love" but two weeks of available time there; but, if the populace betray a liking for the piece within that time, it will be transferred the 28th to the Princess, which is meanwhile to be kept in the darkness that has enshrouded it since William Hodge was there in "Straight Through the Door."

"Golden Dawn," the piece prepared for the dedication last season of Hammerstein's Theater in New-York, is scheduled for the Grand Opera-House when Ed Wynn shall have ended his prosperous engagement.

Ted Lewis and his bandsmen will headline next week in the Palace; and this announcement is good news to a great many persons in Chicago.

The Goodman Memorial Theater calls attention to the omission from yesterday's list of Chicago playbills in The Tribune of "The Little Clay Cart," which will be revived Wednesday night for the start of that establishment's fourth season. As the sole value of the list resides in its being complete, it is needless to explain that the omission was an oversight of the editor's.

Kolb and Dill have quarreled and parted, after being together so many years that they have seemed to be more nearly like one person than even McIntyre and Heath. They went from the burlesque-shows into leadership of a San-Francisco venture with the skits and sketches written for and put on by Weber and Fields in New-York, and were so popular there that the habitants, when at length Weber and Fields took one of their celebrated rosters to California, said that Kolb and Dill were by far the better. . . . Anyway, they have parted; and Richard Carle, who has been in Hollywood the last four years, is now joined as costar with Dill in a piece named "Happy Days!"

Composer's Airs Revalued by Kreisler Bow

Violinist's Concert Here Thrills Critic.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

If other things fail in music, it is always a good plan to turn to Fritz Kreisler. He is to the violinistic fraternity what any one who may happen to occupy the headlines in the news section this morning may be to that one's walk of life in politics, baseball, aviation, or what have you. He was never better than when he appeared at the Auditorium yesterday afternoon.

He played the Brahms Sonata in A major with Carl Lamson and put things into it that no one has ever heard from Brahms; he played the Bruch Concerto in G minor in a way that would have delighted Bruch; he took Wieniawski's "Souvenir de Moscow," rewrote it a bit, renamed it "Airs Russes," and Wieniawski would have been glad to hear what could be made out of his venerable conservatory piece.

Mr. Kreisler charms with a tone and hypnotizes with a phrase. He is a virtuoso when virtuosity is desirable, but he is much too good a musician to be highbrow about it then or any other time. He is simply one of the season's musical delights.

The Russian Symphonic choir, clad in red, blue, and gold, appeared at the Studebaker yesterday afternoon under the direction of Basile Kibalchich, clad as any unassuming American man would be on a Sunday afternoon. They are as much out of the ordinary vocally as sartorially. It would seem to be the peculiar province of Russian choirs to have a subcellar bass or two in their forces, but this does not account for the peculiar twanging lilt of their tones, and not in the least for the extraordinary flexibility and color of the songs on their program.

Mr. Kibalchich believes that such voices can be put to orchestral uses, in fact he programmed excerpts from two movements of Schubert's "Unfinished" Symphony yesterday, vocalized without words. It was an interesting experiment, but I do not believe it will cause Mr. Stock to change his plans for the season. My own preference went to works like Bortniansky's "Easter Song," or Archangelsky's setting of the First Psalm, where a solo tenor named Dedovich displayed a voice which perhaps in the pure light of intellect would not get much further than many other tenor voices, but which when used went straight through intellect and into the emotions.

The Chicago People's Symphony orchestra, P. Marinus Paulsen, conductor, began its third season at the Eighth Street theater yesterday afternoon. It is a considerably better organization than it has been before, both tonally and in the alertness with which it responds to conductorial demands. Milan Lusk, violinist, the soloist of the afternoon, gave an excellent performance of D'Ambrosio's none too exciting Concerto in B minor, and later appeared in a "Romance" of his own. The orchestra featured Beethoven's "Eroica" Symphony as principal number, with Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro" Overture, a Glazounow Waltz, and the Chabrier "Espana" as other selections.

Beginning the by no means inconsiderable task of ten recitals as his contribution for the season, Albert Labartha, Chicago pianist, and an artist of an older school, presented what he called a popular program at Lyon & Healy hall yesterday afternoon. The scope of his series is best explained by his own program note, which states that his recitals are intended for the earnest students, who must consider them as educational classes of interpretation, and for the livers of the best literature of the pianoforte.

BEG YOUR PARDON

Through an error in Sunday's Tribune, the tag day today for the Chicago Children's Benefit league was described as being unauthorized by the city council. It is not only authorized by the council and by proclamation of the mayor, but is highly endorsed.

The Council of Jewish Women will hold a meeting this afternoon in the Masonic temple at 32 West Randolph street instead of in the Capitol building, as stated in The Tribune yesterday.

Josephine Munroe and Herbert Lloyd, New Yorker, to Wed

BY THALIA

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Andrews Munroe of 1284 Lake Shore drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Josephine, to Herbert Lloyd, [illegible] of Mrs. Thomas Crimmins of 176 East 72d street, New York City, and the late Herbert Lloyd. Miss Munroe attended Miss Masters' school at Dobbs Ferry and made her debut last winter. The Munroes gave a debut reception for her at their residence last fall, and a ball at the Blackstone during Christmas week, and her grandparents, the Frank G. Logans, gave an elaborate Russian ball for her. She is a member of the Junior league and took part in the children's theater performances last winter. Mr. Lloyd is a grandson of Mrs. Francis G. Lloyd and the late Francis G. Lloyd of New York. He attended St. Mark's school and Harvard university. He is a member of the Hasty Pudding club, the Institute of 1770, D. K. E., Iroquois, and Spee clubs. The wedding is to take place in January.

All this exciting news arrived with Mrs. Munroe and Miss Josephine when they came from the Munroe place, Field Point Park, Greenwich, Conn., at Saturday, arriving on the Century, accompanied by Mr. Lloyd, and there was a dinner party Saturday night to make the thrilling announcement, after they had attended the Smith-Pirie Jr. wedding. Mrs. Munroe and her daughter are to remain in Chicago all this week and then return to Greenwich to stay until the first of November.

The Grand Duke Alexander of Russia is delaying his visit to Chicago for a few weeks, according to a cable received from him explaining that the serious illness of the mother of Grand Duchess Xenia will detain him. His arrival was set for Oct. 28, but probably it will be the middle of November before he does come. For his Chicago visit he is to occupy the bungalow atop the Hotel Sherman, and is to speak at a dinner to be given in the Sherman ballroom. A number of interesting parties are being arranged for that occasion, and Mrs. Waller Borden is the chairman of a committee of patronesses, the committee including two score prominent women who will receive him officially.

A little about the grand duke's background is pertinent and interesting. He is married to the Grand Duchess Xenia Alexandrovina, eldest sister of the late Nicholas II. He is recognized today as one of the heads of the former Russian imperial family. His father was the Grand Duke Nicholaievitch, viceroy of Tiflis, and one of his brothers married the sister of King Constantine of Greece. The former Grand Duke Alexander, who is now middle aged, served in his early years as an officer in the Russian navy, and in that capacity twice visited this country, the first time in 1893 during the World's Fair. Then, and in 1913 when he came again, he received many signal social distinctions in New York, Newport, and other places.

The busy Drama league has cards out now for a reading of "Just Out," by Edouard Bourdet, a new and popular French play, to be given by Marie de Mare Stein at the College club on Thursday morning. Mme. Stein has translated the play herself.

Mrs. Hugh Johnston McBirney, Mrs. James C. Ames, Mrs. John C. Pitcher, Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson, Mrs. Samuel T. Chase, Mrs. Victor C. Sanborn, Mrs. Mason Phelps, Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman, Mrs. John A. Chapman, and Mrs. Tiffany Blake have been added to the Hoover hostesses whom Mrs. Silas H. Strawn has been corralling to entertain groups before their respective receiving sets when Mr. Hoover is on the air.

Another of the political activities being sponsored by society women is a luncheon to be given at the Drake on Oct. 18 by the Judge Swanson Woman's organization. Mrs. Hall Roosevelt is in charge of the arrangements, and has 6 vice chairmen to assist her. Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick has been invited to be honorary chairman of the organization.

Mrs. Charles King Corsant, who is giving a luncheon today at the Arts club and a tea this afternoon at the same place in the interests of the Salvation Army drive, for which she recently accepted the post of head of the women's division, is to be hostess for the weekly luncheon meeting of the opera box committee at the Arts club on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert B. Dewey, who returned last week from Europe, where they have been this summer, are to be at the Drake until Jan. 1. Then they will go to Palm Beach, according to their usual custom, unless climatic conditions forbid. Their son, Albert B. Dewey Jr., and his bride, the former Gwendoline Ffoulke Smith of Washington, D. C., are expected to arrive in Chicago early in December.

Daisianna Smith's wedding on Saturday afternoon to John T. Pirie Jr. was a good occasion at which to determine just who is and who isn't back in town. Mrs. Charles H. Chadwick, looking most stunning in Parisian clothes, was there, telling about the strenuous rest cure she'd had in Germany. Miss Janet Chase who has been down in New Mexico was in evidence, and also Mrs. John J. Mitchell Jr. who must have come on from California quite recently.

Dr. and Mrs. Emanuel J. Senn who have been in Europe for the last 2 months are returning on the S. S. Leviathan and were expected back at the Hotel Ambassador yesterday.

The Wilhelm Ludwig Baums have evidently returned from their country place across the lake near South Haven, Mich., because lights are to be discernible at night in their residence at 1508 State parkway, and Mrs. Baum was seen at luncheon at the Art club one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Jelke Jr. of Lake Forest have returned from a 10 days' visit to New York City and Baltimore, Md.

Col. and Mrs. Robert Gray Peck and their niece, Miss Laura Moyer, who lives with them, have motored back from a summer at North Haven, Me., and are to be at the Seneca hotel for the winter.

Mrs Joseph L. Holbrook and Miss Frances Holbrook of Highland Park have returned from a motor trip to Washington, D. C., stopping at Frederick, Md., and other places en route.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Oct. 7.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lyon Polk will give a supper dance on Jan. 1 at Pierre's to introduce to society their daughter, Miss Elizabeth S. Polk.

The marriage of Miss Edith Gardiner Miller, daughter of Mrs. E. Gardiner Miller, to H. Whitney Fish, son of Mrs. Lewis Popham Fish of this city, and the late Mr. Fish, will take place on Nov. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Fish Armstrong will return from Europe, Oct. 30, on the Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fahnestock have left the Savoy-Plaza to pass the autumn at their place in Katonah.

MARKS BROS.

WHERE ARE YOU GOING TONIGHT?

Nothing can bring you finer diversion than a visit to the MARBRO or GRANADA. There are stage shows superbly mounted with novel effects that can be seen nowhere else in Chicago. Every new idea in stage production in the last two years has been created by Marks Bros. What you see at the GRANADA and MARBRO today you will see elswhere in 1929.

RAYMOND HITCHCOCK, another brilliant Greater Show Season artist has North side audiences in a frenzy of applause. BERINOFF and EULALIE, dancers whom "ROXY" retained for twelve weeks, are dance geniuses, and the production is incomparably beautiful.

At the MARBRO, a huge and diversified program brings GEORGE SCHRECK, Giuseppe Piligeo of the Florentine Choir, and a host of stars. TALKING PICTURES, an orchestral production and a series of brilliant novelties insure its being the finest entertainment on the West side.

LYA DE PUTTI, the screen's most fascinating temptress is superb in "THE SCARLET LADY," which is upon both screens.

NOWHERE ELSE IN THE WHOLE WORLD CAN YOU GET THE VALUE IN ENTERTAINMENT THAT MARKS BROS. OFFER.

Doris Tells Martyr Mother to Snap Out of It Right Away!

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I have been married 17 years, at the end of which I find myself most unhappy. I have two children of high school age and one not yet in school. I have lived in our present home in the suburbs five years. Previous to that we lived in the city. We have no car.

"I do all my own work and am given so much money every month, supposedly for food and help—never have any more than just that set sum. Out of it I give the children in high school what money they need, and buy them as many articles of apparel as I can manage—sweaters, dress goods, etc. Big things like coats and suits I do not buy. This summer I bought a few things for myself. I have managed to save a set sum, too.

"We have little company because it is too expensive. Now, my husband's position is such that he is thrown with people of three and four times his income—people of good manners, servants, good clothes, traveled, etc. Little trips come his way and business engagements include dinners and lunches at good hotels, good theaters, etc. He is much liked by his business friends. Nothing is too much trouble for him to do for them. He drinks some; smokes, dresses well, and away from home is everything that is likeable.

"But we don't get along. We are so far apart sometimes it seems as though I must die of sheer agony. I imagine my lack of social training comes because we seldom entertain. But I can't do it with the high cost of everything. Beside, my home lacks many things. False pride, I know. My husband looks down on me, really. I don't smoke, drink, and am not much fun. I'm too tired to dance much of an evening. I'm 42 and I AM 42. He's 42, but he's 30. That's our difference. Now if you found yourself in such a position what would you do?

"JUST A WIFE AND MOTHER."

What would I do? Revolutionize my whole life, if possible. Use a little more of that set amount on myself. Let the youngsters do the going without awhile. I'd entertain company for the contact with other minds, and also to make home more interesting for my mate.

I don't know but I would use some of that "savings" you have to go off on a vacation and come back a rejuvenated woman in so far as new dresses, new hair arrangement, massages, and a becoming shade of rouge could effect it. Your story is that of the good wife and mother, but not of the wise and good wife and mother. You've let father step out ahead of you, instead of keeping pace with him. Now I'd try to catch up on him.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—[Special.]—The official schedule of state functions in the White House through the coming season will make the season earlier and for a few weeks more crowded than any previous season in the White House.

Three important official entertainments are set before the convening of congress—the dinner to the cabinet, Nov. 8; the reception to the diplomatic corps, Nov. 15, and the dinner to the chiefs of foreign missions in Washington, Nov. 22. Members of the cabinet who are obliged to cast their votes Nov. 6 in person will have to make close railroad connections to be on time for that first of the formal parties in the White House Nov. 8. The first of this series of parties to be given after the convening of congress will be the reception to the judiciary, erroneously called the "judicial reception," which falls on Dec. 6, the week after the dinner to the diplomats.

The entertainments, dinners, and receptions will alternate weekly with the exception of Thanksgiving week and a fortnight at Christmas. The annual reception New Year's day will be little more than the two weeks after the dinner to the Supreme court and the President will receive that day from 11 o'clock in the morning until 1 o'clock, when he will stop for luncheon and continue the reception to the public later in the afternoon.

The reception to the congress will be given Jan. 10, the dinner to the speaker of the house falling a week later, Jan. 17, and the official season of White House entertainments will close Jan. 24, when President and Mrs. Coolidge will hold a reception in honor of the army and navy. The dinner parties in the White House are at 8 o'clock and the receptions begin at 9 o'clock. They are all scheduled for Thursday evenings, with the exception of the New Year day reception which falls on Tuesday.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenburg, accompanied his son, Arthur H. Vandenburg Jr., to Washington last week and spent several days here while young Mr. Vandenburg entered the George Washington university law school. Senator Vandenburg has taken a suite in the Willard hotel for the winter season and with Mrs. Vandenburg and their two daughters, Miss Barbara Vandenburg and Miss Betty Vandenburg, will close their Grand Rapids home and come to Washington late in November.

Representative and Mrs. Fred A. Britten have closed their Wardman Park hotel apartment and have gone to Chicago to remain until after the election. Representative and Mrs. Britten were entertained at dinner Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. George Bowie Chipman, who took their guests later to the theater.

Hospital Bazaar.

The annual bazaar for the endowment fund of the Presbyterian hospital is to take place at the Blackstone on Nov. 9, according to Mrs. Aaron Kanter, chairman of publicity for the affair.

Plans Benefit Show.

Mrs. Ralph Johnson will be hostess to the Kenwood Social Service club at her residence at 2213 East 68th street this afternoon. The club is making plans for its annual theater benefit party to be given in November.

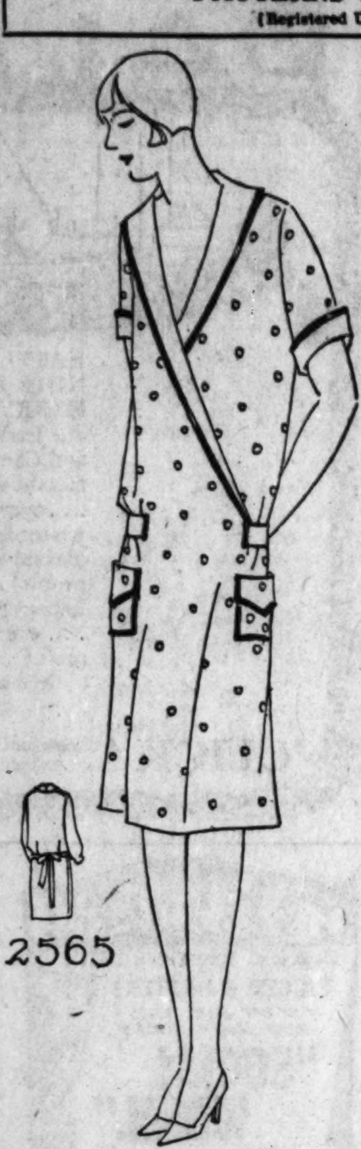
Phi Rho Reception.

The Phi Rho club of the University of Chicago will hold a reception this afternoon for members of Phi Delta Theta fraternity and their families in the chapter house at 5737 Woodlawn avenue.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]



2565

WOMAN'S AND MISSES' DRESS.

This attractive one piece morning dress has many details of interest. The rever collar is stitched to the dress to simulate a surplice closing, and a belt, slipped through openings, holds in the fullness through the hips, and ties in a youthful bow in the back. Patch pockets in envelope shape are decorative and useful. Linen, gingham, cotton broadcloth, sateen, and percale are appropriate materials.

The pattern, 2565, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 2¾ yards of 40 inch material with ½ pard of 32 inch contrasting and 3¼ yards of binding.

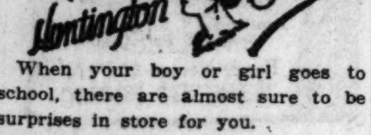
School Days Are Sure to Hold Surprises for Most Parents



Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

When your boy or girl goes to school, there are almost sure to be surprises in store for you.

They may come in the first or the second, or the third year, but they are pretty apt to come—those times when the teacher tells you things about your child that you can hardly believe—when she tells you of qualities in him you never knew existed.

If the things you hear are favorable, so much the better. If you learn that instead of being troublesome at school as he is at home, your child is perfectly amenable, don't be too surprised. I have seen that happen again and again, often with children who are too much the center of attention and entirely spoiled by parents and relatives. And frequently, too, with children who have a great respect for authority—those who are impressed by the law and order of the school room.

But you may get quite opposite reports. If you hear things that trouble you, don't be too aghast.

The teacher may tell you that your child is a disturbing element in the classroom. You may find on looking into it that he has discovered that his funny faces and little antics make the children laugh and because he loves fun he performs whenever he has a chance.

Or you may find that he disturbs his class because of the unquenchable spirits he possesses. At home or at play they don't matter, but confined in a schoolroom they cause trouble. Or there may be other simple explanation of what makes you angry or unhappy in the reports you receive.

If you have complaints from school don't think your child has had unpleasant qualities lying dormant in him that you didn't know existed. Just realize that in most cases it is the complete change from freedom to confinement, from individual to mass association that is responsible for it. And work with the teacher and get her to work with you in trying to correct it.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

Mary's mother kept telling her to put the scissors down, but she disobediently continued until she hurt herself.

"There!" said her mother, "I told you that you should leave those scissors alone."

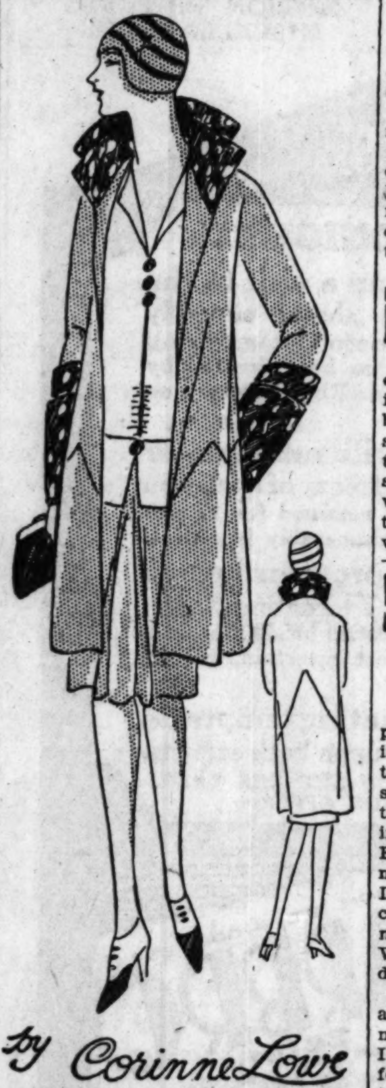
"Yes," sobbed Mary, "b-but you weren't f-firm enough." S. L.

Bobby, 8, and Harold, 5, both ran out of the house to take notice of an airplane passing.

Bobby said, "It is just like a big bird going through the sky with an engine."

"That's nothin'," replied little Harold, "I saw a spider go up without anythin'." E. P.

Handbags Establish the Chic of the Costume



by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—"Give the little girl a handbag!" Thus one might paraphrase a classic modern remark. The fact of it is that handbags today do as much to establish real chic as does that hat itself. Of course, by the time one buys such a costly trifle one is likely not to have anything to put in the bag, for these details are not cheap, and some of the skins, like antelope, don't blush a bit to be costing forty or fifty dollars.

Black antelope—mayhap with an ornament of brilliants—is still one of the most admirable things you can do by the afternoon. And the settings of these ranging through shell, marcasite, metal, and innumerable compositions do much in fixing the cost of these trifles. Suede is another material still chosen widely for the bag with which we accompany our afternoon costume and in this year of brown it is not surprising to find numerous models of this tone.

In today's drawing much of the charm of a stunning Goupy ensemble is sustained by a brown suede bag with amber top. How perfectly this blends into the brown cloth coat and skirt and carries out the idea of suede pumps developed in tones of beige and brown! Nor must one forget in this confederacy the new toque of beige fur with its brown velvet bands.

As for the ensemble itself, this derives especial interest from a waistcoat blouse of champagne crêpe trimmed with gold buttons. This is deftly shirred at the sides and goes back for its inspiration to the gorgeous waistcoats of Louis Quinze.

Another source of interest here is located in cloth trimmings made to imitate fur. A dark brown with beige spots, this imitation fur falls deftly into the prescribed costume harmony of brown and beige.

Have you any surplus radio equipment—a "B" eliminator, for instance? The upkeep of a radio is no small matter when one has the expense of illness to think about and such an instrument, in this case, would lessen it.

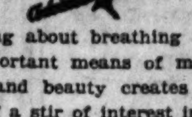
This Gorgeous Fall Weather Challenges Your Lung Capacity



by Antoinette Donnelly

Talking about breathing as one of the important means of maintaining health and beauty creates about as much of a stir of interest in an audience as a discussion about the values of water drinking.

For neither air nor water do we have to dig down in our purses. They're free for the asking—for the taking, rather. That always insures a certain amount of ennui about a subject, doesn't it. Then, too, we've been drinking water off and on since time began with us and we've also been taking air the same length of time, or a little longer, since babies don't begin on water right away.

But the point is that these two health principles become a sort of cut and dried subject in which there's not much kick left, no matter who may introduce them.

I don't know if other people feel about fall as I do, but it does seem to me the one great lung house cleaning season. To me, at least, there is no time of year that is quite so exhilarating. There is no time when oxygen seems quite so spirit inflating. Which is my reason for introducing the dull (?) topic today.

Perhaps the reminder in a medical book that "one-third of all the poison generated in the body is excreted through the lungs" set me to wondering how many people ever think about these poisons, at all. And thinking about them, how many feel the need to overhaul the system by a perfect orgy of fresh air?

Leaving aside the question of unwashed lungs that know few cleanings out, we might dwell on the mental state for a moment.

In the intimate relation between our thoughts and feelings and our bodily functions is there anything so reflective as the manner of our breathing? When you're nervous and irritable have you ever noticed how you breathe? Great excitement expresses itself in gasping, irregular breaths; melancholy, grief and depression in slow, slight breaths; calm, peaceful happiness in deep, tranquil breaths, while courage and the joy of living express themselves in rather rapid, deep, dynamic ones.

If breathing and the state of your mind are in such close sympathy, can't you readily understand what oxygen hunger may do to the system? Particularly when you pause to reflect that one-third of the poison generated in the body is excreted through the lungs.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

T. H. B.: THE STRENUOUS EXercise necessary for reducing weight is not necessary in putting on weight, but a certain amount of exercise should be taken to stimulate to activity the vital organs—heart, lungs, stomach, liver, and skin. A three mile walk a day may be taken. It whets the appetite. Practice deep breathing while you walk.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Learning to Cook.

It has not been my practice to print the nice letters about this cooking work, exploited here, which come to me. But lately I have done so several times, and it almost seems as though people were more interested in such letters than in anything else. Entertaining reactions have come to me because those were printed, and I am printing the following letter because of its climax, mentioning the name of the writer, Mrs. Charles Werro of Brooklyn, N. Y., because I do not believe she will mind:

"A few months ago I wrote you asking you for directions about cake making. Following your instructions, I became quite experienced with your few recipes and the glory goes back to you. I have tried a good many recipes from your column and from your ten cent cook book, and each time my husband wondered where I had learned to make a new and delicious dish."

Following this statement of Mrs. Werro's is a long description of how she made chicken stew with dumplings, how nervous she was, how company came, etc. But there is not space for that, in one article, nor for some of the rest of the letter, but she tells how all ended like a fairy tale, everybody praising and wanting more, while her husband in his pride said: "If you had put a silver service and silken napkins on the table you could have invited a king and I am sure he would have been delighted.

Very nice, is it not, to have some one who appreciates and will tell his wife how well she did? Perhaps some wives would cook more if they were praised more. And here is more from the letter, with that before-mentioned climax:

"Now, Miss Eddington, here is my story. I hope you enjoyed it and my gratitude for your advice is too big to express in words. You are a great help to young housewives. You have been to me, because I never kept house, nor cooked, nor spoke English until three years ago when I came to this country. I began to learn through a young American girl, which one was experimenting with a few of your recipes, especially baking. But what I make now all comes from your book and articles in the daily column. . . ."

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

Frank Opinion.

A friend of mine gets excited over political issues, and frequently becomes angered by articles and editorials. The other day he was particularly angered by an editorial, and after telling me how illogical and foolish it was he opened the paper and read me a few sentences.

When I told him I thought what he read was senseless, and pointed out what I thought was wrong with it, he was not pleased. Then I saw that he had been reading not the editorial, but his penciled marginal notes which he considered a perfect statement of what was wrong with the printed article.

Believe me, I did not stop to hear his lecture on my dumbness, but several other people did. R. G. M.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR MEN WHO ARE WILLING TO WORK.

Many men cheat their families and themselves out of the pleasure of life because they say: "I am not a salesman," "I can't sell," or "I am unlucky."

Salesmanship depends upon the frame of mind a man is in. If you believe you can do what you see other men do you can learn to sell and make $40 to $60 a week while you are learning.

Selling is not a mystery. It is just knowing what you have to sell and knowing how to properly explain it to your prospects.

In 2 or 3 months our business will pay you $75 to $80 a week, with an increasing income.

Men of exceptional sales ability are able to double and triple this amount. I have men who made over $300 last week.

You are not limited with us. You are put into business for yourself. No investment or deposits required.

EMPLOYMENT MANAGER,
SUITE 2118,
203 N. WABASH-AV.

Salesmen, Solicitors, Etc.

SALESMEN.

In October, 1927, we placed on the market our first Chicago offering in three years. During the last twelve months we have instituted improvements and building campaign second to none in the city of Chicago. The sales on this property have exceeded our most optimistic expectations.

On October 1st, this year, we offered a new piece of Chicago property with lots selling as low as $640, carrying the same restrictions and improvements in the purchase price as our preceding development. The first piece has made money for the salesmen who have associated themselves with us, and have worked consistently and intelligently. The new piece will make money for the men who can sell and capitalize on 42 years of experience gained in 33 cities in which $200,000,000 worth of property has been sold.

10 MEN ONLY.

To the first 10 high caliber men who answer this ad and who meet our rigid requirements of integrity, sincerity and ambition, we will offer an opportunity to make big, quick money in the next 30 days, followed up with a permanent connection and a splendid chance for advancement with our company, the largest and oldest real estate development organization in America.

COMPENSATION.

Your compensation will be in commission and salary if you meet our standard of requirements, after taking one week of intensive training. You will have a chance to make more money the balance of this year than you ever have made in 12 whole months before.

Make us prove our claims. Make us demonstrate to your satisfaction what an opportunity we really have to offer. Come in today for an interview and we promise that you will not regret it.

HARMON NATIONAL REALTY TRUST,
140 S. Dearborn-st. Room 207.

SALESMEN. SWEETEST DEAL IN TOWN

A GOOD POSITION

OPEN FOR SIX AMBITIOUS WOMEN over 25 years of age. Must be willing to work and want a permanent position. Large rate of commission, quickly paid. Liberal expense provision made.

I represent a financially responsible firm, well advertised in the Chicago papers. If you have sales experience I can start you in this field at once. No traveling. I will also consider one or two beginners and teach them our method of salesmanship and give my personal help. This is an opportunity to connect with a live, well advertised firm selling the same line for more than a quarter century to thousands of satisfied customers. References exchanged. This is a sound, conservative selling position with a good future. Apply in person only, Monday, 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Suite 1329-1330
Morrison Hotel.
Ask for J. M. Kelly.

A NORTH SIDE WOMAN.

One of Chicago's largest Loop banks offers an unusual opportunity to intelligent, ambitious women living on the NORTH SIDE who desire to work outside of Loop. Position is permanent and will yield an income of over $50 per week, as well as unusual future possibilities. For appointment call CENTRAL [illegible].

PERSONALITY—PLUS.

If you are a competent woman and possess tact, alertness, education, and ability, we have a good permanent position open. Personality more important than experience. Company established since 1893, operating branch offices in all the principal cities of the United States and Abroad, is strongly backed by National Advertising. Good salary to start and excellent opportunity for promotion. We also have a position open for an ambitious woman, in Detroit, Minneapolis and Kansas City—also Southern States. Salary, traveling expense, and all details given in personal interview. Apply Monday betw. 9 and 2, 1000 N. Dearborn-st. Ask for GENERAL ORGANIZER.

HAVE YOUR OWN INCOME.

High grade women to devote a little time gathering information; good pay; no selling; no real estate. 71 E. Adams-st.
